BONAPARTE REFUSES TO EXPLAIN STEEL MERGER; SENATORS ARE RILED

Washington, Jan. 22.—A highly developed order of unbecoming courtesy is being maintained between the senate committee on judiciary and Attorney General Bonaparte, over whether the attorney general will appear before the committee to explain the merger of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company and the United States Steel corporation.

When the sub-committee having the matter in charge met, Senator Clark of Wyoming, the chairman, submitted a letter from Bonaparte to the committee's invitation to appear, for the reason that he had an engagement with the supreme court.

The committee agreed not to make the letter or its substance public. The committee also declined to authorize Bonaparte to publish the letter, even after he had expressed a willingness to do so, although the committee decided that it had no objection to the attorney general giving it out if he desired to, upon his own authority.

Chairman Clark explained that the invitation was not in the form of a subpoena, but in spite of this precaution the impression prevails that it was so worded that it would be difficult for Mr. Bonaparte to interpret it differently than a police summons. While members of the sub-committee unflinchingly say Bonaparte's refusal to appear is an embodiment of courtesy, it is evident it contained some suggestion from the committee that has not tended to increase the cordial relations between the committee and the department of justice.

POWERS, AT ODDS IN NAVAL CONFERENCE, BLAME AMERICAN DELEGATES.

London, Jan. 22.—Unless the various delegates arrive at a settlement of their difficulties, there is a strong probability of the failure of the international naval conference, which has been in session here since last month, and which is now in its last stages.

Some of the delegates place the chief blame for the present situation on the shoulders of the American representatives. They aver that as soon as the conference took up the questions upon which there were serious differences of opinion, the American delegates adopted an uncompromising attitude.

SENATOR-ELECT PLEASED.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Expressing the utmost satisfaction over his election as United States senator, M. N. Johnson spent some time in Fargo en route from the capital. He also addressed the tri-state convention, being introduced by President Worst as the first United States senator he had ever brought before the tri-state convention who was a practical farmer.

"KEEP CHILD OUT OF FACTORIES," IS SLOGAN.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 22.—"Keep the child out of the factory." This was the consensus of sentiment at the opening of the fifth annual child labor conference. Two hindrances to child labor reform were pointed out by General Secretary Loveloy, of New York, who are the influx of foreign houses, which bring customs entirely alien to the ideas of this country; and, secondly, the lack of harmony between the different state regulations on this subject.

That child labor is a menace to the national health and the public welfare and that America, taking the lead among progressive nations, should discourage it, were arguments made at today's session. Among the speakers today were Dr. Woods Hutchinson of New York; Dr. Albert H. Freiberg, of Cincinnati; Dr. Thomas M. Roth, Boston; Dr. Andrew S. Draper, state commissioner of education, of Albany, N. Y.; Howell Cheney, South Manchester, Conn.; and Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker, of Denver.

WEST END BURGLARIES IN WEST END

Two Attempts Out of Three Prove to be Successful.

Thieves Get Four Dozen Real Eggs From Grocery Store.

The biggest and boldest robbery of the season was successfully carried through in the West end last night. Unknown thieves gained entrance to the grocery store at 1801 West Superior street, conducted by Carlson & Johnson, and made their getaway with four dozen real eggs. The clerk, in locking up the store, had carelessly neglected to lock the hen fruit in the safe for the night.

Incidentally, the robbers also secured $1 in pennies and $1 in stamps from the cash drawer, a slab of bacon, three pounds of butter, and four packages of coffee.

Thieves also broke into the general house furnishing store of Enger & Olson, 2012 West Superior street, and stole two twenty-cent lamps. They did not really get into the building, but broke a window by reaching through the hole thus made.

An attempt was made to gain access to Chris Hanson's saloon on West Superior street, between eighteenth and nineteenth avenues west, apparently by the same men who made the raid on the grocery store, but the attempt was a failure.

Detectives Schulte and Irvine were put on the trail this morning. Members of the local police force, however, do not deem a start of more than $400 a month, and the two detectives said it had been so long since they had seen any fresh eggs that they were not sure whether or not they would be able to recognize the "plant" of hen fruit if they came across it, but promised Chief Troyer to do the best.

The thieves would be able to recognize the bacon, however.

They also broke into the saloon of Arthur Cox, who has been visiting his mother for the past week or two, but returned to Saginaw, Mich., where he has a position.

The Ladies' Episcopal church will give a social this evening in the vestry room.

S. W. Hill has received word of the death of his brother at Winchester, Mo. The brother was killed by an engine.

The congregation of the Zion Norwegian Lutheran church will meet next Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Mortrud.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Crowley of St. Paul are visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Smith.

Beta council, No. 2, and the uptown and West Duluth Councils of the Modern Samaritans will hold a big joint installation meeting early in February.

Everything drinkable, Telephone Sterling Wine company.

The home and lodge of the Scandinavian Sisters of America will hold a meeting this evening in Columbia hall.

The boys of the Adams school alumni are planning to enlarge the skating rink on the bay at the foot of Twenty-third street.

Members of the Spt Club of Grace M. B. church are organizing a basketball team.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wollen of Twent-third avenue west have gone to Mankato, Minn. for a visit with relatives.

Good Prospects in Lumber Trade.

Willis J. Walker Says Demand Should Soon Show Increase.

Willis J. Walker of the Walker Lumber company of which T. E. Walker, one of the pioneer lumbermen of the Northwest, and also one of the largest operators in the United States, is the head, expressed the opinion at the Spaulding today, that there would be an increase in the demand and an increase in the price of lumber, within the near future.

It is very hard to say what the demand will be, just at this time," said Mr. Walker, "for this is the dull time in the marketing of lumber. But there are indications that there will be an increased demand for lumber, with the price showing a corresponding increase."

Mr. Walker expressed the opinion, that there was not a great deal of lumber in the hands of the retail dealers at the present time.

Many Duluth alumni of the University of Minnesota will remember Mr. Walker as the greatest baseball player ever turned out by the Gopher institution up to the time of his graduation in 1897. He also played tackle upon the '94-'95 and '96 football teams.

He was such a crack player that the Minneapolis professional team made flattering overtures in an attempt to secure the lumber colleague. Mr. Walker declined this offer, however, entering the lumber business, where he has made as great a success as he did in the baseball diamond and the football field.

FIGHT FOR NEW NORMAL SCHOOL IS DEADLOCKED

against, and the committee stood six to six on the Cass Lake school, with one member absent. This member is said to be favorable to Cass Lake.

This situation being developed, the committee decided to put the matter over until next Tuesday afternoon, when another trial will be made. At the worst, it is entirely probable that a bill that will include Cass Lake will be reported out to the house, without recommendation, though the Cass Lake voters still expect a favorable result from the committee on their bill. But one member of the committee was opposed to the new school.

At the opening of yesterday afternoon's meeting, P. M. Larson of Cass Lake, superintendent of schools, presented the case of Cass Lake, showing its advantages in location, being centrally located, providing it looks normal school facilities, and its other natural advantages. The Cass Lake school is about equidistant from each of the three Northern Minnesota normal schools.

A. P. Ritchie, superintendent of the Bemidji schools, said that the communities have not set together on a higher plane than that of struggling for the location of the normal school. They stood together to get the school, leaving the question of location to be settled by the normal school board.

J. H. Hay, superintendent of the Tullahoma schools, said that the normal school board is in favor of this location in behalf of his and other communities except Cass Lake.

It was shown that in the district which it is claimed needs the new school, there are about 100 children, and that but 4 per cent of the teachers are equipped with normal school training. In the normal school counties, on the other hand, about one-half of the teachers are so equipped, and about 60 per cent have had previous training of some sort.

Following the public hearing, the committee went into executive session, with the result outlined above.

Representative J. N. Johnson of Cass Lake yesterday introduced in the house the initiative and referendum bill, which contemplates giving the people a direct vote in legislation, either to propose new measures or to refer to the people measures which the legislature has referred to them. It is provided that 5 per cent of the qualified voters of the state may propose any measure by petition, and that such measures shall be voted upon at the next general election. If the measure is not held within four months after the filing of the petition, the initiative of state is the initiative.

The "referendum" may be ordered by the legislature, or by a petition signed by 5 per cent of the qualified voters of the state. In other words, if the legislature has a measure before it regarding which it is doubtful, it can refer it to the people for their approval or rejection. The measure, if approved, passes a law to which exception is taken, it can be referred to the people upon the filing of a petition signed by 5 per cent of the voters. Such referendum petitions must be filed with the secretary of state within thirty days after the adjournment of the legislature. The governor cannot veto measures enacted by popular vote. Except when the measure is a referendum, all such matters shall be submitted to the people at the next election. When the people approve a measure, it is to become effective on the day of this state within thirty days after the governor announces by proclamation that it has been adopted by the people. The governor is required to make this proclamation within ten days after the canvassing of the vote. Where measures come under the head of emergency, they are to go into effect immediately into effect and remain in effect until the legislature can repeal a law adopted by the people within five years of its adoption.

While the senate committee has approved the Sullivan plan of providing for the completion of the state prison buildings at Sullivan by a direct vote, limited to $2,500,000 and extending over ten years, the house committee has approved the Spooner plan, which puts the limit at $3,000,000, and involves no direct tax whatever.

The house committee yesterday afternoon voted to recommend the Spooner bill for passage, and the other bills on this subject, similar to the Sullivan bill, were laid upon the table to await the fate of the Spooner bill.

In brief, the object of this measure is to dedicate the prison labor of this state to the service of the agricultural industries that extensions and expenses of all kinds shall be paid for out of the earnings of this labor. In short, the farmers are to get the benefit of the prison labor, and indirectly the state and the expenses of running the prison and its industries. If it figured by the friends of the bill, it will be possible not only to provide binding twine and agricultural machinery at prices much less than those charged by the trusts, but to earn ample profits out of which to pay the expenses of the prison.

This obviously involves the abolition of the shoe-making industry at the prison. At present a private contractor pays the state 63 cents a day for the labor engaged in making shoes, and the state boards the men and pays all expenses. This is a very good thing for the contractor, it is said, and the contract runs until 1914.

As to the shoe-making industry, it is pointed out that it competes with free labor in this state, and is contrary to good business principles and to moral laws. The government boards out some of its prisoners at the Minnesota penitentiary, and while these men can be used in making binding twine and farm machinery, their labor cannot be sold to the shoe-making contractors because the government years ago enacted a law against the sale of prison labor.

The state has made a great success with its manufacture of binding twine at the state prison. It has undersold the harvesters' trust, its only competitor, for years, and besides making a good thing of it, it has saved the farmers of the state millions of dollars. The first experiment has been made in the manufacture of binders, and it is confidently expected that this enterprise will be as successful as the binding twine business. It is to permit the broadening of these operations that the pending bills are framed, and there is little doubt that one or another of the measures now before the legislature will go through, laying the foundation for an extensive competition with the farm machinery trust, and giving Minnesota farmers the benefit of cheap and good machinery without competing materially with free labor in this state.

The Spooner bill provides that the state board of control shall proceed to complete the construction and equipment of the new state prison at Sullivan, on the site acquired for that purpose, according to plans and specifications approved by the warden of the state prison, and that the board shall include a representative of the farmers of the state, and shall have the right to purchase any or all of these certificates, for which purpose its permanent school fund is always available. The interest is to be paid out of the net earnings of the prison shops, and after 1920 all the net earnings are to be applied to the payment and redemption of the bonds. The completion of the prison construction is to be done as expeditiously as possible.

While the appointment of the joint committee to investigate the feasibility of locating the Minnesota river normal school at Bemidji, it is merely a beginning, big things are expected to result from it by those who are back of the plan. The first object, of course, is to prevent floods such as that which inundated the country in the Minnesota valley last spring. Beyond that, however, lies a dream of the day when the Minnesota river will become a part of the great internal waterway system which the nation is likely to create. It is believed that it would be feasible to create a waterway from Big Stone and Traverse lakes to the Mississippi, 475 miles long, through which the products of a rich region could be transported easily and cheaply. Going still further into this pleasant dream, a picture of a similar improvement of the Red river of the North is presented. This would extend the waterway system 700 miles further, to Lake Winnipeg.

Of course this is a long way to be brought about in a day or a year. It is a big thing, and it is more than a dream. It is said to be feasible, and as to its results, advantages there could be no doubt, whatever.

By a bill briefly referred to in The Herald yesterday, Representative Ferguson of Carlton county, asks the state to acquire a splendid forest reserve of 2,000 acres in Carlton county. These lands are a part of the old Pond du Lac Indian reservation. The people of Carlton county have been clamoring for the state to get the entire tract. It will be necessary to pay about $5,000 for some Indian allotments included in its area. The people of Carlton county will buy the land from the government and give it to the state as a forest reserve. If the state will appropriate $5,000 for the next two years for maintenance, and $5,000 to take over the land from the state, the state will have the land.

The tract is beautifully situated, between Cloquet and Carlton, each of which communities is three miles from its borders. It has been cut over, but there is a handsome second growth of Norway and white pine, and other trees.

Representative T. J. Brady of St. Paul, who introduced a bill this week prohibiting street railway companies from putting into their cars more than fifteen persons in addition to the seating capacity, will shortly bring in another bill that will endow him to the hearts of street car patrons. The new one will provide that transfers must be held for twelve hours. Now a transfer is good only for the next car, but the new one will be good for twelve hours. This measure would be a simple solution of the present problem of what persons and officials should be excepted from its provisions, but it is not certain that the legislature will give it many votes.

The house committee on labor and labor legislation yesterday afternoon voted to report out for passage by Representative Campbell of Minneapolis, requiring employers to pay their employees twice a month. In order to be sure that it does not affect farmers, the bill is amended before its return to the house, so as to provide that its provisions shall not apply to employers who board their labor. This makes the exception include not only farmers, but lumbermen and others where railroad workmen are boarded in cars.

The usual argument was made against the bill that payment twice a month will make workmen spend more money for liquor. This argument is based upon the presumption that a large proportion of working men drink. The bill is amended to provide that the provisions shall not apply to employers who board their labor. This makes the exception include not only farmers, but lumbermen and others where railroad workmen are boarded in cars.

Mr. Brady will also offer a bill shortly, repealing the anti-pass law of two years ago. He was the only member who voted against the law when it passed the house, and he has not changed his mind regarding it since. This measure would be a simple solution of the present problem of what persons and officials should be excepted from its provisions, but it is not certain that the legislature will give it many votes.

Gifford Pinchot, chief forester of the United States, has notified Governor Johnson that he will be glad to extend to the state, free of charge, the service of his foresters in Minnesota, as state fire wardens, to help protect the Minnesota forests from fire losses. The offer will unquestionably be accepted.

The bill providing for county bounties on muskrats, and other destructive animals and birds has been reported out by the house committee, with an amendment putting a bounty of 5 cents a dozen on English sparrows.

The senate committee on grain and warehouse will have a public hearing next Wednesday afternoon, on the Lindberg bill, prohibiting the export of trade, chambers of commerce and other exchanges from fixing commissions by rule. The Duluth board of trade and Minneapolis chamber of commerce have been notified, and will have delegates present to explain their opposition to the bill.

While the measure probably seems reasonable on its face, it is not easy to see where it might be productive of great mischief. It is a law that is variable, for the security of business and the safety of producers, than for the protection of commission men. In the grain trade the charge for handling grain has been 1 cent per bushel for years, and it has never been claimed that it is excessive. In fact, it is the service which it covers, it is very reasonable indeed.

But the chief benefit of the commission rule is to the producer who ships his grain or other commodity to the market to be handled by him or his commission. With the flat rate fixed at a reasonable figure and observed by all

VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT

Jury Finds That Company Was Not Guilty of Negligence.

The jury in the case of Anna Robert, by her mother, Anna Robert, vs. the Oliver Iron Mining Company, returned a verdict in favor of the defendant this morning, after spending the night on the case.

The suit was brought to recover $15,000 damages, claimed to have been sustained by injuries which the little girl, who is now 8 years old, received Sept. 16, 1905, by the explosion of a dynamite cap. Her brother and another boy had picked up some dynamite caps and they gave one to her. As she held it in her hand it exploded, blowing off fingers on the left hand.

The children lived at the Monroe location at Chisholm, and the Oliver Mining Company has a warehouse and powder house on the location. The plaintiff claimed that the company had been negligent in allowing caps to be dropped on the ground in the vicinity of the powder house, so that the children could pick them up.

The company denied the charge of negligence, maintaining that the evidence did not show that the children had picked up the caps in the powder house, and they might have secured them in a number of places.

ATTENDANCE WILL BE LARGE

Free Agricultural Lectures Are the Subject of Much Interest.

There is much interest in the course of free agricultural lectures to be given at the Y. M. C. A., under the auspices of the Duluth Commercial club, the first of which takes place tonight, when Prof. Andrew Boss of the state school of agriculture, Prof. A. J. McGuire, director of the Grand Rapids experiment station, and Prof. John H. Gray will be the speakers.

The lectures will be illustrated by stereoscopic views.

When the lectures were first planned, it was expected that 3,000 tickets would be enough to supply the demand, but the committee has been forced to have an additional 1,000 printed. These tickets are being given away to those who are interested, and they are being obtained for the asking at the Commercial club, or at the Y. M. C. A.

Those who have planned the course wish it understood that boys and girls are as welcome as the older people. In fact, an extra effort is being made to get the younger people out, as it is the wish of the committee to interest them in the work.

Eight lectures in all will be given, covering every phase of practical farming, dairying, and stock raising. They will be given at intervals of two weeks.

FEDERATION OF CLUBS.

Delegates From County Organizations Will Meet to Form Federation.

Delegates from the various commercial clubs, the farmers' clubs, the good roads clubs, and the majority of many of the towns and villages of St. Louis county will be present this evening at a meeting to be held in the rooms of the Duluth Commercial club. It is believed that seventy-five delegates, representing the various interests of the county, will be present.

The object of the meeting is to form a federation of the various clubs of the county, for the purpose of forming an active organization, working in the interest of St. Louis county. It is pointed out that the clubs of the county are doing good work, the effort is entirely voluntary, and the delegates tonight's meeting will endeavor to form an organization that will work together for the welfare of St. Louis county.

The plan for the federation of the county clubs was suggested by T. W. Hugo.

AGED COUPLE WHO KNEW HONEST ABE

G. W. Sumter and Wife of Hannah, N. D. Recall Great Emancipator.

Hannah, N. D., Jan. 22.—(Special to The Herald).—Living here the quiet life that becomes an aged couple are G. W. Sumter and his wife, whose proud boast is that they once knew Abraham Lincoln well.

Mr. Sumter is 81, but his mind is clear and he recalls many interesting events in the life of the great emancipator. A son of Gen. Sumter, after whom the South Carolina fort, the firing on which started the Civil war, was named, Mr. Sumter lived in the same locality in Illinois as Abraham Lincoln in the ante-bellum days, and says he knew him well. He was a delegate to one of the conventions that nominated Lincoln for one of the public offices he held prior to the presidency. During the famous Lincoln-Douglas debate when these giants in the race for the Illinois senate discussed the issue of the day as they never were discussed before or since, Mr. Sumter was a staunch friend of Lincoln, closed his little sawmill in Sangamon county, Ill., and followed the debaters over the state listening to the discussions that have since become historic.

The outbreak of the Civil war saw

Deerwood Woman Given a Divorce and Alimony at Brainerd.

Brainerd, Minn., Jan. 22.—(Special to The Herald).—The long drawn out litigation investigating the domestic infidelities of Mr. and Mrs. William

Elmore of Deerwood, came to an end, this week, when he was granted a divorce on a cross bill, charging desertion, and she was given alimony in the sum of $600. The litigation started two years ago, when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gilbert of Klondike, sued Elmore for her care and hospital bill, and Elmore sued them for alienation of his wife's affections, he getting a verdict against them. She asked for a divorce at that time, but the case was dropped. She applied for one again and he filed a cross bill, with the results stated.

FIRST SIGNS IN THE BACK

And It's Best Not to Neglect the Danger Signals.

Valuable Home Recipe Given Which Anyone Can Prepare.

Take care of backache. A great many cases of kidney complaint are reported about here, also bladder trouble and rheumatism. An authority once stated that pain in the back, loin or region of the kidneys is the danger signal nature hangs out to notify the sufferer that there is something wrong with the kidneys, which should receive immediate attention. Only vegetable treatment should be administered and absolutely no strongly alcoholic medicines, which are harmful to the kidneys and bladder.

The following prescription, while simple, harmless and inexpensive, is known and recognized as a sovereign remedy for kidney complaint. The ingredients can be obtained at any prescription pharmacy and anyone can mix them: Compound Kargon, one ounce; Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Syrup, Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

This prescription is said to restore the natural function of the kidneys, so they will sift and strain the poisonous waste matter, uric acid, etc., from the blood, purifying it and relieving rheumatism. Backache will be relieved, the urine will be neutralized and cleared and no longer a cause of irritation, thereby overcoming such symptoms as weak bladder, painful frequent and other urinary difficulties. This is worth trying and may prove just what many people here need.

G. V. QUILLIARD DIES AT HOME

Old Veteran Was Resident of Duluth for Twenty Years.

Gulivan V. Quilliard, 75 years of age, died at his home, 4502 East Superior street at 11 o'clock last night. He had been a resident of Duluth for the past twenty years, and up to four months ago was custodian of the safety deposit vaults of the First National bank. Failing health made it necessary for him to give up the work, and three weeks ago his illness took a serious turn.

The deceased was a veteran of the Civil war, and was a member of Culver post, G. A. R. He served through the war in a New York regiment. Mr. Quilliard took an active interest in church work, and was senior warden of St. John's Episcopal church at Lakeside. He is survived by a wife and three daughters, Margaret J. Quilliard, teacher at the normal; Frances J. Quilliard, and Mrs. E. L. Quilliard, New York, and a son, D. Q. Quilliard, Jr., also of New York.

Mr. Quilliard was one of the oldest members of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, and belonged to Fidelity lodge, No. 105, of this city.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

CHILD'S DREADEFUL SKIN TROUBLES

Had Sixty Boils when but Six Months Old—Was Annually Attacked by a Humor—It Looked Red Like a Scald and Spread Over Half Her Head—Both Troubles are Cured.

NO PRAISE TOO HIGH FOR THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

"When my little Vivian was about six months old, her papa had a boil on his forehead. At that time the child was covered with prickly heat and I suppose in scratching it, her own head became infected. It broke out in boils, one after another. She had about sixty boils on her head and I used Cuticura Soap and applied Cuticura Ointment which cured her entirely. Then I procured a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent which she used and I cured her of the boils. Being afraid it was salt rheum, I spoke to my doctor. He gave me a powder which dried it up, but soon after it broke out behind her ears. They cracked half way around and the humor spread up on to her head until, on several occasions, it was nearly half covered. The humor looked like a scald, very red with a sticky, clear fluid coming from it. This occurred every year. I think it was toward the spring, I always bathed it with warm water and Cuticura Soap and applied Cuticura Ointment which never failed to heal it up. The last time it broke out was when she was six years old. It became so bad that I was discouraged. Then I procured a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent which soon cleared it out of her blood. I continued the use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment with her Resolvent until she was perfectly well. She is now about eight years old and has never been troubled in the least with the skin. We also find Cuticura Resolvent a good spring medicine and we are just giving the children Cuticura Resolvent Pills as a tonic. We do not think any one can praise Cuticura Remedies too highly."

EGG PRICES ARE LOWER

Market for the Fresh Variety Goes Off Five Cents.

Potatoes Are Very Firm at Eighty Cents a Bushel.

Eggs have been fluctuating somewhat during the past week, this time the movement being to the advantage of the consumer.

They have been fluctuating in the other direction all too frequently, but this week they declined five points. Fresh eggs are 35 cents instead of 40 cents a dozen.

The mild weather of the past few days has had something to do with the lower prices. Receipts have shown an increase, which is of some importance, as receipts have not been overwhelming at any time this winter.

Storage eggs are very firm around 30 cents a dozen.

The meek and lowly potato has been the subject of some comment during the past few days. There has been a noticeable stiffening of the market, a circumstance which already prompted some hysterical persons to shout "dollar potatoes." The hysterical ones are a bit premature, however, as the spuds have not reached that mark yet. But they are evidently on the way.

There has been more talk than actual advance in potatoes. They are selling at 80 cents a bushel, but the market is very strong at that figure.

Cold weather followed by thaws which have created havoc with country roads, have made it hard for farmers to get to the shipping points with their spuds, thereby causing a shrinkage in receipts, and storage stocks have been steadily declining.

All vegetables are very firm, the continued cold weather, which lasted until a day or so ago, having reduced receipts in the commodities.

Cabbages, of which this year's crop was very slim, are firm at $2.50 per crate. Red Globe onions are $1.50 per 100 pounds.

Roots of all kinds have been very firm during the past few weeks. Storage stocks have been decreasing and receipts have been fitted.

The season for sweet potatoes is about over.

Brown beans are $3 a bushel. Wax beans are $2.50 per bushel.

Cranberries are still in the market and show no deviation from last week's quotation. They are $14 a barrel, the same as they have been for the past two months.

In the fruit market, imported Malaga grapes are now a delicacy which every one cannot afford. Eight dollars a keg is what the wholesalers are asking for them today, which is quite an advance over last week's price.

Otherwise fruits are about unchanged.

Grape fruit and pineapples are in big demand. Grape fruit is selling at $1.50 per box, and Florida pineapples are quoted at $1.50 per case.

Oranges are $3.25 to $3.50 a box.

Bananas have an easier undertone, as importations have been quite heavy during the past week or so, but local prices are unchanged. They are selling here at 4 cents a pound.

Creamery butter has neither gone higher or lower during the past seven days. Prints are 35 cents a pound and but 32 to 34 cents. The market is firm, but no advance is looked for by the trade at the present time. Evaporated butter is 27 cents a pound, ladies 22 cents and packing 15 to 20 cents.

White clover hay is 17 cents a pound and cases are quoted at $4.50.

A decline in pork loins has been the only change in meat prices during the week. Pork loins have gone off to 9 1/2 to 10 cents, which is a slump of about a cent from last week.

Beef, mutton and veal are unchanged.

The poultry market is rather quiet. Receipts are not enormous, but are ample to care for the present demand without causing any bulge in price. Spring chickens are 12 to 15 cents and hens are the same. Turkeys are 22 to 25 cents and ducks 15 to 16 cents.

Fish prices remain steady and unchanged.

MONUMENT TO OLD SETTLERS

Suggested That Statue be Erected in Memory of Pioneers.

Following the plan of the Greyhound du Lhut Memorial association to erect a memorial to the man whose name Duluth bears, a movement has been started for the erection of a monument to the pioneers of Duluth. No definite action has yet been taken, but a meeting of those interested will probably be called shortly to discuss the matter and decide whether some action should be taken immediately.

The men who came to the site of Duluth when a few huts adorned the shores of the bay and the hills, are fast passing from life. Every week, almost, brings news of the death of some one of the men who have helped in building up the metropolis of the Northwest, and those who are discussing the plan believe that the citizens of Duluth should erect some sort of a memorial to these men who fostered the infant city.

SEVEN MILLION DOLLARS NEEDED

For the Care of Existing River and Harbor Improvements.

Washington, Jan. 22.—In anticipation of the failure of congress to pass a general river and harbor bill, and the probability that an emergency measure, making a lump sum appropriation for the maintenance of existing improvements, will be passed, the house committee on rivers and harbors has secured from the chief of engineers an estimate of the amount required for that purpose. It shows that approximately $7,000,000 will be needed for the entire country, including some of his projects that are now under way.

Of this amount engineers say that about $250,000 will be needed for works in Minnesota and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan and Wisconsin, along the shores of Lake Superior. The estimate is intended to cover the fiscal year ending June 30, 1910, and improvements of the Duluth and Superior harbor will eat up a large portion of the amount asked for.

Maintenance of works already established at that place will cost $320,000, and an additional $150,000 is needed to perfect the plans for work the government is doing there. The cost of maintenance of improvements at other places in the Duluth district is as follows:

Grand Marais harbor, $1,000; Agate bay harbor, $1,000; Port Wing, Wis., $5,000; Ashland, Wis., $25,000; Ontonagon, Mich., $20,000; Marquette, Mich., $5,000; Marquette harbor of refuge, $1,000; Grand Marais, Mich., $20,000.

In the St. Paul district $3,500 is asked for St. Croix river, $2,000 for Minnesota river and $7,500 for Red River of the North.

TWO MUCH LAW—TOO LITTLE JUSTICE.

Courts are established that justice may be done. This is their sole purpose. Yet hardly a day passes in this broad land of equal rights that some court does not hand down a decision that outrages everybody's sense of justice. How has such a state of affairs come about? Are the people stupid? Is the bench unlearned in the law? Are the courts corrupt? What is the matter?

The heart of the whole trouble seems to be that in the place of equity we have put the rules of legal interpretation. In order that justice may be done, it is the business of the courts to say what the law means. It is not what people in their selfishness and passion think the law means that counts, but it is the actual intention of the legislature when it established the law that must prevail. In order that this intention may be clearly ascertained, the courts have, through years of practice, evolved a mass of rules by the application of which the meaning of the law—that is, the intent of the legislature, is arrived at. In the adjudication of constitutional questions it is the intent of the people in establishing the constitution that is searched for by the light of the rules of interpretation.

The ultimate intent of all law, whether made by the people in the form of a constitution or by their representatives in the form of statutes, is that justice may be done. There is no purpose for which law is made except to preserve inviolate to every man his rights. Fully conscious of this fundamental fact, the courts have for centuries, yes, from the beginning of time, gone behind the cold letter of the law, gone behind, even, the thought that was uppermost in the minds of the makers of a law at the time when the law was made, and have sought for that principle of abstract justice which was the underlying, basic cause of the making of the law. In other words, they have established courts of equity, and proceedings in equity, where and by which justice may be done when a rigid reading of the words of the law will not do justice.

Justice is usually a simple matter, but in the complexities of modern life it is sometimes not so simple. The abstract justice of thousands of causes can be determined only by a careful application of the rules of interpretation to the law, and it is this fact which has so greatly emphasized the rules of interpretation until it has come to pass that the decision of important causes is sometimes entirely a matter of balancing the rules of interpretation with no reference whatever to the equities of the issues at stake.

When learning and logic grow more important than justice, the people have to depend upon chance for their justice. It is a matter of grave concern that the courts of today are too much given to deciding issues of fact by the shifting rules of legal interpretation rather than by the fixed and elementary rules of justice.

REGISTER TOMORROW—LAST CHANCE.

Tomorrow is your last chance to register for the city election which is to be held on Feb. 2. If you did not register at the December primaries and have not yet registered since, you must register tomorrow, or you cannot vote Feb. 2.

The registration thus far is very light. Hardly one-third of the city's voting strength is shown on the registration lists. This is not a good thing. It shows an indifference to public affairs which is a decided hindrance to good government. It is entirely immaterial whether there are important matters at issue in this particular election. If all the voters of the city registered and voted at every election there would be fewer things in city government for the voters to complain about. A constant interest on the part of the public in public matters is the best guarantee of good government that any city can have.

If you are not registered, register tomorrow. It is your last chance.

THE BACHELOR EVIL.

With her declaration that bachelors are the world's greatest evil, Mrs. Lenora Lake reached fame at one bound. Lenora's attack upon the bachelor strikes the note as funny, but it means the same thing as President Roosevelt's fulminations against race suicide.

The making of bachelors into benefactors to the end that the people of the earth may multiply and particularly to the end that the United States may get more brave men and more fair women and more power and more money and more all things nice has even been attempted by law. In fact, lawmakers of many states are busy with the subject right now. The Wisconsin legislature is considering a bill which provides an annual tax on all bachelors of thirty years and over and which organizes a bureau for finding wives for bachelors who want to evade the tax. In Iowa it is proposed to tax all bachelors over 30 years of age $25 per annum and to devote the money to the relief of spinsters and widows. Texas wants a tax of from $10 to $25 per head on bachelors over 25 years of age. Texas is as big in ambition to benefit the human race as it is big in territory and it also proposes to double the tax of each bachelor who does not each year propose to at least one woman. A Missouri bill proposes to tax bachelors $50 per year and establishes a matrimonial board of five spinsters and five bachelors to encourage matrimony. As fast as the members of the board pair off the governor of the state is empowered to appoint a new spinster and a new bachelor to the board. While the board may naturally think that charitable matchmaking begins at home it is very much its business to see that it does not end there.

While the bachelor tax is much laughed at, and such freak legislation is tolerated because for the most part law making is such a serious business and a little fun now and then helps us to bear it, and while few of us can go so far as Mrs. Lenora Lake and condemn the bachelor as the greatest of all evils, we cannot fail to recognize the increase of bachelors as a menace to society. In the first place it is not good for man to dwell alone and no one can doubt that wedlock is a higher moral plane than singleblessness. In the second place, when the Almighty wants the world to come to an end, he will undoubtedly attend to the matter himself. So long as he endows plant and animal life with the principal of increase, it is their business to increase. With apologies to Goldsmith we submit that

"'Till faces the land, to hastening ill a prey, Where bachelors accumulate, and men decay."

War slays its thousands; peace its ten thousands; but the bachelor, who murders posterity, we cannot away with!

NOT FOR FARMERS ONLY.

Do you keep a cow? Are you interested in hard-soiled grounds and shrubbery about your house? Do you have a flower garden in the summer? Do you want to raise a few green things for your own table and possibly some for the market?

If you say "Yes" to these questions, go to the lecture room of the Young Men's Christian association this evening, and you will hear something that will greatly interest you. The subject of the lecture is, "The Agricultural Possibilities of St. Louis County," and it is the first of a series of eight lectures that will be given at the same place during the next three months upon the subjects indicated above and also upon the larger matters of truck gardening, dairying, drainage, horticulture, etc., all with especial reference to Duluth and St. Louis County.

The lectures are offered through the Association Institute of the Young Men's Christian association with the co-operation of the State School of Agriculture. The lecturers are men of wide experience in the matters of which they are to speak and they will bring with them the best that the world has to offer today in these matters. The series should prove of great practical benefit to the people of Duluth and vicinity. They are intended to help the laboring man to make his living, to put the man of moderate means in a position to be more comfortable and content in his home and to stimulate farming and dairying in the country.

The Herald cannot emphasize too much that these lectures are not for farmers only, but that they will be of the highest practical benefit to all the people of the city and vicinity.

SOUR GRAPES.

It is well for man, now and then, to take stock of his purposes and find out just how sincere he actually is in his attempts to reform the world. The reformation will go on faster if it is backed by right motives.

Our zeal sometimes runs away with us. This was the case, for instance, with a number of pro-labor papers which pursued a most peculiar course in announcing the decision of Judge Wright establishing the illegality of the boycott. These papers arranged their news account of the decision with an alteration of display type and body type so that the glaring display type made the decision read exactly the opposite of what it really was, while a perusal of both display and body type in order stated the decision correctly. They told the truth but gave everybody the wrong impression—which is the worst kind of lying. It was a very clever trick, but it was not honest or fair and it hurt the cause of labor.

Sincerity of motive means sure progress; unworthy motives embarrass the best cause.

One of the reasons why we are making headway so slowly with some of our great industrial reforms is the fact that our unworthy motives often carry us to excesses of speech and action which hold our cause up to ridicule instead of grounding its justice in men's minds. Everybody is in favor of revising the tariff—except as to the article which he manufactures. The story of the Irishman who was a Socialist and believed thoroughly in the doctrine of the equal division of property is well known. Every hypothetical question that his friend Mike put to him as to his willingness to divide this world's good if he had them was answered in an eager affirmative until Mike mentioned two pigs. "Ah, Mike, go on wid yez now; sure, you know I've got two pigs!" was his sole reply. Are we trust bachelors because we are determined that every man shall have his fair share of the fruit of his labor or because we haven't got a trust of our own?

Impurity of motive leads to improper action every time. It embitters the contest between right and wrong, and right is soon handicapped because of the wrong it is doing, while wrong becomes stronger because the issue is so belittled that men cannot tell which is right and which is wrong. Besides, men will fight for their property, but they will die for their rights, and when we attempt, under the influence of unworthy motives, to right our wrongs by unjust methods we find ourselves combated by a determination that fully measures up to our own and reformation is won but slowly. If we fight with right on our side the victory is sure, but if there is right on both sides, the battle is likely to be a draw.

What of our motives? Are we trying to set things right or just to get the better of the other fellow?

HOTEL GOSSIP.

Robert Creelman, agent at St. Paul for the Canadian Northern railroad, who was in Duluth Wednesday, was telling a story about the time the depot at Neepawa, a little new station upon one of the newly opened lines of the dominion, changed its location during the night.

"The station was only a temporary one," explained Mr. Creelman. "It was an old box car, set on the siding, and in this car the station agent and his wife lived, hoping that some day the railroad would transfer them, or if it wouldn't transfer them, that it would build a regular station at that point. One night a terrible wind came up, and they slept in the box car. The agent and his wife were frightened, but tired by a long day's work, they slept. Next morning they found that the car was rocking like a cradle."

"When the agent awoke the next morning, he gave a yawn, rubbed his eyes and then, as he looked out of the box car to gaze upon as fair a morning as could be expected, he noticed the railroad tracks running down the hillside, and he noticed that the box car was down the track for about a mile and flagged the passenger train."

"The fact of the matter was that the wind had blown the car right along the siding, and it was not until the passenger train had passed that the agent noticed that the car was down the track in a short time. Well, sir, that was the end of the box car station. The passenger train passed the box car, and the box car was down the track for about a mile and flagged the passenger train."

It is stated that John Kieftman of Hibbing, who was at the St. Louis yesterday, is grooming a horse for a future race. These racing horses have been among the leading social events of the city for some time. It is reported that the horse has been named "The Virginian" and that it will continue until spring.

Virginia is to have a new opera house, a business man of that city is carried out, according to the statement of C. E. Clark, who was at the St. Louis yesterday. With an up-to-date opera house, the city of Virginia could secure some of the shows that come to Duluth. Hibbing yesterday announced that it was going to build a new opera house, and that it was going to build a new opera house, and that it was going to build a new opera house.

SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

WHITEHEAD WINS AT HIBBING ON A FOUL

Heller Deliberately Hits
Low to Save Himself
Knockout.

Duluth Man Had Better of the Fight Throughout.

Hibbing, Minn., Jan. 22.—Walter Whitehead, champion heavyweight boxer of the Head of the Lakes, won over Billy Heller of Chicago on a foul in the fourth round of a bout scheduled to go twenty rounds. The fight was pulled off in the Power theater before a packed house last night.

With the possible exception of a part of the first round, when Whitehead was feeling out his man, it was his negro's battle all the way through. He was in the better physical condition, his wind was the better, he showed the greater skill as a boxer, he was light on his feet, slippery as an eel and his punches had the right amount of steam behind them.

In the latter part of the fourth round after the "prize" fight, the Chicago stock yards' had been fought to a standstill, he deliberately fouled Whitehead three times in order to save himself a knockout.

Referee Tom Madden paid no attention to Whitehead's first two cries of "foul," but the third one was so deliberate that he stopped the fight and declared Whitehead the winner.

The decision evidently pleased the crowd, for they cheered Whitehead to the echo.

When the men climbed into the ring at 10:40 both men were cheered, although Heller received the longer applause. The betting just previous to the beginning of the fight, favored the Chicago man by 10 to 1.

Heller had the better of the weight question, for just before the battle the men were weighed, and while Whitehead had tipped the scales at 185 pounds, Heller went him 190.

Fight by Rounds.

Heller had the better of the weight question, for just before the battle the men were weighed, and while Whitehead had tipped the scales at 185 pounds, Heller went him 190.

Second Round.—Whitehead feints with left and lands stiff right to face, followed with stinging left to head almost before Heller can get his arms up. This enraged Heller, who rushes the negro and lands both fists against the ropes in Whitehead's corner. Some in fighting followed, Heller doing the most of it. Whitehead waiting for an opening. Whitehead pulls himself free of the ropes and lands a right, sending a right, which Heller ducks and the negro slips to floor.

Heller hitting Heller as he comes down. Whitehead jumps up after three seconds protesting on his knees, claiming that Heller fouled him. The referee ignores claim and Whitehead jumps up. Strong mixing with both swinging wild. Heller getting the worst of the exchange.

Whitehead, who is a fighter, manages to break away. Heller runs into a stiff right as he clinches. Heller gets the worst of the exchange, sending left to the negro's body, but apparently hurting him. Heller waiting for an opening and playing for head with the right, which seems to worry Heller greatly. Round ends with both looking fresh.

Third Round.—Whitehead rushes from corner and lands with both hands to Heller's head, catching him with the left on the jaw. Heller ducks and Whitehead sends two rights to the jaw in succession. Heller retaliates with a left to Whitehead's stomach that is vicious and stuns him. A clinch results. Whitehead does more ineffectual hitting this round and lands hard rights to Heller's kidneys. They separate as the bell rings. Round is even, but Heller looks tired. While Whitehead is fresh.

Fourth Round.—Whitehead rushes after Heller like a demon, sending left and right to Heller's jaw and following it up with a hard right to head, which sends Heller to his knees, who rises and clinches. Whitehead tries to squirm away to land a knockout punch and Heller sends two feeble lefts to the body, which do no harm. Heller sends hard right to Whitehead's stomach, which makes Whitehead wince. Whitehead breaks loose and sends two hard rights in succession to Heller's head and two rights to the face. Heller totters forward and grapples Whitehead's neck. Heller takes slight brace, straightens up and then crouches low and sends his right to Whitehead's groin twice. Whitehead protesting each time. Referee pays no attention to first two blows and negro fights on.

The crowd was now in an uproar, yelling "foul," "foul." Heller shortly after this sent his right to the groin for the third time, and Referee Madden stopped the fight and declared Whitehead the winner. The decision pleased the crowd, for the general opinion was that the Chicago man fouled the negro to save himself a knockout.

In the preliminary bouts, Bill Tremblay of Gilbert knocked out Mike O'Keefe of Superior in the third round of what was to have been an eight-round affair. A Curly Smith of Superior and "Barrell" Smith fought a four-round draw.

In two games a week and making money. The lack of professional outfit has been written for the past year, but it exists at any rate.

The manager of the Elks' team of the league has written to the city and wants to arrange a series of games, two or three more and the same number at Houghton. If the manager of the All-Stars could swing it, he would like to take them up. The attendance at the game tomorrow night will probably decide.

Five years ago, when the indoor game was at its height in the Northwest, Houghton had one of the best teams in the district. The team came to Duluth and played nine games, winning the trip to Houghton. The Elks' team of the All-Stars would want to put out this year, has some members of the old National Guard team and the local boys would like to take them on.

There are several indoor teams in the Twin Cities that might be taken on for a series and the All-Stars would like to take on a team composed of Hibbing players of the outdoor game. There is plenty of good sport in sight for the lovers of indoor ball, but the financial question may prove impossible of solution and talk it all.

A delegation is to be taken to the University of Pennsylvania games at Philadelphia on May 28.

OF CATARRH

Catarrh is a blood disease which causes a general inflammation of the inner linings or mucous membranes of the body. The discharging of these delicate surfaces and tissues produces all the well known symptoms of the trouble, such as ringing noises in the head and ears, tight, stuffy feeling in the nose, pains above the eyes, irritation of the throat, sometimes slight fever, and a general feeling of weakness and ill health. Even the lungs become affected by the continual passage of impure blood through them, and there is danger of consumption if the disease is allowed to remain in the system. S. S. S. cures Catarrh because it purifies the blood. It goes into the circulation and removes every particle of the catarrhal matter, making this vital fluid pure, rich and healthy. Then the inflamed membranes begin to heal, every symptom disappears, the constitution is built up and health restored. S. S. S. rids the system of catarrh by attacking the trouble at its head and entirely removing the cause from the blood, thus making a permanent and lasting cure. S. S. S. is made entirely from health-giving roots, herbs and barks, and for this reason is an especially safe and desirable medicine. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free to all who write.

DID BURNS PROMOTE BATTLE?

Word From Australia That
aged Recent Fight.

San Francisco, Jan. 22.—If the latest gossip coming out of Australia is true, Tommy Burns has not only been fighting, but doing a bit of promoting since he reached the antipodes.

A personal letter just received here states that Burns, who is now in Australia, advertised as controller of the destinies of the Scientific Boxing company, limited, which handled the Burns-Johnson fight, was nothing but a figurehead, and that Burns was the power behind the throne.

It is directly stated in the letter that Burns put up the end of the purse to be given to Jack Johnson, and that he assumed the liabilities of all of the profits going to himself. If the fight drew in $150,000, Burns must have made a pretty penny out of the bout.

The opening of the Amateur Hockey league season will also have to be postponed until some time next week. The Bryans and Northern Juniors were to have opened the season at the Central rink tonight, but the ice is in no condition, and rather than make a bad job of the opening the managers have decided to postpone the event.

Manager Lavall of the Spaulding Athletic association has taken charge of the Bryant team and promises to make a team of pennant winners out of them. The skid Sunday afternoon on the new hill, may have to be postponed, although at this time the officers of the club are determined to pull it off if the weather gives them any show at all.

LONG DISTANCE RUNNERS READY

Dorando and Corey Are Awaiting Gun in the Chicago Race.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—Starter William Hale Thompson will fire the gun at 8 o'clock in Dexter Park pavilion tonight, which will send Albert L. Corey and Dorando Pietri away on their journey of twenty-six miles, 385 yards.

The surprise of the race will be the track some 315 or 316 times with all the speed and stamina that weeks of training can supply. Corey, going at full tilt Tuesday, made the remarkable time of a mile in five minutes and two seconds. Should he be able to keep up anything like this clip he will make the little Italian hustle.

Dorando will have the sentimental and financial backing of his country. The 1,000 of whom will be present from Chicago alone with many more from nearby cities. They will have a band to help them lend encouragement and an answering blast will come from an American band whenever Corey is ahead. The advance sale of seats indicates a great and widespread interest in the event.

COMISKEY TO BUY TRAINING CAMP

White Sox Owner Will
in Texas.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 22.—Charles Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, emulating the example of several major league magnates, has decided to buy permanent training quarters for his club, and soon will effect the purchase of grounds in Texas, where his players will do their conditioning every spring.

The grounds, which probably will be near here, will be used by the Sox in the spring of 1910. Next spring the Chicago club will journey to the coast and will follow practically the same route as the one traversed last season.

ZINK BREAKS HIS OWN RECORD FOR THE MILE

Who Made a New Local Record for the Mile

Joseph Zink, champion roller skater of the Northwest, Wednesday night broke his own record in a skating match with Percy Wood of Superior, when he went a mile on the wheel in 2:11. This means that he went the eighteen laps, which constitute a mile in the Lincoln Park rink in the time stated above.

Zink held the record before this time, when he was 2:33 for the same distance, made in the same rink.

The Duluth skater has been covering himself with glory lately. Last week in Minneapolis he met and defeated the best skaters at the Casino rink in that city. The time record at that place was 6:27 minutes for the two mile event and Zink ran away from the other skaters, covering the two miles in 3:28.

He is now planning a tour of the range, where he will meet the champion of each town.

landed a heavy body blow that weakened Otto and thereafter Cross forced the fighting. At the end of the fourth round Otto was bleeding and in the fifth a right swing to the jaw sent him down twice before he was finally counted out. The winner of last night's bout has been promised a match with Facky McFarland.

MINISTER WOULD

Memphis Clergyman Appointed on Staff in Cotton State League.

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 22.—If Rev. H. L. Williams fulfills his part of the contract, he will don the mask and chestnut in the Cotton States league games the coming summer as umpire.

President Merrill has received the pastor's application, and his recommendations being satisfactory, he was immediately appointed to the staff. Williams is in Greensboro, Ala., and was a college star at baseball.

OLD FASHIONED

Five Hundred Fans See Cross Put Young
Otto Away.

New York, Jan. 22.—A real knock-out, witnessed last night by a crowd of 500 at the Fairmount Athletic club, and no police interference brought back the memories of past days when glove contests were held in Madison Square.

The two light-weights put up a fast fight and in the first two rounds Otto showed flashes of cleverness and speed. In the third round, however, Cross

WOMAN GOLF CHAMPION

Minneapolis, Jan. 22.—Dr. Henry L. Williams recently signed a contract with the University of Minnesota athletic board of control to coach the Gopher football team again next fall. The athletic board decided early in the winter to engage Dr. Williams again, but the new contract was not presented to the athletic director until yesterday afternoon, and it was not known whether or not the terms of the contract would be accepted.

Dr. Williams' business has forced him to give up the general athletic work and as a result a new track coach was secured since last spring. Dr. Williams' salary therefore was reduced $500 and this reduction in salary was satisfactory to everyone concerned.

MURPHY MAKES A FIND.

Z. Z. Hagerman, a Former Iowa
Twirler, Said to be World-Beater.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—President Murphy of the Cubs appears to have picked up a world-beater in the person of Z. Z. Hagerman, the young pitcher whom he secured from the Des Moines club at the close of last season.

The Cub chief yesterday received a missive from Havana, Cuba, where the youth is now playing ball, announcing that the Cuban would be willing to keep him there all the year round. Already Dick Cooley, manager of the Des Moines club, has asked President Murphy to loan him his services during the coming season.

Seniors vs. Sophomores.
An important game in the High School basketball league will be played tonight in the gymnasium of the boys' department Y. M. C. A., when the seniors and sophomores clash in their first meeting of the season. These two teams have each won one game and stand at the head of the

The Spaulding basketball team will next Friday night play the basketball team that represents the Y. M. C. A. at Two Harbors.

ROCKLAND LODGE OLD.
Masons of the Place Celebrate Its Fiftieth Anniversary.

Channing, Mich., Jan. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the oldest Masonic lodges in the Northwest is that at Rockland, a small village in Ontonagon county, which has just celebrated its fiftieth anniversary. The organization is in reality more than half a century old, since two years prior to the granting of the charter under a special dispensation.
There were fifteen charter members, of whom there is only one survivor—
Frank G. White, now living in Colorado. The lodge has a membership of thirty-five, and is still living, aside from
Mr. White, only four persons—Reuben
H. Osborn, Detroit, Mich.; Samuel B.
Harris, Hancock, Mich.; Thomas D.
Meade, Calumet, Mich.; and Nathan E.
Morgan, Appleton, Wis.

city Tuesday morning, were held yesterday afternoon at Plymouth Methuof the University of Minnesota conducted the services. Representatives from the Morgan G. A. R. post, of which Col. Ripley was a member, were present, and also a large number of the members of the Yale Alumni association of the Northwest, of which as-

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

OTHER GIRL LOSES LIFE

Accident Dies of Her Injuries.

Waving at One Train Crew Did Not See Another Train.

Austin, Minn., Jan. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Lizzie Kelly, who was injured by the Chicago Great Western train while waiting to town yesterday, died at St. Olaf's hospital yesterday. Her companion, Miss Mamie O'Leary, died soon after being taken to the hospital Sunday.

The girls lived a short distance from town and were coming to the hospital to see the father of Miss Kelly, who has been under treatment for some time. Their attention was attracted by the crew of a Milwaukee train, the waving of whose hands they took to be in the spirit of a jest, and they were returning it as such. The Chicago Great Western took the waving of the girls to mean that they heard the engineer's continuous signaling and they would get off the train.

The girls belong to two families formerly consisting of eight and have been living in two rooms in the vicinity of the old brickyard.

ST. CLOUD FIRM FINISHES BIG JOB

Completes Government Irrigating Ditch in Montana, Many Miles Long.

St. Cloud, Minn., Jan. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The D. H. Freeman company of this city will complete its great work of building a government ditch at Glendive, Mont., by next Saturday night. D. H. Freeman says that the work is practically completed at the present time.

The local company took a contract in the spring of 1906 to build seventeen miles of a sixty-five mile government ditch at a cost of $600,000. The local company took the heavy and offensive work, and the water was turned on in May, 1906, and after nearly three years is now nearly 7000 acres of land.
This land will immediately be turned over to the public. It will be sold in eighty-acre tracts at a price of $42.50 an acre.

Settlers are expected from all over the country and the indications are that all the property will be taken within a short time. The government ditch which will be built in the future and which will mean hundreds of thousands of dollars to the state of Montana, is a great piece of work.

Of the sixty-five miles the local company has built nearly 7000 feet of ditch. The ditch as it leaves the dam in the Yellowstone river is 25 feet wide and 20 feet deep. For the first two miles the average is 25 feet wide and 20 feet deep. For the last two miles the average is 25 feet wide and 25 feet deep. The work for four miles was done by three steam shovels and a dredge.

ENTERTAINING EDITORS.

St. Paul Plans for Annual Meeting Next Month About Completed.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Arrangements have been partially made for the entertainment of the Minnesota Editorial association at its annual convention in this city Feb. 13-15.

Most of the time is to be taken up by business sessions. On the evening of Feb. 13 a banquet will be tendered the delegates at the Ryan hotel. On the afternoon of the same day the wives and daughters of the visitors will attend a matinee at a local playhouse.

The guests will be welcomed by Mayor Daniel L. Sawyer, who will be followed by a short speech by Governor Johnson. The cost of the banquet for the banquet has not been decided on.
It is probable that the convention will adjourn about noon on the 15th, after a short business session.

ROB FULDA POSTOFFICE.

Yeggeen Make Small Haul in Murray County Establishment.

Fulda, Minn., Jan. 22.—Early yesterday morning robbers entered the postoffice by the front door, blew open the safe with dynamite, wrecking the desks and scattering papers and records. They secured about $12 in nickels and pennies. They took a registered package containing a lady's gold watch.

The safe, drawers and papers were found in a box car in the railroad yard.
The burglars stole bars and hammers from the section house to aid them in their work. There is no clew to the bandits.

KILLS HERSELF BEFORE SCARED LITTLE ONES.

Bathgate, N. D., Jan. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Telling her children she was going to heaven, soon to return for them, Mrs. Cyril Deane, a Belgian, the wife of a farm hand employed by John Carlsson, near here, put on her best clothes, then with a razor cut her throat before her scared offspring.

Her husband, who has been established that the woman, who came to this country with her husband last April, was mentally unbalanced.

REDWOOD FALLS WILL OWN ITS TELEPHONES.

Redwood Falls, Minn., Jan. 22.—The last step in the controversy between the citizens of Redwood Falls and the Minnesota Telephone company, growing out of the recent advance in rate is the filing of articles of incorporation for the Redwood Falls Electric Telephone company, with over 100 shareholders and nearly $10,000 of stock already subscribed.

The Minnesota Central having declined to sell to Redwood Falls its plant, the new company will proceed to construct an up-to-date system as soon as the work can be done. The citizens are practically a unit in their support of the new company, which will probably affiliate with the Tri-State in its long-distance business, but will stand on its own feet, and it will also be associated with the Redwood county rural telephone system, which covers most of this county.

YOUNG QUARRYMAN CRUSHED.

Head Caught Between Stone and Car and Fatally Injured.

St. Cloud, Jan. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—A frightful accident occurred Wednesday morning at the quarry of the St. Cloud Granite company, in Luxemburg in which Leo Tomczik, 19 years old, whose home is at Waite Park, had his head crushed from the effects of which he will undoubtedly die.

Young Tomczik was engaged in taking out a large rock from the quarry on a dump car to the top of a pile of stone. He was walking on the incline and in going up the incline he bent down his head. Suddenly, a large stone fell from the quarry, hitting the young man's head between the head and the incline, and the stone lacerating the face and back of his head.

BANKERS MAKE PROTEST.

Eau Claire, Wis., Jan. 22.—At the ings banks. Vault exhibits from the wrecked Lady Smith, Warren, Holcombe and Lake, Nebagamon banks were on view at its residence. The fairly taxed.

The following officers were elected:

vice president, Augustus, secretary-treasurer, George D. Bartlett, Stanley; executive committee, W. McCoy, New

LOW WATER CLOSES MILLS.

Menominee and Marinette Paper Plants Have Been Affected.

Menominee, Mich., Jan. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Low water in the Menominee river has caused the shutting down of the Menominee and Marinette paper mills. No relief is expected until the spring floods, is the statement made by Mayor Augustus Spies of Menominee, president of the company. Only three machines in mill No.
2 are in operation and they may be shut down in the near future.

Dozens of men in the twin cities many that have never been affected before are dry, and some people are being compelled to walk several blocks for water. The drought is caused by the unusually late summer and fall and the sudden arrival of cold weather.

Echo Water Tank Bursts.

The local company tank at the city pump station fell yesterday, bursting of the hoops causing the accident. The tank still stands. Echo is left without fire protection until a

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Crookston—W. J. Burnette, a freight conductor on the Great Northern road, was killed by a train at Levee, Minn., Wednesday evening which will confine him to the hospital. He was walking alongside of his train when a car backed up on him, knocking him down. The train crew ran to his assistance and brought him to this city as soon as possible.

New York Mills—The local creamery association elected officers as follows:
President, Charles J. Peterson; vice president, Jacob Ojala; treasurer,
W. J. Johnson; directors, Matt
Korila, Matt Korila, Matt Korila, and Charles Tikkanen; secretary,
S. J. Peterson.

MUSCULAR RHEUMATISM

A Cure at Minneapolis Which Should Set Every Rheumatic Sufferer to Thinking.

The prospect of the return of the same old rheumatism every year is not attractive to anybody who has gone through one siege. Most treatments aim simply to "keep down" the rheumatic poison in the blood. The tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills has proved by hundreds of cures that it builds up the blood to a point that enables it to cast out these poisons through the regular channels of excre-tion, the bowels, kidneys and the skin.

When this is done, rheumatism is permanently cured and as long as the blood is kept pure and rich the patient will be immune from attacks of rheumatism.

After suffering for a year Mrs. Ella Beatty, of No. 814 West Twenty-eighth street, Minneapolis, Minn., cured herself of muscular rheumatism by using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The permanent cure she made in her case was due to her purifying and building up of the blood. She says:

"The rheumatism came on me suddenly, and until the attack I was feeling as well as usual. The attack seemed to settle in the joints of my neck. I had what the doctors called spasms of the muscles of the neck, which drew my head to one side. The spasm of my left hand was affected until I was unable to use that hand. I was in bed for six weeks and during that time I had to lie in one position. If I moved my neck I would scream with pain.

"I could see no benefit from the doctor's medicine and gave it up to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills upon the advice of a friend. The pills soon had my blood in good condition and I have had no more of the pains. I am now the picture of health and can, therefore, recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Sufferers from rheumatism in any form, who have found their condition un-relieved or actually growing worse will using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are sold by all druggists or direct by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50c.
per box; six boxes, $2.50. A helpful booklet will be sent free on application to Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

ON THE IRON RANGES

CATHOLICS TO BUILD A CHURCH

Cost About $20,000 and Located Between Sparta and Gilbert.

Eveleth, Minn., Jan. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Catholics of Sparta and Gilbert have decided to build a church to cost about $20,000. It will be of brick and located midway between the two towns. The preliminary work has been started with the appointment of committees to attend to the various matters necessary before actual building is begun.

The roads leading to Gilbert will be improved this summer by the Mesabi Mountain township board. All the roads not up to the proper width will be widened, while steel gutters will replace all the wooden bridges. From the edge of the Gilbert township the road leading into the town by way of Broadway will be covered with crushed rock. Since April 1, 1928, the board has expended $24,000 in road improvements.

To make the road between Virginia and Eveleth possible the voters of the township will have to decide whether they want the new road as a great part of the road is in the township. The new road, though it will be about half a mile longer than the old, will have a much easier grade and will leave Eveleth from the main street, instead of a back street. The road has been surveyed and those who have been over it are very enthusiastic about it. A committee is still working on the matter in conjunction with the Virginia road committee. The proposition will be brought up again at the next Commercial club meeting.

INCREASED TAXES ABSORBING TOPIC

Eveleth Business Men Find Little Else to Talk About.

Eveleth, Minn., Jan. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The tax question is still uppermost in the public mind. The business men do not take kindly to the fact that their taxes have almost been doubled. The tax levy for this city was made with the idea that the $100,000 would be taken on in St. Paul. Since the valuation came back without the addition of telephone, the taxpayers have to make up the difference, and their pockets are considerably pinched.

Whenever a group of business men get together, the tax question is the topic these days. Some of them have asked the secretary of the Commercial club to call a special meeting to discuss the matter, but on account of the absence of present members the meeting has been put off until his return.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Jan. 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The difference between the Grand Rapids people and the telephone company and the corporation over phone charges has been amicably adjusted and the so-called "telephone war" is a closed incident.

BACK FROM CONVENTION

Duluth Men Attended Gathering of Northern Pacific Agents.

"Get Together" Meeting for Traveling and General Agents.

T. E. Blanche, general agent, and T. McKenney, city ticket agent of the Northern Pacific railroad, returned this morning from the convention of the general agents and traveling freight agents of the Northern Pacific.

The convention was held in St. Paul Jan. 18-20, and was attended by practically all the general agents of the entire Northern Pacific system. Most of the traveling agents of the road were also present at the convention.

In all there were more than 100 general and traveling agents, representing the territory of the road from Duluth to the Pacific coast.

The prime object of the meeting, was to secure a more perfect cooperation between the various general agents and the officials of the road.

For example, Mr. Blanche explained, that if the agent at Portland, Or., was made thoroughly acquainted with the conditions at Duluth, and he were made more familiar with the traffic conditions in the Pacific territory, there would naturally follow an improvement in the traffic relations between the two points.

In a nutshell, the object of the meeting, was to bring a closer relation between the agents and officials. Familiarity with the conditions over the system, upon the part of all the agents, will accomplish this, in the opinion of the officials of the road.

Questions vital to the policy of the road were discussed at the meeting. Added improvements in the operating department and improvements to the property of the company, were some of the subjects that came before the meeting. Particular stress was laid upon the improvement in every possible way of the traffic department.

Business Increasing.

W. E. Belcher, general freight agent of the Northern Pacific railroad at Detroit, Mich., who is in the city today, is optimistic regarding the improvement of the freight traffic of the railroad of the country.

Mr. Belcher stated that many firms had given orders to the various manufacturers throughout the country for future shipment.

Many of the manufacturers have not filled these orders, or have not even manufactured the goods," said Mr. Belcher. "The reason for this is that the manufacturers are getting wise to this system; they are not manufacturing until they are pretty certain the delivery will be called for.

Under this system of future orders, which is largely the result of business depression of the past, there are many orders, calling for a heavy tonnage, that will be filled in the future. In fact, many of these orders are being filled and shipped at the present time.

"When I get back to Detroit I expect to find greatly increased business," Mr. Whitaker, district passenger agent of the Northern Pacific at Duluth, said.

Mr. Whitaker spent most of the day in Superior.

Pulpwood Movement Light.

Representatives of various roads, who have been in Duluth the past two or three days, looking over the pulpwood movement from the Minnesota district this winter. The reason is that the mills of Wisconsin are overstocked and are not taking any consignments.

Missable Office Changes.

Changes affecting the general freight and passenger department, and the auditing department of the Duluth, Missable & Northern railroad, have been made.

Mr. B. Hanson, formerly general freight and passenger agent, as well as auditing agent, has been relieved of the duties of the auditing department, and will hereafter confine his duties to the freight department.

The duties of the auditing department have been transferred to those of the treasurer's department. E. S. Kempton, treasurer of the road, will make the new arrangement, have the auditing department under his control.

Two Warships, Decides House

Majority Also Approves Provision for Torpedo Boat Destroyers.

Washington, Jan. 22.—The house today defeated the amendment to the naval bill, by Mr. Burton of Ohio, to limit the naval increase to one battleship.

The Finley amendment to the bill striking out the battleship provision, was rejected by a vote of 80 to 160.

By a vote of 108 to 158, the house has sustained the committee provision of the bill calling for two battleships.

The house overwhelmingly refused to strike out the provision for five torpedo boat destroyers.

SUPERIOR NEWS

KRAMER IS SENTENCED

Jury Finds Him Guilty of Manslaughter in Fourth Degree.

Given One Year in Prison, Dating From Last August.

After being out all night the jury in the case of Matt Kramer returned a verdict of manslaughter in the fourth degree. Judge Smith sentenced him to one year's imprisonment, the sentence to date from Aug. 1 of last year.

The case, which has been on trial all this week, has caused considerable comment. Kramer, on July 3, shot and killed his partner, Erick Young who lived with him in a shack near Foxboro. Kramer admitted the killing, but claimed that it was accidental, and that he thought he was shooting at a deer. When he learned that he had killed Young, he claimed that he feared being hanged and buried the body, keeping the shooting a secret. The body was later discovered in his grave and Kramer arrested.

The defense produced witnesses who testified that although Kramer was a peaceful nature and not a man who would deliberately commit murder, show that the body, on being discovered, was found to have been mutilated, indicating that murder had been intentional.

Judge Smith, in his address to the jury, submitted three charges, murder in the first and second degrees, and manslaughter in the fourth degree. He defined the three, and said that it was first degree murder if premeditation was proven; second, if there was no premeditation but yet an intent to kill; and manslaughter in the fourth degree if the killing occurred through carelessness. The judge also said that the absence of motive in such a serious case must be construed in favor of the accused.

Interclass Debate.

"Resolved, That the guarantee of bank deposits by the state and federal government is preferable to the postal savings system." This was the subject of the annual junior-senior debate of the Duluth High school, which will be held the last of February or the first of March.

Commercial Club Meeting.

At the Superior Commercial club this evening there will be a meeting of the traffic committee. It is probable that at this meeting the traffic expert who is to take charge of the new bureau, now being organized, will be named.

STORM OF CANARY BIRDS.

San Francisco Chronicle: It happened in the night, and according to the yarn spun yesterday by Capt. Sandberg of the Panama liner City of Para it must have been a night of terror.

The ship was midway between Acapulco and San Jose de Guatemala, which is a latitude in which the unusual is the expected. The time was between 1 and 2 o'clock in the morning, and it was very dark. Suddenly an electric storm of great ferocity came up from the sea.

A revolutionary republic on the starboard quarter, accompanied by waterports, St. Elmo's fire and a great flock of canary birds. Every one knows that St. Elmo's fire and waterports are common off the coast of Acapulco, but the canary birds are a novelty.

At the first stroke the lightning blew out the fuse in the ship's dynamo and the lights went out.

So the City of Para came safely through the storm when it rained canary birds, all save the gilt ball at the top of the foremast, half of which was lost overboard.

It lasted for an hour, and in the morning, when the storm had passed and the sun rose, there on the decks, covering the awnings and almost filling the boats lashed on the upper deck, were thousands of dead and dying canary birds. Capt. Sandberg says there were thousands of them. Some of them had blundered into the staterooms in the darkness after the electric lights went out.

she became as dark as an abandoned trolley car. Then the St. Elmo's fire lit on the foremast and split the gilt ball at the top of the topmast exactly into two hemispheres. One of these fell into the water; the other struck the bridge and almost hit Second Officer Hooker.

Third Officer Zual, who had been off watch below, ran on deck. All the passengers followed Zual to the deck, and the captain says that the passengers thought the end of the world had come. The storm was had enough and the lightning was blinding, but it was the great birds that flew in the faces of the startled passengers in the darkness that caused the indescribable terror.

LINER IS HIT AT SEA

White Star Steamer Republic Reports Accident by Wireless.

Duluth Man and Bride Is Embittered by Criticisms of the German Newspapers.

J. F. MCCARTHY AND BRIDE ON BOARD THE REPUBLIC.
J. F. McCarthy, the well-known board of trade man, and his bride of a week, are passengers on the White Star liner Republic which collided with another vessel off Nantucket this morning. The passengers are in no danger, so that the relatives and many friends of Mr. McCarthy in this city feel assured that he and his wife are safe.
Mr. McCarthy is a well-known Duluth business man and is vice president of the McCarthy Brothers company, one of the important grain firms here and at Minneapolis. He was married Thursday, Jan. 14, at Chicago, to Miss Mary E. Worlin, daughter of Mrs. Amelia Westburn of Hancock, Mich.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 23.—The White Star steamer Republic, which sailed from New York to Mediterranean ports, carrying 250 first class and 212 steerage passengers, was rammed by an unknown vessel and disabled, twenty-six miles south of Nantucket, while threading her way along on the Nantucket shoals in thick fog, early today.

Immediately after the accident, the wireless apparatus on the steamer flashed the news of her plight in all directions and within a short time several vessels, including the French liner steamer La Lorraine, and the American revenue cutters Albatross and Greaves, were on their way to offer every assistance to the disabled steamer.
The damage was more serious than anticipated, as all of the passengers asked that assistance be sent immediately. One flashed to the navy yard here said the steamer was sinking. Later, however, the captain of the Republic sent a wireless message saying that the engine room was full.

SHERCLIFFE IS HELD INNOCENT

Jury Decides He Did Not Rob Northern Pacific Car.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Herman W. Morris, alias Frank Shercliffe, was acquitted at 11:30 today of robbing a sleeping car on the Northern Pacific, April 16, 1908.
He will be taken to Colorado to serve a 20-year term for murder in the second degree.

RELEASES BELGIAN DIAMOND CUTTERS

ROBERT WATCHORN.
Washington, Jan. 23.—By virtue of a decision affecting the diamond cutting and polishing industry of this country, rendered by the department of commerce and labor, eight Belgian diamond cutters, whom the Diamond Workers Protective union of America succeeded in having detained at Ellis Island on the charge that they had been brought to this country in violation of the contract labor law, the Belgians are allowed to enter the United States, and Immigration Commissioner Watchorn is ordered to free them. The decision holds that the diamond workers union of this country is "un-American in character."

KAISER OUT OF PRINT

Decides to Abolish His Daily Court Report Altogether.

Embittered by Criticisms of the German Newspapers.

Berlin, Jan. 23.—Emperor William who ordered a considerable curtailment of the daily court circular after popular excitement ensued, following the appearance of the famous interview with him, published in the London Daily Telegraph, has now decided to signalize his fiftieth birthday by abolishing the daily court report altogether.
This report has hitherto been given to a semi-official press bureau for distribution to the newspapers. Hereafter, instead of the circular, there will appear a brief summary of the emperor's official activity. This will be published weekly in the Reich Anzeiger.
His majesty's decision, it is said, is the result of the recent press criticisms of his reading a magazine article to the commanding generals on Jan. 2.
These criticisms greatly embittered his majesty and he has now reached the conclusion that it will be best for him to keep out of the newspapers as far as possible. He expresses the hope that editors will respect his wishes in the matter and confine themselves to reporting only the Reich Anzeiger summary.

KILL FIVE AND COMMIT SUICIDE

Highwaymen Also Wound Twenty, in Attempted London Robbery.

London, Jan. 23.—Five persons are dead and more than twenty are in hospitals at Walthamstow, a suburb of London, as the result of a sensational attempt to rob made today by two Italian highwaymen.
The Italians were run down and surrounded by a posse and finally committed suicide and a young boy, dead, and three others are among the wounded.
Twenty policemen were employed in a rubber factory, but having been discharged planned to revenge themselves on their employers. They seized a bag of money containing the week's pay of all the hands and stood on a mad dash down the street.
The police were summoned and followed in a motor car. As they approached the Italians, the robbers fired fire with automatic pistols on their pursuers. A number of men and boys on the street were shot down before they could recover from their surprise and get to cover.

RAILROAD PLANS WITH DULUTH AS THE FOCAL POINT

Duluth to Become the Greatest Railroad Center in the Northwest.

THE SITUATION IN A NUTSHELL

The Rainy Lake road has been purchased by the Canadian Northern, which will extend to Duluth, giving a direct line to Winnipeg and the great Northwest.
The Soo road, controlled by the Canadian Pacific, is extending in from Brooten, giving a new line to the Dakotas.
The Soo will build a cut off from Thief River Falls to the Brooten extension, giving a second direct line to Winnipeg and the Northwest.
The Wisconsin Central has been purchased by the Canadian Pacific interests, giving a through route from the Northwest to Chicago through Duluth. The Canadian Pacific also owns a controlling interest in the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic.
The Great Northern is extending its lines in Canada, doubling the importance of its Duluth terminals.
The Grand Trunk will undoubtedly be forced to seek access to Duluth to meet the competition of its great rivals the Canadian Northern and the Canadian Pacific.
The Milwaukee road's coast extension is being completed, giving another coast line, as the Milwaukee has a contract which will enable it to run trains to Duluth over the Northern Pacific at any time.

Railroad developments which would turn the heads of almost any community, have come to light during the last few months, and Duluth today is the center of attention in the railroad circles of the country. The greatest railroads of the Northwest are fighting for access to Duluth and for Duluth terminals.
In Duluth the situation seems to be taken quite calmly, but other cities are looking upon it in no such phlegmatic manner. They see in the plans of the railroads the building up of a great industrial jolting and shipping center at the head of the Lakes, and coming on top of the big things in store for Duluth as a result of the coming of the steel plant, makes them doubly important.
Where all the plans for railroad extensions materialize, Duluth will be a railroad center second in importance to no city in the country, with the possible exception of Chicago. Other cities may have the roads passing through them, but they are mere "resisting points" for the trains. Duluth will be the terminal—the city where the yards, and the shops, and the docks must be built.
In short, it looks as if Duluth were at last coming into her own as far as being the gateway for commerce is concerned. It will also be the greatest jobbing center in the Northwest.
The Strategic Point.
That the Duluth is the strategic point in railroad business, is evidenced by their plans for this city. The four great railroads now crossing the northern part of the continent are the Great Northern, the Northern Pacific, the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian Northern. Two other lines are rapidly pushing through. These are the Great Grand Trunk system and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. Of the first four mentioned roads, two already have their terminals in Duluth, and within the last two months have come the announcements that the other two roads would reach the city. The Canadian Northern by its purchase of the Duluth, Rainy Lake & Winnipeg, and its proposed extension from Virginia, will have an almost direct line from Winnipeg to the water front at Duluth. One docks will be built at Onondaga, and the Canadian Northern will go after the iron ore trade as well as the lumber and general freight business. During the summer the boats on the Great Lakes will take care of its Eastern shipments from Duluth, and traffic arrangements will have to be made with other roads to handle the shipments in the winter.
The business of the Canadian Northern up to the present time has been largely of a local nature, such as transporting grain to the elevators and returning supplies to the farmers of the Canadian Northwest. The road is reaching out after the ore and lumber trade, and connections at Duluth will place it in the field as an active competitor for through traffic, especially if good traffic arrangements can be made here. Up to the present time the introduction of bills were beaten. The

These women and four others arrested with them, will be arraigned on new complaints this afternoon. Mr. McMahon will again appear as their attorney. ## FIRE THREATENS IN MINNEAPOLIS

Four-Story Brick Block Burns and Other Property Menaced.

Donaldson building in the rear, and the F. H. Peterson building on one side, were threatened. It was at one time feared that the latter could not be saved, but owing to the fire walls, which separated the buildings, the flames were unable to make any headway in that direction, although smoke and water did considerable damage to the stock.

HALF THE ARRESTS IN 1908 DIRECTLY DUE TO DRINK

Total Number of Arrests Less Than in 1907.

There were 4,361 persons arrested in Duluth during 1908, according to the annual report of the police department, completed today. Of this number, 3,226 were males, and 435 were females. The total amount collected in fines up to Jan. 1 was $25,099.48, and bail forfeited in municipal court amounted to $2,629.50.

The estimated value of property reported lost or stolen during the year was $23,219.48, and of this amount $13,586 was recovered. This is a percentage recovered of 58.5 per cent, per cent better than last year.

In the causes of arrest, drunks led with 2,169. Petty larceny cases were next with a total of 149, and assault with a dangerous weapon, 137. Other causes of arrest were as follows: begging on street, 84; burglary, 33; carrying concealed weapons, 23; forgery, 17; negatives from justice, 67; gambling, 90; highway robbery, 1; keeping gambling houses, 4; grand larceny, 60; murder, 3. The number of days prisoners were sentenced to in municipal court during the year, amounted, in the aggregate, to 2,547.

Complaints were received and investigated as follows: grand larceny, 75; petty larceny, 412; burglary, 50; forgery, 17; negatives from justice, 67; gambling, 90; highway robbery, 1; keeping gambling houses, 4; grand larceny, 60; murder, 3. ## FOREIGN FARMERS LOOK TO MINNESOTA FOR LAND

Immigration Report Shows This State Stands Fifth in List.

Border States Benefited by Improved Canadian Immigration.

Of the total of 752,870 aliens landing in the United States from foreign countries during the last fiscal year, 12,113 named Minnesota as their destination. This is the annual report of the commissioner general of immigration, just issued, a copy of which was received yesterday by William H. Dean, inspector in charge of the local United States immigration office.

Of this number, 274 were farmers, placing Minnesota fifth in the list of states in point of number of alien farmers coming here with intent to settle. Past experience shows that this class ultimately settles on farms of their own. There are 14,329 alien farmers in Minnesota, and 1,876 servants, which should have helped in solving the servant girl problem to a certain extent.

The total number of deportations of aliens during the year was 2,295, and Minnesota's share of this number was thirty-nine.

New York stood first in the list as a destination for aliens, 256,425 naming that state as their destination.

Duluth is one of the leading ports of immigration for aliens along the Canadian border, thousands of them passing through this port yearly. The Canadian section of the report dealing with Canadian border immigration into the United States is of particular interest to Duluth.

Evils of Immigration. The report states that the year witnessed in Canada, as in the United States, a financial and commercial depression, which has brought to light there, as here, some factors in regard to the evils of immigration not thoroughly restricted. The policy of the Dominion heretofore has been to encourage by every possible means, the immigration of foreigners, and it is evident that in Canada's desire for quantity, due regard has not been made to quality, and that the United States border districts have been made to suffer accordingly, for much of this immigration eventually reaches the United States, except where held back by the immigration officials. It may be said, in passing, that since immigration has developed here an undesirable foreigner, later becoming a public charge, has gotten through the port of Duluth, which speaks well for the efficiency of the local office.

The financial and commercial depression in Canada has brought to the surface all the undesirable foreigners who were so freely admitted, and the result has been the adoption of more strict rules and regulations, and a general tendency to discourage all immigration but the highly desirable, Canada's standards thus being brought to a par with those of the United States. All this is likely eventually to redound to the benefit of the United States, for the interests of the two countries are so closely interwoven that what benefits one is almost sure to ultimately benefit the other.

Even with the improved grade of Canadian immigration the need of maintaining an efficient corps of prisoners from the city jail to the county jail.

The total expense of operating the police department during the year was $1,513.97, as compared with $1,124 in 1907.

Closing the St. Croix avenue disorderly district will mean a lessening in the city's revenue by fines this year of about $24,000.

It is interesting to note the different nationalities of the prisoners arrested. Among the prisoners there were 1,413 white native residents of the United States; 105 negro residents and 20 Indians. Sweden came next with 553; Finland next with 432, and Norway next with 352. Only 1 Scotchman and 1 Spaniard were arrested. Ireland got out with 10. The detailed table of nationalities, by the number of arrests, is as follows:

Africa, 1; Austria, 3; Belgium, 14; Bohemia, 28; Canada, 219; Denmark, 20; England, 77; Finland, 422; France, 57; Germany, 150; Greece, 20; Holland, 1; Hungary, 8; Ireland, 10; Italy, 20; Korea, 30; Poland, 142; Roumania, 7; Russia, 11; Scotland, 1; Spain, 1; Sweden, 553; Switzerland, 1; white Americans, 1,543; Indians, 20; negroes, 105.

This makes a total for the year of 4,361, as compared with 4,608 in 1907, which evidently can be taken as indication that less crime was committed in the city last year than the year before.

It is also interesting to note the occupations of different men and women arrested. Laborers led the list, with 2,608, and those of no occupation numbered 282. Other causes of arrest were, 52; sailors, 56; cooks, 4; clerks, 72; bartenders, 49; actors, 3; teamsters, 2; blacksmiths, 20.

Below is given a list of some of the miscellaneous causes of arrest reported by the police department: 23; negatives from justice, 67; gambling, 90; highway robbery, 1; keeping gambling houses, 4; grand larceny, 60; murder, 3. The number of days prisoners were sentenced to in municipal court during the year, amounted, in the aggregate, to 2,547.

Complaints were received and investigated as follows: grand larceny, 75; petty larceny, 412; burglary, 50; forgery, 17; negatives from justice, 67; gambling, 90; highway robbery, 1; keeping gambling houses, 4; grand larceny, 60; murder, 3. The number of days prisoners were sentenced to in municipal court during the year, amounted, in the aggregate, to 2,547.

The patrol wagon responded to 3,219 alarms, and in doing so, it carried 1,391

United States inspectors along the border. It is shown by the fact that 58,326 immigrants were examined at border stations as to their physical condition, and 4,184 were refused admission to the United States during the year, and of this number 2,850 were refused admission on the ground of being a percentage of 4.91 per cent rejected.

The $9,314 aliens above accounted for were selected from 5,000,000 passengers crossing from Canada to the United States during the year. The number of aliens collected during the year in the border jurisdiction was $184,232.99, so the border service was a profitable one.

Compared with the number of aliens showing United States destinations upon arrival at Canadian border ports during the fiscal year 1907, the year just closed shows a falling off of 3,169, or 29 per cent. The same comparison for arrivals at Pacific ports shows a falling off of 655, or 27.5 per cent.

The Head Tax.

As being a port so vitally interested, a good deal of comment was occasioned in Duluth concerning the immigration act approved Feb. 20, 1907, providing in its details for the way of an increased head tax, limiting assessment of head tax to aliens having no money, or no means of support in Canada, and the debarring of aliens suffering from tuberculosis. It was freely predicted that the act would be a disaster to the city.

Speaking on this point, the report says: "The bureau should derive satisfaction in contemplating the results of the first year's application of the act. Without fear of contradiction, it may be said that the expected difficulties have not presented themselves. No authority assessment of head tax only respect to aliens who actually enter the United States was of material aid in the endeavor to enforce the requirements of the new law without understanding of the conditions with which our border offices have to cope, and from personal observation of the intelligent, forceful, yet cautious manner in which such officers proceed to carry into effect the wishes of congress and the department as set forth in the present immigration laws and regulations, I am confident that the act will be a success."

Another portion of the report of interest to Duluth, in view of the recent attempts to export alien prostitutes, and persons being responsible for them being in the city, refers to the suppression of the prostitution of alien women for purposes of prostitution. The report shows that of prostitutes and women coming for other immoral purposes, 124 have been rejected at the ports, and that 1,413 were sent to the penitentiary. Fourteen procurers and keepers of houses of ill fame have been convicted and sentenced to terms of imprisonment and fine, ranging from six months to eighteen months, and from $50 to $1,000.

In the states of Minnesota, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri, North and South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas, 12,205 aliens were detained at some time during the year in insane asylums, penal, reformatory and charitable institutions, showing the prevalence of crime, immigration laws and the enforcement of same to keep undesirable from the country. The proportion of aliens in such institutions in certain other parts of the country was even larger.

The effect of the financial and economic depression on alien residents of the United States is shown by the fact that $74,656 aliens left the United States for their old homes in their native lands during the year, where, in 1907 the total stood at $69,882, an increase of 7,774.

Many little lives have been saved by Foley Honey and Tar, for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. It is shown by the fact that 58,326 immigrants were examined at border stations as to their physical condition, and 4,184 were refused admission to the United States during the year, and of this number 2,850 were refused admission on the ground of being a percentage of 4.91 per cent rejected.

If You Are Weak

you may not be exactly sick, but you are in an unnatural condition of health, and need the assistance of a strength-giving medicine, or tonic,—Cardui.

Woman's great trouble is weakness. Cardui is a woman's medicine, because it acts on that weakness and turns it into strength.

Don't put off taking medicine,—a strengthening, building medicine—Cardui, woman's tonic, until you are really sick.

Take Cardui when you are sick, yes; but take

Cardui also when you are well;—well but weak. It will help you.

Mrs. A. Bryner, of Cameron, Ill., writes: "I was all run-down, and had been afflicted with female trouble for several years. I began to take Cardui, and before I had taken half a bottle I felt like a different woman. I wish other suffering women would try your wonderful medicine. Whenever I feel overworked or run-down, I get a bottle of Cardui and always feel a different woman after a few doses."

SKETCH OF FRANCOIS AUGUSTE RODIN WHO HAS OFFERED TO MAKE A STATUE OF GREYSOLON DU LHUT

Now that a Duluth Monument association has been organized and money is being raised in anticipation of accepting Francois Auguste Rodin's offer to model a statue of Greysolon Du Lhut, a few facts concerning the artist and works of that great sculptor might be interesting.

Rodin has honored Duluth by expressing the desire that his last great work shall be a statue of the explorer. Rodin speaks from common stock, born on May 12, 1840, in the Latin quarter of Paris. His father was a Norman blood and his mother was a Lorraine maid, prior to her marriage. He had but one sister, Clotilde, who died while he was a boy. Between the ages of 9 and 14 he attended school, first in Rue de L'Arbaleste, and then at his uncle's boarding school at Beaulieu. Though ambitious, he was not a bright scholar. He was a dreamer, though his early dreams were not realized. He dreamed of being a great orator some day.

At 14, his father thought it best for him to choose a profession. It was a hard task for him, but he was handy with the pencil and had a liking for architecture, so he was sent to the free drawing school, Ecole des Arts Decoratifs, where he was in classes with Alphonse Legros and Jules Dalou, the latter now dead. The former executed the famous group of the late Queen Victoria's dead children at Windsor.

Rodin worked hard and finally tried to be accepted as a student at the National School of Fine Arts, Beaux Arts. He failed three times and eventually gave up. His work, though admired by the judges, was of such a nature that another half century would have to lapse before it would be fully appreciated. It may be said that Rodin had only two teachers, Leon de Boissard, who instructed him in the free drawing school, and Barye, in whose little class he later studied.

It finally became necessary that he earn a living, and his first position was that of an assistant ornamentist. A work connected with architecture. Outside of working hours he practiced his art in a small studio. It was there he executed his first great work, "The Man with the Broken Nose," which was refused admittance to the Salon. It was the work of two years. It was such a deviation from the regular that the judges could not realize its value. It is now honored with a place in the Salon.

Rodin served as a soldier in the Franco-German war, at the conclusion of which he left his wife in Paris and set out for London to seek employment. At Brussels, he met Carrier-Belleuse, by whom he was formerly employed as an ornamentist. He was persuaded to stop at Brussels and engage in decorative work upon the Brussels Exchange, just building. He disagreed with his employer, and then went into partnership with Van Raabourgh, a Belgian. This was the part of the artist's prosperity. Money came easier, and he was soon able to give rein to his hobbies, and to take little repose. His wife, whose staunch love had helped him through many trials. In 1875, he journeyed to Italy, visiting Venice, Naples, Florence and Rome, studying Michael Angelo, and learning to esteem Donatello, by reason of his great originality. In 1877, he returned to take up his work at Paris. It was then he conceived his statue "Man of the First Ages," which was not only the first monument that had come from Rodin's hand, but unlike others of his, it was not a group of figures, but a single figure, and the sculptural groups, none are more regularly characterized.

Rodin today is in the first rank of his profession, and he makes money for himself. Such is the man who has offered to shape a monument for Duluth.

the judges, though late it was accepted, when it was proven that Rodin was not guilty of using the human body as a mold.

This statue was subsequently purchased by the state for the Luxembourg museum. In 1879, he produced St. John Baptist, which took a place in the Salon.

In 1880, he became one of the staff artists at Sevres National Porcelain factory. He was fast becoming his own master. His next work of note was the Hell Gate panels, which were inspired by long walks through the woodlands.

The most important period of Rodin's life and work was begun on his visit with his old classmate, Legros, in England. It was then his relations with Henry, Baden Powell and Robert Browning, son of the poet, started. Henry explained his work to the English art loving public, and America was not long in learning to esteem Rodin's talent.

Still Rodin was not fully appreciated in France. The government opened a competition among the sculptors for a monument which was to be a souvenir of the siege of Paris. Rodin entered the contest and wrought the "Genius of War," a statue group of two figures, that of a soldier wounded to death, and a half nude woman, howling above him, mutually resting on a pillar. It was characteristic of Rodin's principle of grouping figures nationally. It was not accepted, the jury deeming it unconventional.

But his talent could not long be disputed. His fame was reached from France to England, and from England across the Atlantic, and even to South America, where in Chile, now stands two of his statues, one of a statesman, the other of an admiral. His numerous masterpieces soon ranked him among the foremost artists of his generation.

The three greatest of his monumental statues are: "The Claude Lorraine," "The Citizens of Calais," and "The Fallen Soldier." These are not only public monuments that have come from Rodin's hand, but unlike others of his, they are not a group of figures, but a single figure, and the sculptural groups, none are more regularly characterized.

Rodin today is in the first rank of his profession, and he makes money for himself. Such is the man who has offered to shape a monument for Duluth.

IN LABOR'S REALM OWES DEBT OBSERVED AS HOLIDAY

Society Should Pay Him Organized Labor Will When Injured at Celebrate Lincoln's Birthday.

W. E. McEwen Advocates Mass Meeting to Protest Against Justice Wright's Decision.

Lincoln's birthday will be recognized as a holiday by the Duluth Federated Trades assembly. The delegates from the different locals to that body voted last night at their meeting, that the assembly should go on record in this respect, and that an open mass meeting be called for the evening of Feb. 12, Lincoln's birthday, and the assembly's regular meeting night. To this mass meeting all the locals are invited and are asked to bring their friends.

That Lincoln's birthday be observed by all Duluth organized labor was the request of George B. Howley, president of the Minnesota Federation of Labor, communicated to the delegates by State Labor Commissioner W. E. McEwen, who was requested by President Howley that Lincoln's birthday be made an occasion on which to voice labor's sentiments in regard to the recent decision of Justice Wright against Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison.

In communicating the message from Mr. Howley, McEwen said that the day was most appropriate for that purpose. Labor could not afford to let the day pass without some action. In the Sherman anti-trust law is fact, a crisis as was the case at the time of the Dred-Scott decision. Duluth union men and their friends should pack this night, on that night, the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of President Lincoln, who stood so strongly for liberty.

"Let us not remain silent, but show by our action and demonstrations how we feel about this unjust decision of the court of the Dred-Scott case. The rights of the laboring people have been trampled upon, and now is the time to put to rest whether the courts or the rights of the people are to rule."

MILLION BUSHELS TAKEN.

Canadian Pacific Makes New Record for Shipping Grain East.

Fort William, Ont., Jan. 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—A new record was made by the Canadian Pacific in the shipping of export grain from Fort William by rail.

During the nineteen days ending Wednesday night, 1,000,000 bushels of grain were taken east over the Canadian Pacific—considerably more than was ever before sent in a similar period.

D. L. May, superintendent of the Canadian Pacific elevator, said it is probable that 1,000,000 bushels more will have been shipped by Jan. 31, making 2,000,000 bushels for the month. The heavy grain movement will have been continued until spring. Mr. May states that only the ordinary light repairs will be required to put the elevators in condition to handle next year's crop.

The Canadian, one of the steamers wintering here, has been loaded with wheat, and the Bartow has been partially loaded. The big steamer Kensington, which is at elevator D, will be loaded next week, and the other boats tied up in the harbor will be loaded in the near future.

It is expected that comparatively little grain will remain in the elevators when the first steamers arrive in the spring.

SCOTSMEN WILL HONOR MEMORY OF ROBERT BURNS

ROBERT BURNS.

On Monday evening, Jan. 25, the Scotsmen of Duluth will celebrate the anniversary of Robert Burns' birthday. All over the country the Scotch population will observe the anniversary of the day on which the great Scottish bard was born. It is a day remembered in some way by all Scotsmen at home or abroad. The residents of this city are no exception. There are at least 2,000 here, and in many homes the poet's memory will be honored, though it may only be in a modest way.

The Olan Stewart has made plans for a dance this year. The usual banquet will not be held, but next Monday evening all loyal Scots will gather at the Spalding for the grand ball in the poet's honor.

Woman Suffrage.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The healthy outburst of enthusiasm for woman suffrage means much to the working women of this country in their struggle for justice. Today there are 5,000,000 women and 2,000,000 little children in the wage-earning class living away in the American mills and factories. Woman has always played an important part in history, but never before was woman so important a factor as she is in the society of today. In the uplifting of humanity she is always first in the field. Men have in her good noble work and many good men help her. But, alas, the money power, the capitalists, delight in

CURLERS ARE FAR BEHIND

Two Warm Spells and Bonspiel Set All Events Back.

Many Games Are Necessary to Decide the Squad Winners.

For this time of the year, the curlers are far behind in their games and they are praying for colder days. Last year there were but a few events and the games could be rushed off, but this year there are so many events that the curlers need all the time possible in order to get them played off.

In some of the events no games have been played as yet, in others but one or two games, while others are well advanced.

In the president's event, R. J. McLeod is the winner of Squad 1, Class A. In Squad 2, only three games have been played. In Squad 3, P. A. Currier and John Oulman are tied. In Squad 4, Hall has yet to meet Catlin. If he wins, he will lead the squad.

In the president's event, Class B and Squad 2, Dinkham is the winner. The other squads are far from being settled as in some of them no games have been played as yet. Only five games have been played in the Stanley-McLennan event and only one game has been played in the St. Louis hotel event.

If the weather permits, play in the vice president's event will be started Monday. This will be the local bonspiel and every member of the club will take part.

If the weather does not get colder soon and stay cold, curlers may not have time enough left this winter to finish up the season.

As it was, the bonspiel held at St. Paul last week took the members away from their play for a week and the present warm weather has interfered greatly with the plans which were made to rush the games off as fast as they could be played.

The blackboard was filled with games to have been played Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The curlers are disappointed and will be started Monday, if the weather permits.

Scotchmen Hold the Advantage After First Day's Play.

Glasgow, Jan. 23.—The Canadian curlers have met an enthusiastic reception here. They began playing yesterday against the Ice rink club, and at the close of the day the Scotchmen had the advantage.

When time was called for lunch the score was Ice rink, 55; Canadians, 48.

During the afternoon the play was closer and the local experts were able to obtain only a slight edge. The visitors, the score being: Ice rink, 84; Canadians, 82. The Ice rink company gave a banquet last night in honor of the Canadians, at which Sir John Stirling Maxwell presided.

GLEANS IN THE SPORTING FOE.

Let Johnson step on the tail of my colt pup and I will fight him," said Jeffries the other day while busy turning down a paltry $50,000 offer which philistine promoters were showering on him, says a San Francisco paper.

That was Jeffries as he is, and it begins to look as if a lion's tail would have more influence in getting the former brawler into the ring than the mammoth purses dangled before his vision on the two continents.

That Jeffries is an anomaly among prizefighters does not need repeating. He is as odd as they make 'em, and it is probably this that makes him the most talked of man between the two oceans.

He is now a sort of George Washington to those who admire the many art, the rank and file looking upon him as the only man in all the world to humble the dusky boxer who wrested the championship from Tommy Burns. As a rule, it doesn't take much to pull a fighter back into the ring. In fact, the hardest job is usually to keep them out, but not so with Jeffries.

At one time brawler, hunter, farmer, actor and proprietor of the longest bar in Los Angeles, Jeffries is not a spendthrift by any means and he likes the little of the life as well as the next fellow, but even at that he is not adverse to a paltry $50,000. The reason for this is that he refuses to be rushed, be it in the ring or private life.

Jeffries might call him lazy, but that does not suit the hall of fame. Jeffries is those who have been with him on his hunting trips might testify to. He will outwork and stay awake longer at a stretch than anybody else when he has to. Still, the keynote of Jeffries' life has always been "let me alone, figuring like many another man that the world owes him a living. He is, however, not very dependent on the world at large for his three square meals a day. He has accumulated quite a pile of this world's goods from the time he first acted as a punching bag for Jim Corbett. Some of his friends say that he is probably worth $200,000, and that would be quite an

Local Y. M. C. A. Basketball Team Gets Trimmed by 16 to 13 Score.

Rafters, Small Room and Box Stove Were Instrumental.

The Floodwood basketball team took the local Y. M. C. A. team into camp at their village last night by a score of 16 to 13.

It was a good game all the way through and the result of the contest was in doubt until time was up in the second half.

The Duluth men were hampered in their play on account of the size of the room. There were no additional rafters hung low and a box stove intruded upon the floor rights.

Floodwood will play a return game with Duluth soon and with the advantage of playing on their own floor the Duluth men expect to defeat the visitors by a large score.

The Floodwood people royally entertained for the Y. M. C. A. boys, and they report a fine time.

FLEET INDIAN WILL COMPETE

Tewanina, the Famous Runner, Hopes to Break a Record.

New York, Jan. 23.—In the ten-mile race at the Pastime A. C. games on Jan. 25, sport lovers in this district will have a chance to see the fleet Indian, Louis Tewanina, in what many judges declare to be his best distance, and it is freely predicted that if the Indian is forced to his limit he will create a new record for this distance.

However, from the showing made by the long-distance runners here of late, Tewanina will by no means have an easy time getting away with first place.

Elmer and Win Bailey, who finished first and second in the national ten-mile championship last year, were first in twenty years, and from past performances it looks as though these will be the ones who will defeat Tewanina.

He is to be beaten at all. Ernie Hertberg is depending upon his old war horse, Jack Daly, Tom Doherty, the national five-mile champion and recordholder, Harvey Cohn and George Schneider.

The Yonkers people think Sammy Miller and Jimmy Lee good enough to beat anything in sight and this race should be a hummer from start to finish.

The prizes all will be the most valuable that have ever been offered in a handsomely designed trophy, emblematic of distance running, made of silver and bronze, is offered for first. This trophy stands almost three feet high and is the most artistic prize ever offered for a distance race in America.

Second prize will be a handsome solid gold medal, diamond set. The third prize will be a gold medal, diamond set. Fourth and fifth prizes will be handsome silver cups.

CHICAGO CUBS A "SASSY" LOT

Harry Pulliam Takes a Fall Out of World's Champions.

New York, Jan. 23.—Harry Pulliam, as a member of the national commission, thinks that ball players are ungrateful.

The Chicago Cubs are the worst set of players for ingratitude I ever saw," said Pulliam. "They may be grateful to their president for paying them big salaries, but thus far no one ever has come out with a letter of thanks to the commission for presenting them with the emblems."

"Before the world's series in 1906 we called a meeting in Chicago to explain to the players the rules that would govern these games. The moment the meeting was in session one of the Cubs jumped up and said that the players had decided on cuff buttons as emblems to reward them for winning the series."

Another time, when the Cubs won the Chicago city championship they sent to Hermann the design for the emblem which was to be as large as a soup plate, with as many words inscribed on it as there are in the Declaration of Independence, but decided we would try to satisfy the players and give them what they wanted. Hermann did his best, with the result that the Cubs got their trophy and souvenirs but they were extremely thin. Did the commission get thanked for carrying out the 'Cubs' wishes? Not a bit of it."

Tinker Very Sensitive Youth.

"Tinker" Tinkler last season's emblem is a cheap affair, and says that he is wearing it in his top bureau drawer. When I heard Tinkler's criticism in San Francisco I wished I had an emblem and could hustle back to Chicago and tell Joe what I thought of it."

On Tinkler's account I had to spend four days and $75 in Chicago, just to testify in case in which he was being sued for debt."

NEW MARATHON CLUB FORMED

New York Promoter Will Make Bundles of Coin on Races.

New York, Jan. 23.—The craze for Marathon races in and out of doors has evidently prompted some energetic promoters who will do business in the name of the International Sports company of this city to hire Madison Square Garden for the week beginning March 7 at midnight, for a no-fash-ioned six-days go-as-you-please race.

The race will be an international affair. It is said, with representatives of America, England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Italy, Germany, France, Russia, Belgium, Brazil, Holland, Africa, Canada, Spain, Austria, Japan, China and the Philippines.

It is said that America will have three teams in the race and that there may be one from the United States army. The American teams will represent New York, Chicago and California.

Not since the new garden was opened has there been a six-days race of this kind. Long distance pedestrianism was a fad here twenty years ago, when Rowell, O'Leary, Littlewood, Hart, Noremec, Campana, Weston and others were the great men of the tanbark.

Paroli Defeated.

New Orleans, Jan. 23.—Americus of Baltimore defeated Paroli, the Italian, in a wrestling match before the Auditorium A. C. here last night.

Americus forfeited the first fall, after one hour and thirty minutes of wrestling, declaring his unfamiliarity with the Graco-Roman style, which had been previously agreed upon for the first grapple.

The second and third falls, catches, catches were won by Americus in the record time of five minutes and one minute respectively.

SEMI-PRO TEAMS BAND TOGETHER

Chicago Independents Organize League to Raise Standard of Game.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 23.—"Semi-pro" baseball in Chicago, sharing in the prosperity of the major league clubs, and having outgrown the haphazard schedules of former seasons, has been organized under the name of the Chicago Baseball club. Five of the leading local clubs are charter members, with a sixth club drawn from Milwaukee.

The plan as outlined at the "christening" of the infant league, calls for a regular schedule of championship games to be played on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, on the grounds of the six clubs composing the organization.

The charter members of the organization and their representatives follow: Anson's Colts, Adrian C. Anson; West Ends, Frank J. McNichols; Gunthers, William C. Neesen; Logan Squares, James J. Callahan; Auburn Park (Lealand Giants), J. M. Shorling; Milwaukee White Sox, J. M. Carney.

The purpose in banding together, according to the promoters, is to raise "semi-pro" ball to a higher plane.

BIG SCHEDULE FOR AMHERST

Massachusetts College Baseball Team Will Play Many Games.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 23.—The Amherst college baseball schedule for 1909 is announced, calls for twenty-eight games. It will begin with eight games in the South, during the spring vacation, with Trinity college of North Carolina, the University of North Carolina, Washington and Lee, University of Virginia, Annapolis, and the University of Pennsylvania.

Instead of four games with Williams, as in previous years, only two will be played this spring, the commencement game being eliminated for the first time in many years, owing to the late closing of college of Amherst. Wesleyan is substituted, and will finish up the season with the purple. Princeton will not come to Amherst as last year, but the University of Virginia will play the feature game at Amherst.

WILLIE HOPPE IS REAL SORE

Boy Billiardist Thinks He Has Been Frozen Out.

New York, Jan. 23.—Willie Hoppe, holder of the title to the billiard championship at 15-inch ball line, two shots in balk, is protesting vigorously against the arrangements which have been made for a game for the championship, with the Hoppe claim to the title ignored.

Hoppe declares that the challenge which he issued, and with which he posted $1,000 for a match against all comers, has been overlooked completely, because promoters of professional billiards are determined to exclude him from competition in the games they may arrange, and the reason for this, the champion declares, is that he has ended his connections with manufacturers in whose interests the proposed championship match will be played for advertising purposes.

Hoppe, in an open letter, charged that the billiard experts who will figure in the most important matches are under salary to the manufacturers, and that he is excluded because of his recent action in giving up old connections and announcing his determination to follow his own career.

Hoppe puts emphasis on his claim to the championship at 15-2 billiards, and assails the system of billiard players being under salary to the manufacturers as being the cause of ruin to the sport. Of criticism from the Chicago player, Calvin Demarest, on Hoppe and his play, the boy champion said that Demarest misrepresented the facts in his statement concerning the Hoppe-Demarest match in Chicago.

Hoppe explains that he beat Demarest 2,400 points to 1,852, playing 18.1 against Demarest's 14.2, and that the game was not, as Demarest is credited with saying, 18.2 for Demarest to 18.1 for Hoppe. Hoppe says he has tried to find the holder of the $500 which Demarest stated he had posted with a challenge in Chicago, but had not been able to get any satisfaction.

Little Bessie's Lesson.

BY HELENA DAVIS.

BESSIE loved her baby brother very, very dearly, but she did not like staying indoors to mind him when her mamma was obliged to go to market on Saturday mornings. And especially did she object to remaining with Baby Brother when a nice snow was on the ground, and Grace and Pearl Thompson were calling to her to come out and coast down the hill that was behind Grace and Pearl's house across the street.

It was really such a beautiful day, sun shining so brightly and the snow on the coasting hill as smooth as glass, and Bessie could see from an upstairs window Grace and Pearl frolicking about with their lovely coasting sled—ones that Santa Claus had brought to them on Christmas. And here was Bessie, shut up in the house with Baby Brother; and here she must remain till Mamma came.

After the maid had finished tidying the room, Bessie went to where Baby Brother was sitting on a big fur rug on the floor and said to him: "You naughty boy! Why don't you go to sleep?" But Baby Brother only laughed and crowded and kicked his funny fat heels, catching Bessie's long hair with his dear little hands. Bessie dodged the tiny fingers and frowned. "Ah, why don't you go to sleep, you bad boy?" she went on. Then the naughty girl took hold of Baby Brother and pushed him over on the rug, holding him down and saying: "Now, you shan't get up again. You must go to sleep, so you must."

Bessie shook her head. Tears came into her eyes, for she hated to miss any of the fun that was being had across the street. "I don't know what good a baby is anyway," she pouted, drawing down the window and seating herself on a chair where she might look without. "A baby isn't fit for anything but trouble," she went on. "Now, Grace and Pearl's folks haven't a baby, so they can go out and play whenever they want to, even if their mamma is away from the house."

"What's that, Miss Bessie?" asked the housemaid, entering the room with broom and dustpan. "What's that about babies, dearie?"

"There's no use," declared Bessie, pouting. "I don't see why I had to have a baby brother when Pearl and Grace haven't one. They can go out and play whenever they want to, and never have to mind a baby."

"Well, I think you a very naughty girl," said the housemaid, smiling on the little brother, who was cooling and laughing in the happiest of moods. "Why, I should think a little girl would be most happy to have such a dear baby for a brother as that darling." And the maid stopped her work to play for a moment with her dear good-natured Baby Brother.

A THEATER FOR THE BOYS AND GIRLS.

How to Build One in a Barn.

THERE are times when every boy and girl wants to "act." There are boys and girls who write clever plays, both emotional and humorous, and there should be some way in which these plays might be put upon the stage by those who write them. But in the modern home there is never space for a temporary stage, and the boys and girls have to resort to putting on their plays in some barn, where there is neither comfort nor convenience.

But a barn may make a pretty good theater, if prepared for such. And even good proportions may be utilized for such purpose to good advantage. If a barn is to be had, the first thing in order is to make it comfortable for the audience. Scatter straw over the floor so that the people's feet may keep warm. If old strips of carpet and rugs can be got they will add greatly to the warmth of the floor if spread over the straw in front of the stage. The small folding chairs that are to be rented so reasonably afford good seating and can be removed after the entertainment.

Next the lighting must be considered, for with straw about on the floor so plentifully the possibility of fire must be carefully avoided. Lanterns are excellent for the barn theater. They should be hung about the side walls and placed in front of the stage as footlights. Open lamps or candles should never be used in the temporary barn theater.

And now comes the erection of the stage. It should be built of the smoothest boards to be found in the lumber pile. Erect it about two feet above the level of the floor. Make it about 12 feet long (if space permits) and 8 or 10 feet deep. A piece of scenery should form the back of the stage, while "wings" should be placed at the sides to hide the exits which lead to the dressing-rooms. The scenery may be made by pasting sheets of old newspapers together and stretching them over wooden frames. After several layers of the papers have been pasted together and have become dry the boys and girls who have artistic ability may paint the scenery upon them. A woodland scene is always good, or a garden with hills and houses in the distance will add to the stage effect. The "wings" may represent tall trees with flowers and rocks at their base. And, of course, there must be an interior setting. For that plain walls may be covered by sheets hung smoothly to form fluted plastering, with the suggestion of a window here and there, made by draping window curtains on the wall. If pictures are desired, they may be made of paste-board and planned to the cloth-draped walls. A large sheet of pasteboard will answer admirably for a painting. A four-inch border is marked off all round, and either gilded or painted with some dark color to resemble wood. The space inside the border is painted to represent an outdoor scene, watercolor, with plenty of heavy white dashes, should be used. Old drop curtain may be made of any cloth available, preferably figured and light-colored stuff. The dressing-rooms and stage may be warmed by a coal oil stove, if there is some grown-up to watch it for under no circumstances should children be allowed to handle lights or fire without some older hand in charge.

If the little company producing the play desires to make money through their theatrical efforts a small admission fee might be charged at the door, say five cents for adults and two cents for children. With these funds the stage equipments and the rented chairs could easily be paid for. Or, in the case of the parents donating the stage accessories and the admission money might be used towards some charity or a child's public library.

LESSON NO. 44—THE TEDDY BEAR AND THE BUNNY.

to learn the time she was surprised to see the hands pointing to 11. "Almost time for mamma," she said to herself. "I guess I'd better run upstairs and see about my bedtime. I guess Mamma put him to sleep, for I heard her come downstairs long ago, and now she's in the parlor putting things to rights."

Bessie ran upstairs to see how Baby Brother was doing, but to her surprise no baby was there. She looked all about the room, on her mother's bed, in the crib, the big sofa, but no baby was to be found. "I guess Mamma must have taken him to papa's room," said Bessie, running into papa's room which adjoined. But no baby was there, either, and Bessie next went to her own room. "Where can Baby Brother be?" she asked herself, getting a bit uneasy. "I hope Mamma hasn't put him somewhere where he'll catch cold," she thought.

Then she hurried downstairs to the parlor where Mamma was busy dusting the furniture. "Where's Baby Brother?"

"Now, you shan't get up again."

She raised the window and called out to Grace and Pearl. These little maids passed in their play to answer her. "Oh, Bessie, it's just grand on the hill this morning," cried Pearl. "Yes; can't you put Baby to sleep and come out for a while?" called Grace.

Bessie shook her head. Tears came into her eyes, for she hated to miss any of the fun that was being had across the street. ## SMITHY AND THE BLIZZARD.—A STORY OF THE WESTERN PLAINS. By Maud Walker.

THERE is a section of country in the far West called The Plains. And on The Plains dwell people called "ranchers," men whose occupation is the raising of cattle and sheep, and whose families reside there in the vast cattle region with them, far from city or town. Sometimes a "rancher" will own many thousands of acres of land, and he and his family are the only residents to be found on this great tract of land which is called the ranch. Thus are these people isolated from their friends, sometimes being 10 or 15 miles distant from the nearest neighbor.

On one of these isolated ranches in the far West dwelt a family by the name of Smith. Their ranch was in the heart of a hilly barren part of The Plains, and for miles about the ranch were the grazing lands. Excepting their own ranch house there was not another habitation to be seen in either direction, for the nearest neighbor was 10 miles distant, and the little town where the Smiths went to "trade" was still farther away.

The Smith family consisted of but three persons. There were Papa Smith, Mamma Smith and Edgar Smith, the 14-year-old son, and commonly called Smithy by the ranchers and cowboys of the county in which he lived. And Smithy was a very industrious boy, assisting his father in the business of raising cattle. As this story deals with the time when the ranchers were obliged to fence their tracts of grazing lands, thus confining their herds within their own domain, it was necessary to employ herders, or "cow-boys" as the men and boys who watched the cattle were called. And Smithy, the subject of this story, acted in the capacity of cowboy on his father's ranch.

Usually Smithy went into town during the school year to attend the fall and winter terms of school, serving as cowboy in the summer. But during the winter of which I write he remained at home, owing to his mother's ill health, and continuing to perform his duties as that of herder.

Having been born and reared on The Plains, and having become a cowboy, Smithy could endure the hardships of exposure to storm and blizzard without any keener enjoyment than to breast a "norther" for half a dozen miles, and then to ride his little foot-footed broncho, and stroke over the hills at a brisk gallop.

As he was hurrying along, tall pole caught his eye. It seemed to grow from the sharp decline of a hill that stood out on the very summit of a long gently sloping hill. "Ah, the fort," mused Smithy. "I'd forgotten all about it—it was built so long ago." Then Smithy turned his steps toward the pole which bent in the brisk wind. After a few minutes he reached the mound, or hillock, from which the pole reared itself. And there, just at the point where the pole was planted was a deep, dark hole. Smithy stooped down and peered within it. "Ah, my dug-out fort is still in pretty good condition," he declared. "The roof is as firm as when we tunneled into this mound. And the walls are solid, too. Gee, it's been two years next summer since Dan Wilson and I dug this fort! We did it for the fun of digging. And then we set up this pole, which Dan brought on his shoulder from Pa's woodpile, and which we declared should wave a flag on every Fourth of July and every Decoration Day. Well, the flag did wave last Fourth, and also on last Decoration Day. And although Dan has gone to live in a distant state, I shall still raise our flag on those great days." And Smithy, overcome by the emotion of the remembrance, crawled into the fort to look around. The interior was about four feet deep, five feet long by four feet wide. And when the boys had dug it they had and that in case of a cyclone they might find it a place of safety. As it was tunneled into the southern base of the mound the interior was protected from rain, and, therefore, had remained in a pretty good condition. In fact, this little nabe-hole was just as Dan Wilson and Dan's wife had built it, and Dan's wife was a miniature "dug-out" on the plan of the houses built or dug, rather—by the "settlers" who first came to live in that barren land.

"Well, it's not so bad in here," said Smithy to himself. "In a pinch a fellow might find refuge from a blizzard or a hailstorm. It's a pretty good little fort, after all, and how snug it is, too. Feels as warm as a sure-enough house. But I must be off."

But as Smithy came from the fort he turned his eyes toward the north, slowly whistling. "Where, I smell a drop in the temperature," he declared. "And as sure as I'm a lone cowboy, there's a blizzard heading this way. Gee! look at that hazy horizon! It's not far off. I must be footing it, and lively, too."

So musing, Smithy buttoned his short overcoat tightly about him and strode off down the hillside.

He walked on for two miles, whistling, and keeping his eyes open for the cattle that had wandered off that direction. "Ah, there's a small bunch of 'em, Smithy, slighting at the edge of a hill a number of cows. 'I'll go after those that are further on and run these in with 'em on the way back."

One January day Smithy went out over the hills to "round up" his herd. The morning was bright, though cold, and the thermometer registered zero. But zero weather in that dry climate was less severe than 10 above zero is in a moist climate. Smithy preferred walking to riding his little foot-footed broncho, and strode over the hills at a brisk gallop.

Smithy stooped down and peered within it. "Ah, my dug-out fort is still in pretty good condition," he declared. "The roof is as firm as when we tunneled into this mound. And the walls are solid, too. Gee, it's been two years next summer since Dan Wilson and I dug this fort! We did it for the fun of digging. And then we set up this pole, which Dan brought on his shoulder from Pa's woodpile, and which we declared should wave a flag on every Fourth of July and every Decoration Day. Well, the flag did wave last Fourth, and also on last Decoration Day. And although Dan has gone to live in a distant state, I shall still raise our flag on those great days." And Smithy, overcome by the emotion of the remembrance, crawled into the fort to look around. The interior was about four feet deep, five feet long by four feet wide. And when the boys had dug it they had and that in case of a cyclone they might find it a place of safety. As it was tunneled into the southern base of the mound the interior was protected from rain, and, therefore, had remained in a pretty good condition. In fact, this little nabe-hole was just as Dan Wilson and Dan's wife had built it, and Dan's wife was a miniature "dug-out" on the plan of the houses built or dug, rather—by the "settlers" who first came to live in that barren land.

"Well, it's not so bad in here," said Smithy to himself. "In a pinch a fellow might find refuge from a blizzard or a hailstorm. It's a pretty good little fort, after all, and how snug it is, too. Feels as warm as a sure-enough house. But I must be off."

But as Smithy came from the fort he turned his eyes toward the north, slowly whistling. "Where, I smell a drop in the temperature," he declared. "And as sure as I'm a lone cowboy, there's a blizzard heading this way. Gee! look at that hazy horizon! It's not far off. I must be footing it, and lively, too."

So musing, Smithy buttoned his short overcoat tightly about him and strode off down the hillside.

He walked on for two miles, whistling, and keeping his eyes open for the cattle that had wandered off that direction. "Ah, there's a small bunch of 'em, Smithy, slighting at the edge of a hill a number of cows. 'I'll go after those that are further on and run these in with 'em on the way back."

One January day Smithy went out over the hills to "round up" his herd. The morning was bright, though cold, and the thermometer registered zero. But zero weather in that dry climate was less severe than 10 above zero is in a moist climate. Smithy preferred walking to riding his little foot-footed broncho, and strode over the hills at a brisk gallop.

As he was hurrying along, tall pole caught his eye. It seemed to grow from the sharp decline of a hill that stood out on the very summit of a long gently sloping hill. "Ah, the fort," mused Smithy. "I'd forgotten all about it—it was built so long ago." Then Smithy turned his steps toward the pole which bent in the brisk wind. After a few minutes he reached the mound, or hillock, from which the pole reared itself. And there, just at the point where the pole was planted was a deep, dark hole. Smithy stooped down and peered within it. "Ah, my dug-out fort is still in pretty good condition," he declared. "The roof is as firm as when we tunneled into this mound. And the walls are solid, too. Gee, it's been two years next summer since Dan Wilson and I dug this fort! We did it for the fun of digging. ## Winter Sport.

Coasting down the hillside
Are little Bill and Joe,
Going like "greased lightning"
O'er the glistening snow.

And other boys who hear them
Come forth with merry shout,
And swell the crowd of coasters
Till the whole town is turned out.

And there they go so gaily
By moon's most glorious light,
And each dear happy youngster Wishes he might coast all night.

cried Bessie. "What does it matter to you?" asked the maid, not looking up from her work, and beginning to hum a tune. Then she said slowly: "Where is Baby Brother? Well, I wonder. Isn't he in your mamma's room asleep?"

"No," declared Bessie, her uneasiness growing. "And neither is he in papa's room, nor in mine. I've looked everywhere for him."

"Well, well," said Mamma, beginning to wipe the dust from a mirror, "I wonder if some witch overheard you say you did not want Baby Brother and carried him away while we were out of the room? I have heard of such things."

"Oh-o!" And Bessie's heart stood still. "Oh, Mamma, a witch wouldn't do a thing like that!" she cried, her voice trembling. "Oh, I couldn't bear to lose darling Baby Brother. Oh, oh, come, help me to hunt for him! Oh, what if something dreadful has—"

Bessie's tears choked her speech, and she ran to Mamma and caught hold of her arms, looking into her face pleadingly. When the lump in her throat allowed of speech she said: "Oh, Mamma, do you think my naughtiness caused a witch to come and carry off Baby Brother?"

"Why not?" asked the maid, freeing her arm from Bessie's hands. "But if Baby Brother is gone, you'll be happy, won't you? You were saying this morning that a baby is only fit to make trouble, or something like that. And you wish you were free to go and play with the snow like Pearl and Grace, and that you had no brother to hold you in the house. So, if a good old witch has removed Baby Brother from your home you'll have no care. You can go this minute, if you wish, and play with Grace and Pearl. There seems to be no Baby Brother in the house to hold you now."

"Oh, oh, oh, if my darling brother has been carried away," wept Bessie heartbrokenly. "I shall die. I know I shall! Oh, I do love him so! He was so dear, he was so cute, he was the prettiest baby in all the world!" And Bessie threw herself on the sofa and wept bitterly. "Oh, I want my darling Baby Brother," she moaned.

Then she hurried downstairs to the parlor where Mamma was busy dusting the furniture. "Where's Baby Brother?"

"Oh, yes, I did want him, the little dear," wailed Bessie. "I was just naughty, and said things I didn't mean. I was so naughty I should have been punished for it."

"Well, and so you are being punished," said Mamma. "I guess the old witch—or whoever it was that carried away Baby Brother—is punishing you now. Anyway, you have found out just how much you really loved Baby Brother, now that he has been taken away from you."

"But isn't there any way for me to let the old witch know that I am sorry for what I said about my darling brother?" asked Bessie, wiping a stream of tears from her now puffed cheeks. "I am so sorry, so sorry, and she ought to know it and fetch back Baby Brother."

"But were she to do so," said Mamma, "you'd forget about your love for Baby Brother next Saturday morning when your mamma goes to market and leaves him in your care. And you'd want to make the little dear go to sleep just so you could get away from him."

"Oh, no, I wouldn't," vociferated Bessie. "If only I could get my Baby Brother back again nothing could make me want to leave him while mamma was away from him. Oh, I do want him so!"

"Well, I'll see if there's any possibility of finding him," said Mamma. "Come with me. But after you've got him this time, if you ever do anything to lose him again you'll probably not get him back so easily. Come."

Bessie followed Mamma into the library, and there, sleeping like a dear little lamb lay Baby Brother on the fur rug in front of the grate. And beside him slept his big rubber doll.

"Oh, my darling Baby Brother," cried delighted Bessie. And in another instant she had the little fellow in her arms, kissing him awake. "Oh, and so the old witch was you, Mamma! Bessie declared, turning to the maid. "Well, I forgive you for punishing me so, for you taught me to lesson I shall never forget, never. And I'm the happiest little girl in the world, for I have my Baby Brother safe with me once more. Ah, there's mamma coming in through the gate. I must tell her how naughty I was, and how a very strange old witch taught me to lesson."

And with chubby Baby Brother in her arms Bessie ran to meet her mother, and to tell her of her morning's experience and lesson.

Nursery Song.

A dear little squirrel sat on a limb,
Heigh-ho, high-ho!
A hunter pointed a gun at him,
Heigh-ho, high-ho.

But Squirrel saw the gun and stole,
Heigh-ho, high-ho;
Back to the tree and crept in a hole,
Heigh-ho, high-ho.

"I have a little dug-out a few paces from here and I'll lead you to it!"

Then another mile was covered, making in all about five miles which lay between him and his home. "Ah, guess I'll have to be turning towards home before long," mused Smithy. "The wind was coming in a freezing blast, carrying with it sleet that cut the face like finely-cut glass. 'Gee, I guess the blizzard of the season is coming!'"

But some cattle sheltering under the bow of a hill a mile further on caused Smithy to pursue his way, for he wanted to drive the herd back to the shelter of some know-nothing that were built close to a watering pool, and also within reach of the ranch house.

But the blizzard came on very fairly on snow coming instead of the sleet, and filling the air till Smithy could not see 20 rods ahead of him. "Guess I'll have to let the cattle stay where they are," he declared, turning his face homeward.

stopped and bent his ear to listen. Yes, it was a human voice, and it cried, "Lost! Lost! He!-lo! He!-lo! Lost!"

"He!-lo!" called out Smithy. "He!-lo! Stay where you are! I'll find you!" And the answer came back. "He!-lo! I'm perished—lost. Help!"

Smithy hurried in the direction of the crying voice, and within a few minutes saw looming through the vast of drifting wind-bent snow a dark form which upon nearer approach proved to be a man. He was standing with his back to the storm, apparently too much exhausted to move.

"Where did you come from?" asked Smithy, addressing the man, whom he knew to be a stranger

Luxurious Negligees planned for EASTER TROUSSEAUX

A Boudoir Gown of Rose Silk with Lace

Real Jap Kimono and Obi

Paris, the Negligee Wizard - Matching the Boudoir Furnishings With the Boudoir Gown-The Friendly Kimono a Satisfactory Standby.

Alas that only the pretty woman is charming in a negligee! The boudoir gown is essentially a revealing garment, and its revelations are apt to be unpromising for the unfortunate one who is not endowed with at least passable freshness and fairness.

Half of the charm of a negligee lies in its suggestion of informality; in the loose sleeves that slip up to show a rounded arm; in the unstuffed folds that must owe their grace to the perfection of the uncorseted figure; in the careless neck which is trying to say but a white and round throat. In negligee, the pretty woman is at her prettiest; in a Paris built negligee, all sorts of lacy cascades, and aglets with rosy silk shimmering through cobwebby fabric, she is fairly ravishing; and every well she knows it as a rule.

But such an artful wizard in Paris-mother of all these intimate luxuries of the feminine wardrobe, that even the poor, plain woman's negligees are calculated, like her gowns, to bring out only her very best points.

The Negligee Must Make a Picture.
The up-to-date boudoir gowns, lifted from their perfumed Paris boxes, are as different from the maternal mother Hubbard and familiar and frank kimono, as day is from night. In fact, the modish negligee admits of no slavish following of any preconceived model. It is built by an artist to make a picture of its wearer when she is seated in the boudoir, and every detail—even to its blending with the boudoir window hangings—is carefully considered.

No more need one's bosom friends who take unfair advantage of a temporary indisposition to bend one in one's boudoir, hope to discover by the revelations of negligee all one's innocent little beauty trifles. Nowadays one may receive in languid becomingness, wrapped in an entrancing affair of silk and lace, with long shirred sleeves and a high collar, a throat which effectively baffles the boring eye searching for telltale age marks on one's throat.

And as for the determined friend who hopes, in finding one in delicate, to make certain about the authenticity of those puffs and other treasures, she, too, will withdraw unharmed, for the minute the front doorbell rings, out of the dresser drawer may be lifted a ravishing "morning cap" of lace and needwork, and by the time the guest has ascended to the room the becoming trifle, with its ribbon bows, is poised over the temporarily demoralized cranial.

One May Pay Three Prices for a Dressing Gown.

The negligee need not be extravagantly priced unless one wishes. In the shops one may spend from $1.25 to $100 for a pretty little "convalescent" gown of dainty color; and at all prices between there are adorable affairs in which one might get well quite as becomingly. The chief consideration is that the fabric be of the softest character and the color of a delicate shade which will harmonize with the decorations of the room in which the negligee will be worn.

The negligees being made up now for Easter brides are, of course, on summery lines and of the slightest fabric, but with our sleeping apartments kept at a tropical temperature all winter long, the difference in cold winter and summer negligees is rather a matter of custom than weight of material. Fine-honored habits apportions soft silk and flannel to the season when one dwells indoors, in a steam-heated temperature of 70 or 80 degrees, while flimsy lawn and embroidery take their turn when open windows and mountain or seashore mists often drive the mercury well under 60.

The wise little Easter bride will provide not only lovely, lacy things of cobwebby stuffs, but also some comfortably warm negligees of cozy damask or wool albatross, and a breakfast sack or two of something warmer than transparent dotted Swiss.

The Kimono Question.

The ideal silk for a comfortable little morning sacque, or for a gorgeous kimono, is the wide oriental silk which is usually sold in the art needlework, or even the curtain departments of the stores. The deep colorings of these silks and the bold, conventional and flower patterns, are just barbaric enough to give the loose kimono a richly oriental and Japanese effect. A kimono of such silk should be made most simply with straight breasted shirred closely at the shoulder seams and across the back, and unshaped sleeves made of straight widths of the silk sewed at one edge into the slit opening left at the top of the side seams. Such a kimono may be bound along the front edges and around the neck with plain colored silk or ribbon to match the prominent motifs in the pattern.

Very dainty kimonos made in this way can be fashioned of Japanese crepe or the soft American cotton crepe which is very inexpensive and comes in gay butterfly, fan and other Japanese patterns. Plain colored crepe kimonos may be made very dainty with borders of dowered pompadour ribbon. One dark-haired bride has fashioned for herself an exquisite kimono of pale buff crepe, on which she has embroidered fluttering butterflies in gold-yellow and brown silks. This negligee has a satin ribbon border to match and a pale-yellow crepe de chine sash, or "obi," to tie around the waist. The dainty garment cost this clever little bride-to-be considerably under $5, and has all the appearance of being an imported Japanese kimono at 10 times that price.

A Bona Fide Jap Kimono.

Your true Japanese woman never appears outside of her private apartments with her kimono ungraced by its confining obi. This obi, or sash, is a broad strip of silk, which encircles the figure and is tied high in the back with the big bow, like a spread butterfly, pinned to the kimono over the shoulder blades. The kimono shown in the photograph has straight front Nippon hand and is of palest lilac crepe printed in a delicate wistaria pattern, a shade darker than the fabric. Over the garment are scattered embroidered storks, done by hand with black and white silk. The obi is plain lilac crepe with a deep fringe to match.

A pale blue kimono was embroidered with pink cherry blossoms and had a lining of sheer Japanese silk. A gorgeous black satin affair had hand-wrought clusters of splendid purple wistaria.

Every Peignoir Has Its Petticoat.

In the kimono class of intimate "room" garments comes the little matinee sacque which one dons while one's maid does one's hair—and reads one's morning mail over one's shoulder. Into such a bewitching little sacque the Easter bride will slip when interrupted at her toilet by one of her girl friends, who drops in for a 10-minute gossip before dinner. The up-to-date dressing sacque of this sort always has its accompanying petticoat, which increases its charm tenfold. Even loose peignoirs have their accompanying petticoats, fluffy with lace frills and threaded with ribbon to match the color of the negligee. As for the sacque and petticoat, the two garments are almost as easily donned as a kimono, and the effect is vastly more attractive.

Any amount of elaboration may be placed on this frivolous combination negligee—the more lace flounces, hand embroideries, pin tucks and inset medallions the better. The sacque and petticoat illustrated are of tulle silk, but for Easter trousseaux these combination negligees are being made up of hand-embroidered batistes, dotted swisses, honey-combed with val lace, and fine needlework doucings.

Embroidery Is Always Fresh and Dainty.

Far more enduring than laces set into fragile fabrics are the lovely machine embroidery doucings and handwork, which are, fortunately, in high favor just now. Unlike lace, this fine needlework is even more beautiful after a careful laundering and the embroidery trimmed negligee will outlast several affairs fashioned with lace.

The embroidery morning gown shown is a delightful garment which is decidedly above the peignoir or bedroom class, and is quite permissible for breakfast wear. The arrangement of the doubling over the arm is particularly graceful, one strip of the embroidery, edged with a frill of narrow lace, falling over a second strip which forms the sleeve and which is finished with a wider frill of the lace. The breakfast gown must be belted in at the waist, and should never suggest the careless informality of a lounging garment.

Every Housekeeper Should Have Dainty Working Frocks.

The little gown, which may be quite easily and quickly donned, is a necessity to the busy woman who has no time to spare on adjusting the buttons, strings, collar and belt of a trim shirtwaist. The convenience of the all-in-one morning gown has established the wrapper habit, but if a little thought is exercised, quite as convenient a garment may be evolved as the unsightly wrapper and one far more pleasing to masculine eyes.

Delightful morning gowns of dainty, or even of the 10-cent figured lawn, may be made up with full skirt and waist in one, the neck cut out in a cool Dutch square, and skirt and waist joined by a strip of embroidery banding, through which may be passed a ribbon to match the printed pattern on the material. The skirt of such a morning gown may have merely a hem with tucks above, or a knee-depth flounce. Easy handkerchief is, of course, the main consideration, for the morning dress must be fresh as the morning itself and suggest to the beholder utmost daintiness.

One little bride who expects to enjoy taking care of her brand new home with the assistance of a maid is having made up for morning wear frocks of light-colored cotton chambray, which will be worn under fascinating pinafores of checked dimity. These morning dresses have tucked skirts attached to easily fitting, pleated waists, with long sleeves made with buttoned cuffs. The neck is finished with a round turnover collar of white linen worked in colored dots to match the chambray, the collar being sewed into the waist just as a small boy's collar is attached to his Russian blouse. The little bride's turnover collar, however, open a wee bit lower than the small boy's and, besides showing a V of white throat, they will be most comfortable for wear during busy working hours.

Every Trousseau Must Have a Teguown.

The young girl who very likely has never worn a train until she puts on her wedding gown, reveals in the thought of sweeping after her and complete her new-made dignity. The teguown is the bride's own privilege, for unmarried girls seldom wear these trailing robes, so the teguown will be sure to be an important part of every little bride's dreams about it. It will be an absolutely frivolous garment and the one lavish extravagance of an otherwise practical trousseau.

Crepe de chine will be its material—or the softest messaline silk and, perhaps, over this silk will be hung a drop of chiffon, held under the bust by a crushed girde of the silk. There will be yards of lovely lace, though better to lace at all than a sort that is coarse or tawdry, and there will be no ribbon whatever, for a teguown is distinctly not a bonnet negligee, and must never suggest such a garment.

Some of the new teguowns have long shirred sleeves of net or chiffon, which cover clear to the wrists like the sleeves of a formal gown; but when this is the case there are always loose oversleeves to give the flowing, uncorseted lines essential in such a garment. A teguown of pale blue satin, worn in a play now on the boards in Paris, has long sleeves of tucked chiffon, and fastened to the shoulder are loops of the chiffon, which hang over the arm almost to the floor.

The teguown may or may not be open at the throat, but it must never be decorative in effect. The prettiest arrangement is a shallow V, made by crossing, surplice fronts. The smart surface effects of the present mode have the crossing very low on the bust, and a straight band of lace or embroidery underneath shows in triangular vest effect. With a teguown made in this fashion a sheer yoke and high-neck stock may be worn by the woman who has not a pretty enough throat to risk the open-neck effect.

The Ten Cent Is the Latest Fad.

This year the teguown has had a rival in the gay little ten-cent, which may be slipped on over the trailing skirt of any light-colored frock, or have its own skirt built to match in fabric and color.

The very smartest ten-cent is of all-over lace, though some very pretty models are made of alternating stripes of wide lace insertion and ribbon. One exquisite coat was formed entirely of Irish lace insertions joined by entre deux de French Val. The ten-cent in the picture is of all-over embroidered net edged with a border of point d'esprit lace, to which, in turn, is attached a frill of the same lace. The coat slopes in rounded, awayward, from the high girde to knee depth at the back, and the girde, which is really a band of ribbon passed under lace insertion, slopes upward to two ribbon rosettes high at the back.

The ten-cent is never made of silk, or, rather, if silk is used as a foundation material, it is so honeycombed with lace that it is not a lace coat. Under this transparent coat is a little bodice of soft net or chiffon, most simply fashioned, and the coat itself is usually lined with chiffon, silk mousseline or some such soft and sheer material.

A LEATHER NECKTIE NOW.

Shown four-in-hand ties are narrow exclusive shops, made of softest suede, in many colors, such as brown, smoke, Dutch blue, olive, wine color and the like. The tie is lined with satin and is surprisingly trim and neat when worn with a linen collar. To match the leather ties there are natty belts with gilt buckles, and dainty side bags lined with silk and provided with metal frames and snap catches.

NEW FRENCH LINGERIE AIMS TO PRODUCE SLENDERNESS

This Paris made Petticoat a Dream of Daintiness

IF ONE is not as slim as a wand the fault cannot be blamed on one's lingerie. The whole progress of undergarment development during the last decade might be epitomized as "the elimination of the girth." Not so much as a quarter-inch lap of fabric anywhere is allowed to make a fraction of increased girth possible; and as for shir-strings, they are as out of date as bustles. The winter lingerie of the fashionable dame has consisted of three articles—a silk combination garment, a corset and a pair of woven silk knickers, petticoats as we all know, having been temporarily laid on the shelf, and no corset cover being permitted by the military person who fits our frocks under the present regime.

As the summer season approaches, however, with sheer fabrics again to the fore, and peekaboo frocks and blouse as regle once more, the corset cover as well as the petticoat is bound to return to its own.

The combination lingerie garments which made their first appearance from Paris a twelve month or so ago, have taken feminine America by storm. So great has become the demand for these well-fitting, comfortable garments that all the January "white sales" offer corset cover and drawer, or corset cover and petticoat combinations for little more than a dollar. Very dainty combination undergarments are made of cross-hatched, simply trimmed around neck and arm holes with a narrow edge of lace and a ribbon-run embroidery banding, a wider banding, also run with ribbon, joining the upper and nether garments.

Embroidery banding though more troublesome to set in than the lace sort, and somewhat more expensive in first cost, is always much more satisfactory in the end, for the flimsy lace banding is usually the first part of the chemise or corset cover to give way, and special strain always comes on this part of the garment.

Though the petticoat for the nonce has been discarded, summery cotton frocks will soon recall it to renewed popularity. Indeed, many of the clinging satin skirts of the winter, when lifted, revealed dainty white petticoats with lace flounces. These petticoats were invariably of the softest materials—like mull or sheer batiste, and the usual underprop was omitted entirely, a single delicate flounce of lace falling between the silk stockings and the trailing gown.

The finer grades of machine-made embroidery doucings make exquisitely dainty petticoats, and are infinitely more satisfactory in wear than lace models. Besides, the lace trimmed skirt, in order to preserve its airy sheerness and softness, must be dry cleaned—always rather an expensive process—while the embroidered petticoat may be made fresh and dainty by the economical method of soap and water.

These fine embroideries in sherry, open-work effects on sheer material, are seen on some of the best Parisian petticoats, and the drop beneath the flounce is always of material quite as sheer and fine, edged with a three-inch frill of simpler embroidery in a matching pattern. It is not necessary to buy a very wide flouncing for such petticoats. The model illustrated shows how the narrow banding may be attached under one of a group of tucks, to a strip of sheer lawn, the deep flounce thus formed reaching quite to the knees where a ribbon-run banding forms a pretty finish.

The elaborate lace petticoat, designed for wear beneath an Easter wedding gown of white satin, shows alternating strips of hand-embroidered handkerchief lace, and very fine French Valenciennes lace. The embroidery of such strips in the simple yet beautiful design shown, would make charming piano needlework for next summer, and when finished the embroidered strips should be attached to the lace with a "rolled and whipped" edge. The flounce that forms the bottom is first gathered to a narrow extra dux or seam, the upper edge of this seam being rolled and whipped to the lace. All French hand-made lingerie shows this dainty method of applying gathered fabric to lace.

The newest of the hip eliminating devices that are now flooding the market is a corset which comes to the knees, but this new corset is really not as startling as one might suppose. The excessive length is only in the soft fabric, the six bones which form the only stiffening, stopping a few inches below the waistline. The fabric extends downward, completely covering the hips and thighs and eight short garters, four on a side, hold the garment fast to the stockings. Death on silk bonnet, as well as on hips, is this new knee-length corset; but once laced and strapped into this supple armor, the figure feels really more free and comfortable than in the ordinary stiff bonnet corset.

Rubber corsets are also shown for the promotion of slenderness. Rubber garments are supposed to prevent the formation of adipose tissue, and the rubber corset, donned over the sheerest silk vest or chemise, really does reduce the waist and hip measurement. But the rubber corset is not comfortable; it promotes profuse perspiration, which is not absorbed by the corset material, and after several hours in a rubber corset, the ardent disciple of slenderness feels a bit like a stiff neck encased in a cold compress.

The rubber corset, moreover is anything but beautiful, for the rubber is of the ugly brown sort which the dentist ties over an afflicted tooth before the filling. In a smart little corset shop just off Fifth avenue, a pair of these rubber corsets were displayed, nattily embellished with brown silk lacing and brown ribbon garters with gold gold trimmings. Most women, however, passed this interesting corset by for an entrancing affair of pink silk covered with eyelet embroidery—the very latest French idea in corset daintiness.

Nainsook, now, is considered almost too bulky for the "new figure" lingerie. Mull is the thing, or sheerest batiste, for the chemise which is worn under the corset—unless indeed one may afford the delicate luxury of the embroidered Italian silk vests which come in lovely pink and blue shades, and are soft as wisps of moss. The woman who has to consider expense will choose for her chemise thin Japanese silk, much in vogue now for fine lingerie. This chemise will be fitted to the figure with daintily felled seams and will be most simply trimmed with an edge and banding of lace at the top. To it may be attached the full drawer, pleated to a shallow yoke. Or corset cover and drawer of nainsook may be worn over the corset and only the little sliver, chemise underneath. The best slender effect can be achieved, however, by wearing the drawer—attached to the chemise—beneath the corset.

ECCLAS CAKES.

Make a good puff paste in the ordinary way. Roll into a sheet about one-eighth of an inch thick, and cut the sheets into discs about three and one-half inches in diameter with a plain cutter. Roll the discs out thin, lay them on a board, damp them over with water, and then thinly cover with butter. Mix a little with a little chopped peel and sugar; gather up the edges and press flat with the palm of the hand. It should be a round cake. Roll it slightly with your rolling pin, keeping it as round as possible. Notch the cakes with a blue knife, with powdered sugar, and bake in a moderate oven.

From European Who Have Risen From the Ranks

By JOHN S. HARWOOD

EUROPE is regarded by some Americans as too steep a ladder for the man of humble origin. Its social structure is thought to be piled so high—composed of so many strata of birth, privilege, prejudice and tradition—that he who has only his own self to aid him cannot reach the top.

Yet despite these supposedly insuperable barriers to lowly ambition, many of the men who are making European history today arose from the ranks. Not only do various political states furnish illustrious examples, but the Roman Catholic church, most monarchical of all in many respects, exemplifies this same democratic truth. The father of the pope was a postman.

France's president, as well as her only living ex-president, were peasant born. Clement Armand Fallieres, who, as chief executive of the republic, has greatly strengthened his political position by diplomatic alliances with England and Russia, is the grandson of a blacksmith. Emile Loubet, the first president of France to serve out his full term, was a farmer. He was even when president, found his chief recreation from the affairs of state in caring for the poultry, milking the cows and mixing bread at the rural home of his mother.

When a boy the present chief executive of France was regarded as a failure. The elder Fallieres considered himself as somewhat of a social advance over the preceding generation, having risen from the blacksmith shop of his father to the profession of a surveyor, and at one time holding the office of secretary to a justice of the peace at Meaux, (France). He at first believed his son would not amount to as much as the horseshoeing grandfather.

It was his father's desire that Armand should enter politics by way of the law. He became disheartened enough when the teachers of every school to which he sent the lad reported that their pupil could not learn much because he was too lazy. In 1873, however, at the age of 18, young Fallieres took his degree of bachelor of letters at Angoulême. Having gone to Paris to study law the following year, he again aroused parental disapprobation by devoting more time to the study of the capital than his law books. So he was sent to Toulouse.

This young man, from the provinces, who, like the leading character of Balzac's novel by the same name, went to Paris from Angoulême, nevertheless remained in the merry metropolis long enough to meet Mlle. Hosen, an excellent girl, which proved by far the most important event in his whole life. From that time on he began to study law with a quality which before had been apparently dormant. He was now studying with a new zeal, and managed to pass his examinations.

His conversion to a more serious life, however, was superficial. It was shown by the fashionable fashion in which he chose the attorney under whom he was to begin the practice of law. He took a list of lawyers, shut his eyes and stuck a pin into the paper. "There," said he, "the man I've picked is the man for me." Fallieres only remained in the office of this lawyer a few months, when he went to Nérac, and hung out a shingle of his own.

As a matter of fact, the very habits of the son to which the father most strongly objected were to a certain extent inherited from his father. He had his father's love of the good things of life without the ambition of the elder Fallieres. His wife was a man of strong character, of huge size, and very fond of the society of young people.

Mlle. Hosen also lived at Nérac. She was regarded by the beaux of the town as a great "catch." Her grandfather had been an attorney, and she carried with her not only a handsome dowry, but also her grandfather's law practice. Nérac was surprised when he married young Fallieres. It was said she had thrown her life away. Her husband was spoken of as dull, lethargic, fat, with neither ancestry nor those brilliant personal traits that make for social advancement.

Mme. Fallieres was wiser than the gossip. She saw in the young man a lawyer, an opportunity which few women of the day have had. She first brought him her grandfather's law practice, and thereby laid the foundation of his practice. He was a brilliant lawyer, and proved of great political assistance. Nor was he found to be as dull as first supposed. Although not brilliant, he won wide respect because of his unusual common sense, his sound political judgment, and his inveterate good humor. He came to be called the "Sunny-Faced Gascon."

Early in his career Fallieres became a staunch Republican. After serving Nérac as mayor in 1878 he was elected a deputy. Four years afterward he became under secretary of state at the home office, later, minister of the interior, of public instruction and of justice. Eight times he was re-elected to the presidency of the senate.

It was when her husband was chosen to this office that Mme. Fallieres showed her real strength. She made their residence in the palace of the Luxembourg, a brilliant salon, surrounded her husband with friends who would be useful as well as congenial, and kept aloof those whom she believed would have upon him a wrong influence.

No part of France is so dear to Fallieres as is the place where he was born in Gascony. When the little cabin in his grandfather's law practice was torn down Fallieres bought it, and set it up brick for brick, stone for stone, in a more favorable site. In peasant's garb the president spends much of his spare time at his country home. He delights in fooling strange men who find him working in his vineyard into believing that he is only a farm hand. Parisians jokingly say that he brings his own chair to the capital. They still recall his first reception to the ministers after he became president, when he appeared in a light blue jacket and the same style of butterfly necktie as he had worn for the past thirty years.

Like Louis Philippe, the president of France is fond of his umbrella, and carries it always rain or shine. Once on meeting King Edward, who was dressed in full war regalia, the British monarch congratulated the stouky French executive on being able to wear ordinary citizen's clothes.

"I too, am glad," said Fallieres. "I prefer my umbrella to the finest sword in Europe."

Emile Loubet, Farmer's Boy. Had the mother of Emile Loubet had her way he would have become a musician instead of president of France. At an early age the boy showed special aptitude for music. By the time he was 11 he had composed a march and some hymns and was taking lessons of the organist of the Cathedral of Valence. But the father at last said: "My boy, a musician is not the man which France needs most today. I want you to be a lawyer and serve the state."

Although the boy himself would have been content to have remained on his father's farm, La Torrasse, in Marseanne, he took up the career of his father's choice, little dreaming whether it would lead. He obtained an education at Montelimar, where many an American now in the public eye has been. Before he left Montelimar he married the daughter of a prosperous iron master, a home-loving woman who nevertheless proved a talented hostess in after years at the Elysée Palace.

Having once devoted his whole attention to law, Loubet soon showed his worth. In 1876, when 23 years old, he was elected to the chamber of deputies. He was re-elected in 1882, and became still more a national figure two years later, when he was elected to the senate. He worked, and later minister of the interior in the Tirard cabinet. He made prime minister in 1892, and seven years later, upon the strange and sudden death of Faure, president of France, Loubet preserved the simple manner of his youth. When needing a rest from the worries of government he was wont to steal away from Paris to the little old farm house on the road to Montelimar where his mother still worked as a farmer's wife. Here he would spend days at a time, like the true son of a peasant woman, and neighbors still tell stories of how he went around with his sleeves rolled up singing as he worked. The peasants always called him "le brave Emile." He never has forgotten one of his old friends.

When not living in a small apartment in the Rue Dante, Paris, Loubet now spends his time at a chateau built near his birthplace. Neither the ex-president, who is 61 years old, nor his wife is fond of society, although they enjoy the friendship of many European monarchs, who always visit them when in France. He still is a hard worker and a great reader. Every morning he takes a brisk walk before breakfast. He is fond of boxing and hunting, but he says he never enjoyed the official hunts, when as president he was surrounded by a lot of lordly attendants, as much as his solitary walks nowadays through the forest with gun and dog.

An illustration of his democratic mind was afforded the servants of the Elysée Palace soon after Loubet became its master. Then he told all the functionaries that he proposed to start for them a bank. He promised they would do the best he could with all the money he had. He said that Sarto, almost Loubet's presidential term each servant depositor found his earnings had doubled. In their thankfulness the palace employees drew up resolutions on parchment of Venice. With the little more money at his command he repaired and returned the old home at Nérac, so that if he should die, his sisters would have a roof for their old age.

It has been said that Pope Pius X. wept when he first donned the white pontifical robes. He had not wanted to be made pope, and had worked against his election. But having been lifted into the Vatican, he sought to carry with him the simplicity of his past life. There is a rule that the pope must not wear a watch, but Pius X. always carried with him an old nickel Waterbury. He has refused to exchange it for some of the most richly bejeweled watches in Europe. "I cherish my Waterbury above all other timepieces," he once said, "because I held it in my hand as I watched my dear mother's life ebb away."

A Douma Leader Who Was Born in Dire Poverty. As the result of the growth of liberalism in Russia, many sons of the soil have risen to places of high honor, despite the terrors of prison and exile. Alexis Aidiy, who became prominent as a leader in the first Douma, was born a peasant, of parents poor to the point of misery.

Aldrin early evidenced an ambition to better the social conditions of the Russian people. He first thought that as a physician he could do the most good. By working in the fields he obtained funds for entering the university of Kazan, from which he was expelled a few months later for "talking politics too much." After a struggle he succeeded in being readmitted, and finished his first year in medicine.

Kazan is on the edge of the famine belt, and the scenes of misery he saw about him caused him to attack the governmental authorities in language which the professors denounced as anarchistic. He finally was expelled for good, an event which Aidiy eventually came to regard as most fortunate, because it started him on the career of a political leader.

Leaving the university he went into the outskirts of the town and organized trade unions. His arrest followed. On obtaining bail, he learned that his sentence might be four years of solitary confinement, in addition to eight years of exile among the icicles of Archangel, with only 4 cents a day for food. So he jumped his bail and escaped to Germany.

Aldrin might have become an American had not a former employer in Belgium just at that time offered to him a job in an electrical plant. While working as a dock hand in London he learned the principles of English Socialism. Later he became a journalist, a teacher of Russian, a lecturer and a doctor.

When the czar in 1906 issued a manifesto to political prisoners, Aldrin was one of the first to return to Russia. As a leader of workmen he was elected to the first Douma, where he attacked the government so bitterly that he was prevented from being re-nominated. He says that secret police are constantly on his track. But he has always managed to outwit them.

Once he and his wife were returning to Russia by way of Helsingfors, capital of Finland. There they heard of the Sveaborg mutiny, and Aldrin discovered that he was surrounded by Russian spies. He sent his wife to Stockholm and accompanied by a young woman Socialist who had consented to act the part, he took a way train for Stockholm. The young woman was dressed in the best finery and carried a big bouquet of flowers. Everybody mistook the couple for bride and bridegroom.

August Bebel, who has become a power in the Reichstag as the champion of Socialism, once tramped through Germany as a journeyman turner. Although his opportunities of obtaining wealth have increased, he asserts that he is still poor. Bebel's made him by admirers he has turned over to the Socialist party. He lives simply, almost meanly, in a little flat, where his wife does the cooking and housework. His chief articles of diet are black bread and beer. The walls are hung with cheap chromos and prints of Socialist leaders. On his work table are no books, for he says he gets his ideas from life. Bebel is said to be able to influence the votes of 3,000,000 men.

English Leaders Have Risen From the Ranks. The present-day leaders of English workmen, who have obtained many a victory for their cause in parliamentary debate, all rose from the ranks. John Burns, William Crooks and Her Hardie are men of this type.

As a confectioner Burns began earning his living at 10. His father was a workingman and the family lived in mean circumstances in Mattress. Today John Burns is known as the "Uncrowned King of Battersea." Although Burns never drank, he worked for a time as a pot boy, and later as a messenger he was able to make a dollar a week. When working as a mechanical engineer he once was summarily discharged for taking evening trips into the country, to harangue workingmen on the principles of Socialism. Burns has had many conflicts with the authorities. Once he was arrested for speaking on Chatham Common. To the officer who threatened him Burns said: "When I was a boy I used to play cricket and football here, and I am not discharged for taking evening trips into the country, to harangue

FOND DU LAC INDIANS AND LAND SPECULATORS

To the editor of The Herald: The last resting place of the Fond du Lac Indians is his abode. Shall the white man drive him out? His only security is in the government holding his land in trust, and not giving the white speculator a chance to drive him into poverty and vagrancy.

1902 the so-called Morris bill was passed, taking some 60,000 acres of the Fond du Lac reservation from the Indians, and making it subject to the payment of taxes, or being subject to execution for debts. Of course the speculator would see to it that he was placed in debt in some way or another, benefit of its original owners. If the speculator, rather than the Indian, is being sold, it is being sold to the speculator, and the full rights of citizenship are being given to the speculator, and the full rights of citizenship are being given to the speculator.

Why would it make the Indian more energetic to have his land put in the hands of a speculator? Of course the speculator would see to it that he was placed in debt in some way or another, benefit of its original owners. If the speculator, rather than the Indian, is being sold, it is being sold to the speculator, and the full rights of citizenship are being given to the speculator, and the full rights of citizenship are being given to the speculator.

MAID ALSO WOULD LIKE A TIP

A Housekeeper's Idea of Why Servants Sometime Slam Dishes Down on the Table and the Cure Therefor.

Two plainly dressed women, evidently on a shopping trip to town, happened to meet on the train. After the usual small talk had been disposed of, one asked the other how she liked her cottage on the Connecticut shore, says the New York Sun.

"It would be very nice but for one mesquite and a trouble tree which have with our birdie. We brought her up from the city with us, because we did not want to lose her. But she is not the same girl in the country. We have a good deal of company, you know. On Sunday we had four people from Hartford for dinner, and we were fine at table, and I was ashamed of the way Bridget waited. She almost always slammed the dishes down, and when it came to washing up afterward, I thought she was trying to break things, although, of course, I did not care much, because in summer cottages in these furnished summer cottages, it is dreadfully cheap and common stuff. What was I to do? I had to tell her the first time you had visitors?"

"Oh, goodness, no! I had two or three plain people staying with us every week-end or for a week at a time ever since we came up here in June, and we always leave company for Sunday dinner."

"Are your guests all Americans?"

"Of course. What do you suppose they were?"

"I wondered if they were German-Americans, or people of that sort."

"Why, of course, they have lived abroad that is some of them. A regular dear for charity bridge for prizes, says it gets you into society and that sort of thing."

"She spent two years abroad, and she is given to telling about the swell people she visited and the lovely country houses they have to know so as to be in good form. Why, the tips she has to give were outrageous."

"She said there was a regular scale, just like a bill, the chambermaid, the cook, the butler, and goodness knows what a lot of other things. I can't imagine how she came into contact with the cook in an English country house, who she left you?"

"Why, no, I don't think she did. In fact I am sure she didn't. But why do you ask?"

"Because it is guests like Mrs. Hosst that makes the servants slam down dishes. From what you say, Mrs. Hosst, I think that her knowledge of tipping has been gathered from the newspapers. They are continually giving advice about tipping dunks in England and what not, and they never say anything about tipping the maid who works that is found most American homes, especially in summer cottages."

"Why, we pay Bridget $15, and I am sure she does not expect tips."

"Why, she may not expect them, in the sense of being entitled to them. I think if she got them now and then, our girl is German, and you know how the Germans are about tips. If there is one person I learned over in Germany, it was the girl who told you must show that you appreciate your servants."

"Why I am sure that we appreciate Bridget. That is why we brought her to the country."

"Perhaps Bridget thinks the guests feel like other people, and a double dose of cooking and dishwashing is not too much for her. I am sure that you must show that you appreciate your servants."

In Upper Fall River section, Idaho Springs, Colo. are among the most important in Clear Creek or Gilpin counties. With the Lombard mine as nucleus 2,000 acres, including some of the richest mineral land in the state, have been purchased. The Lombard has a fine machinery plant, mill of seventy daily capacity, and all economical facilities for handling and reducing the output. The Seaman tunnel opening on Fall River is the site of a small village. The mine has been progressing daily for three years and is now well into the company's property. The output, confined mostly to development work, has paid for opening up and improving the mine.

The Pittsburgh property in lower Russell district, Central City, Colo., is being opened by its owner, the Cashier Gold Mining and Reduction company, composed of New York and Pittsburgh capitalists. The product is a ton of gold, silver and copper, and the 300-foot shaft will be sunk deeper.

The Abo Lincoln mine in Poverty Gulch, Cripple Creek is in a three mile square block of 320 acres. New York capitalists are interested in the mine, and the company, even if it is just a shell, is a good thing to have. The company, with $100,000, also has a claim on the mine, all east of Cripple Creek.

Blue Diamond Mines company, Cripple Creek, has leased its water claim to Curtis and his partner, the Blue Diamond Mines company, which is a good thing to have. The company, with $100,000, also has a claim on the mine, all east of Cripple Creek.

as, for example, developing Battersea as a model residential quarter for workmen, establishing an eight-hour day in all public works, and instituting parks and clean streets. In 1892 Burns went to parliament from Battersea. By some of the laborites Burns is accused of having turned traitor to their cause. By Victor Grayson he has been charged with having sold out for 2,000 pieces of gold referring to his salary as president of the board of works. Mr. Burns elicited this distributive by influencing Premier Asquith and the cabinet to remove him from the office. The Haven. It is understood that the Haven Mining company will shortly be in need of more funds with which to continue the development work. Some time ago 30,000 shares of treasury stock were taken by some of the large stockholders at par, $1 per share, and it is understood that some of them have again offered to take treasury stock at par, which is 12 cents above the market price, provided the company will believe that all shareholders should be given equal opportunity to take the stock. The company is engaged in the development of the Haven mine, which is being dug at the 1,300-foot level. Manager Green has been showing lately and feels confident that the vein will be struck in the near future.

BIG MONEY HAS BEEN MADE

On Calumet & Sonora, Butte-Ballaklava and Shattuck-Arizona Copper Stocks!

The general market is changing for the better. Many orders are coming in for the good curb stocks. We have only started to have our big market for the winter.

Buy Calumet & Sonora for the real big money. This stock should easily advance to $30.00 on the next bulge.

Buy Butte-Ballaklava at the market. They are now at the 1,200-foot level and this stock is one of the best in this country.

Buy Shattuck-Arizona. No stock in the Northwest is better known. You should know that this stock around $21.00 is selling too low. Here is a mine in the Bisbee district that compares favorably with the big Calumet & Arizona, which represents a value of at least $22,600,000.00. Which of you question that Shattuck is worth $50.00 a share when smelter is arranged for?

Look at Butte-Montana going through some fierce storms, but watch this issue land on top shortly. Keep on buying the stock. I have made good on many others, and you watch me make good, better than many of you think, on Butte-Montana. Buy the stock right along. We will get through them after awhile. Big things are going on that will make this one a very big success. Remember we told you to hold your stock and to keep on buying more. I never got anything yet that I did not have to work hard for, and this is also the way on Butte-Montana. We have a dandy proposition for everybody interested and all we have to do is to stand together and we will win out big.

We have one of the best located copper stock offices in the city. Also the best wire in the Northwest. We can give you information that is correct. You must appreciate the fact that conditions of the market are against every stock on the board in spots, but when it comes out right in the end, that should be satisfactory to all. Give us your business and we will do our best to treat you all fair and square.

DON'T BE SCARED!

BUTTE-MONTANA got into awful weak hands and its great possibilities were crippled. Then came offers of huge financial support, with a proviso to take options. Failing to get control, the work of deterioration commenced very determinedly as fast as the improvements in development became apparent. The actual fact of bringing good commercial ore to the surface immediately occasioned an onslaught. The titles were attacked indiscriminately. Vicious rumors, without a possibility of foundation, were spread broadcast that the extra lateral rights were gone and shareholders had nothing except a shadow. Bad management, inefficient mining capacity, and the lack of commercial ability has reduced the value of a $10,000,000 proposition, on its merits, to a ten-cent show. I am making my last bow to an unappreciative audience. The copper situation I have defined, meaning only the usual consumption and demand. I have expended $3,000 in philanthropy. Not one cent has been my reward so far as my advice has gone, and, unfortunately, the speculative public must not be told that a stock is not meritorious, and is absurdly too high in value. I can take the whole list of Duluth Curb Stocks, and show a hundred letters soliciting my opinion. I have said distinctly in 90 per cent of the cases, sell the shares and, with but one exception, these shares have depreciated from 25 to 75 per cent in value. The exception I need not mention.

When ore is intersected in a perpendicular shaft, no matter upon what property, it must come to the surface. When openings are made, storage can be available, but it is unknown in mining annals. Several rich ledges cut from different levels means ore going to the smelter to make room for further extensions. Ledges cut at levels thirty feet thick, with abnormal richness, mean returns, and cash credit for the company. Equipment fit for 700 to 900 feet will not work any shaft to the 1,500-foot level, and statements to the contrary are devoid of fact. I can surely sound the warning note. Ore that is cut of high value will come to the surface and be seen, and will be recognized. BUTTE-MONTANA'S property, the Alex Scott, is in the belly of the Amalgamated, and has all the best bodies of ore and, if a new organization is promulgated, it will put a million dollars in the treasury. Sink the shaft to 3,000 feet and show up the richest small property in Butte, worth from $10,000,000 to $30,000,000. The shareholders are not going to be left, because this company is solvent, not owing a dollar, but it is quite evident the financial and management conditions must be changed. But no matter the denomination, present values to owners of the stock will double and treble their value in a short time. Therefore, in bidding adieu for the time—Remember BUTTE-MONTANA is the best buy, not in the United States, but in the whole world.

GREAT NORTHERN AND SOO IN LEGAL FIGHT

Court Asked to Give Terminal Right to Approach Bridge.

With an array of legal talent for and against, the petition of the Terminal railway for the appointment of commissioners to appraise certain land on Rice's Point desired for the construction of an overhead approach to the Duluth-Superior bridge, came on for hearing before Judge Dyell in district court this morning.

W. R. Begg, C. O. Baldwin and J. A. Murphy appeared on behalf of the petitioner, and in opposition, C. E. Wilson and E. M. Morgan appeared for the city and A. H. Bright and H. B. Fry, attorney for the Duluth & Superior Bridge company, appeared and signified the acquiescence of his company in the proceedings, and Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell took similar action for the Northern Pacific Railroad company.

The proceedings this morning consisted merely in stating the case and the introduction of documentary evidence. Mr. Baldwin, in making the petition, set forth that under an ordinance granting a franchise to the Duluth Terminal railway, adopted by the city council in 1888, the right to construct the approach was already vested in the company. He set forth that under a resolution of the city council in 1896, condemnation proceedings were instituted and carried through, condemning a strip of land 516 feet long and 75 feet wide, extending to Arthur avenue, for the purpose of opening it to travel. The extension is from Arthur avenue proper to the Minnesota end of the Duluth-Superior bridge. Mr. Baldwin said that under the ordinance of 1888 granting the franchise, the Duluth Terminal railway might have constructed the approach now projected, by the condemnation of the strip of land afterwards condemned by the city. The strip condemned by the city was, however, on account of that fact the company now has a right to use it if the court so dictates, said Mr. Baldwin.

Mr. Wilson entered the objections to the city. He objected generally to the appointment of commissioners, and denied all the allegations of the petition except those relating to ownership. He admitted the incorporation of the company, but denied that it had been duly incorporated, and denied that it had the right of eminent domain. Mr. Wilson contended that inasmuch as the petitioner desires to use parts of public highways in the city, it is a condition that it must first obtain a franchise from the common council of the city and compensate the city for the franchise. He said the petitioner had not obtained such a franchise. He said the petitioner had no right to condemn highways in the city. His other objections were in similar vein. During the introduction of documentary evidence, it developed that when the resolution authorizing the proceedings at trial, was adopted by the board of directors of the Duluth Terminal railway, but the four directors were present, whereas under the articles of incorporation, the board was made to consist of nine members. Mr. Wilson contended that the whole proceeding was void, as there was nothing to show that the membership of the board of directors had been changed unilaterally. Mr. Murphy pointed out that at a previous meeting, but five members had been elected. Mr. Wilson's objection was overruled for the time, with the understanding that evidence of the change would later be introduced. The hearing will continue this afternoon and it is expected to be some time before a decision of the court is obtained. The case is of considerable interest in view of the fight between the Great Northern and Soo roads before the city council for a franchise giving them the right to approach the bridge. The Soo road won out and the city and Soo now claim that the court proceedings are a move of the Great Northern to nullify the effect of the council's action.

Regardless of which road builds the approach, all other roads may have the privilege of passing over it, but the Soo claims that should the Great Northern secure the right to build it, there would be delays so as to seriously inconvenience the Soo and retard its entrance into the city. The Duluth Terminal railway, which is a Great Northern subsidiary, operates an elevated road from the union depot to the Northern Pacific bridge, over which most of the traffic now passes. The Soo claims that the road now in operation is in shape to handle the business of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific for some time to come and, should the Great Northern secure the right to build the approach, it could delay construction without being seriously inconvenienced itself. Both the city and the Soo will fight the condemnation proceedings and the hearing this morning was the first skirmish.

A MODERN ALEXANDER

Mr. Whitehead Is Looking for More Worlds to Conquer.

Tall Mr. Whitehead literally looked the part his name describes when he stepped blithely from the Hibbing train yesterday. His head was swathed in bandages of snow whiteness, said bandages soothing wounds that had been inflicted by the fists of one Mr. Heller, in the fistic setto that occurred between Messrs. Whitehead and Heller at Hibbing Thursday night. Although somewhat the worse for wear, Mr. Whitehead presented a cheery spirit to the legion of dark admirers, who greeted him as he alighted from the train. Twirling a silver-headed cane, and grasping his gloves in his wicked left mitt, Mr. Whitehead assumed a pose of languid satisfaction and condescendingly allowed himself to be admired by his dusky friends. "I will never be satisfied till Ah fight Jack Johnson," remarked Mr. Whitehead. "I am going right after de championship." Although Mr. Whitehead's head looked like the heads of the soldiers who weathered the charge of the light brigade, he informed all his friends that he was easy in body and spirit and eager for more opponents to conquer.

New Sport of Aviation. How soon shall the average man be able to add flight through the air to his list of available sports. This is the natural query suggested by the recent successful experiments with light machines. People are beginning to realize more and more the necessity of having a good malt tonic, such as golden grain belt beer, at mealtime. The practice of keeping a case on hand at home is so general that it is well nigh universal. Order of your nearest dealer or be supplied by Duluth branch Minneapolis Brewing Co.

EASTERN OWNERS TAKE INTEREST IN DULUTH

Advent of Railroads and Steel Plant Advertising City Among Capitalists—Big Buildings Planned for Superior Street—Plans for Arcade Approved—Slow Week in Realty.

Building has held the center of the stage again this week and the action lagged somewhat in the real estate world. Of real estate deals there were not many and those that were consummated were routine—not likely to add to the interest of the city. The market is in the darkest period just before the dawn. Ever since fall, the real estate men have been waiting for the sun of prosperity, peering above the horizon, but thus far, they have only seen the heralding rays.

A few deals of consequence are taking shape, according to the real estate men. Earliest money has been deposited in several cases and the deals are expected to be closed within a week. Inquiries are numerous, indicating greater activity to come, and, on the whole, the real estate men are not discouraged.

The advertising Duluth is receiving through the coming of the railroads and the prospective building of the steel plant is having its effect. Eastern owners of Duluth real estate are taking greatly increased interest in their property and the commercial developments here. Eastern capitalists are turning to Duluth for business property. Inquiries are numerous and characterized by sincere interest in getting at the truth of the situation here and invest money if judgment so dictates.

Duluth is receiving more and more interest in the East daily. The announcement of the intention of the Canadian Northern to invade Duluth, followed by the announcement this has been completed, and work on the superstructure will begin as soon as a consignment of steel, now on the way, arrives. The delay in shipment of the steel has held Berglund Bros. back. Some of the "T" beams have been received, but there is not yet enough on hand to warrant a start.

When the frost is out of the ground next spring, the People's Brewing company will build a large addition to its plant in Oneota. The addition will be for storage purposes, and will cost between $25,000 and $30,000. The company owns a block of ground at Forty-seventh avenue west and has a new plant, which was put in operation last year.

The plans for the new hotel on the corner of Fifth avenue west and Superior street are coming along rapidly, and the building is now a sure go. The burning of the Windsor hotel on the opposite corner gave hope to some that a modern business block would replace it. The fact that the building is not sufficiently damaged to warrant its condemnation may result in the repairing of the old building, and there is regret among people who hoped to see the Fifth avenue corner flanked by beautiful buildings.

The week was a poor one in the building inspector's office. The permits issued were for work estimated to cost in the aggregate $3,650. Two were for frame dwellings costing $1,600 each, two for repair work at $500 each, and the other was a repair permit for $50.

Deeds of two East end properties were recorded with the register of deeds. Matthew E. Wood sold to Gundrum Frank four lots in Willards addition, at the northwest corner of Sixth street and Twenty-fifth avenue east, for $2,450. Clara A. Piper sold to George O. Smith two lots at the northwest corner of Fourth street and Ninth avenue east for $2,450.

Following are the real estate transfers for the week:

James Mills et ux. to Sam E. Mann, lots 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 819, 820, 821, 822, 823, 824, 825, 826, 827, 828, 829, 830, 831, 832, 833, 834, 835, 836, 837, 838, 839, 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 845, 846, 847, 848, 849, 850, 851, 852, 853, 854, 855, 856, 857, 858, 859, 860, 861, 862, 863, 864, 865, 866, 867, 868, 869, 870, 871, 872, 873, 874, 875, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 881, 882, 883, 884, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 890, 891, 892, 893, 894, 895, 896, 897, 898, 899, 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, 909, 910, 911, 912, 913, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 923, 924, 925, 926, 927, 928, 929, 930, 931, 932, 933, 934, 935, 936, 937, 938, 939, 940, 941, 942, 943, 944, 945, 946, 947, 948, 949, 950, 951, 952, 953, 954, 955, 956, 957, 958, 959, 960, 961, 962, 963, 964, 965, 966, 967, 968, 969, 970, 971, 972, 973, 974, 975, 976, 977, 978, 979, 980, 981, 982, 983, 984, 985, 986, 987, 988, 989, 990, 991, 992, 993, 994, 995, 996, 997, 998, 999, 1000.

ENGLISH TILE DWELLING WHICH WOULD COST $6,000 IN DULUTH

ANTHONY PUCK ARCHT.

This design is characteristic of the English style of building. The exterior shows a pleasing combination of brick and stucco, the first story walls being of a rough red brick and the second story of stucco, with natural finish. With the roof stained a moss green and the woodwork a weathered brown, it is easy to appreciate exterior appearance of such a home.

The plan has been studied to fit the location where the best advantage of view and sunlight are to be had from the rear. Such locations are to be found on the lower side of Duluth streets and along the lake shore. Such an arrangement of the plan need not detract from the appearance of the front elevation if due study is given to its design.

Note particularly the compactness of these plans; the thorough and practical utilization of every foot of space. The house, though only 30 feet by 37 feet, outside dimensions, contains eight rooms, including the large hall and den, all of commodious size. The front entrance, from a well-sheltered porch opens directly into a light and airy hall, a good feature of which is the convenient connection to the kitchen and basement stairway. An arched opening opens from the hall into the large, cheerful living room. The deep, tiled, ingle nook is a distinct feature of this room, and contains built-in seats, book cases, and a wide tiled fireplace. The dining room is of good size and contains a built-in china cabinet. A large pantry connects the dining room and the kitchen. The kitchen is complete in arrangement, with ample space for fixtures. The stairway is also called "combination" stairway, directly accessible from both front and kitchen part of the house.

In the second story are three light and airy bedrooms, a den with a fireplace, a large bathroom, and five unusually large closets, three of which have outside light. The plan is conveniently and attractively arranged. The attic is unfinished.

The basement walls are built of stone. The arrangement includes a heater room, fuel room, laundry and cellar.

A home as above described, and including heating plant and plumbing, would cost $6,000 to build in Duluth or vicinity.

DID RAISKY HOLD THE PEN?

Forgery Case in District Court Hinges on Identification.

A jury in district court will determine whether or not William Raisky is the man who held his hand on a pen, with which Charles P. Meyers made a mark as the mark of Jack Honka, on the back of a time check in Mr. Meyers' store at 506 West Superior street, on the night of Nov. 14, 1908.

Raisky was placed on trial before Judge Emsign this morning on a charge of forgery in the second degree. He is charged with forging Honka's name to a time check for $22 given by Contractor E. Engle. The check was cashed by Mr. Meyers, who wrote the name on the back, the man holding his hand on the pen while the mark was made. Two girl employees of Mr. Meyers say Raisky is the man. Meyers isn't sure. The defense hasn't yet shown its hand.

According to the testimony introduced this morning, Raisky and Honka were both employed by Mr. Engle, digging ditches for water mains on Twenty-fourth avenue east. On Nov. 24, seven time checks were made out, one to Raisky for $7 and one to Honka for $22 among them. The foreman distributed the checks, but Honka was the last man to call and when he called there was no check for him. The foreman concluded he had given two to some one of the men. He followed the check force and all were there excepting Raisky. This other man denied having the check. The check was cashed that night in Mr. Meyers' store. A sweater, claimed to have been purchased by the man who cashed the check, is alleged to have been found in Raisky's house. The testimony of the state was almost all in at noon and the case will probably be concluded before the adjournment this evening.

THE NUMBER REGISTERED

The Total Registration for Three Days Was 7,035.

Total Number Added to the List Saturday Was 2,749.

The voters turned out in larger numbers than was expected to register last Saturday, the last day for them to get in under the wire, if they wished to vote at the February municipal election.

The total registration for the day was 2,749, making a total registration for the February election of the December primaries and two registration days last week, of 7,035. This is not by any means the full vote of the city, but for an off year and no active contests except for aldermen in some of the wards, and for the position of city treasurer. It is considered fair. The total registration for the November election was 11,555, but of course that election was of vastly more importance than the coming one. Following is a table showing the registration by wards last Saturday, and the total by wards for the three registration days.

THE FUTURE OF ARIZONA

C. W. Van Dyke Talks of Conditions in the Southwest.

Great Group of Mines Six Miles From Globe.

C. W. Van Dyke of Warren, Ariz., a former Minnesotan, who was employed in Governor Johnson's office in his first administration, and who laid out the city of Warren and installed the street car system, is at the St. Louis hotel today.

Mr. Van Dyke says the mines that are being developed six miles west of Globe, Ariz., in which Duluth capital is interested, are one of the most promising groups of mines in the world, and that their future development promises to make them the richest copper ore deposits in the entire Western mining belt.

There is the Miami group, controlled by the Lewisohns of New York. In this group, according to Mr. Van Dyke, from 12,000,000 to 14,000,000 tons of ore have already been blocked out, this development having been done in the past twenty months.

Then there is the Inspiration group, controlled by W. B. Thompson and associates. The sum of $4,000,000 was paid for 85 per cent of this property, $250,000 being paid in cash for the first deposit.

In addition, there is the Keystone group, taken over by the Lewisohns, the Globe Consolidated, controlled by Duluth capital, and the Eureka, controlled by Howland and Smith of this city. Beyond the Keystone is the Live Oak group, in which Duluth capital is interested.

All of these mines are in one of the richest districts in the West, according to the statement made by Mr. Van Dyke, who predicts that the development of these mines will be very rapid in this territory, just south of Globe.

He believes all of the mines have the greatest prospects of any of the mines in the territory in the Western mining country is only a question of time.

The Miami people are constructing a 2,000-ton concentrator, which will be completed in a very short time. Mr. Van Dyke says the Southern Pacific railroad is extending a branch from the Inspiration group to the Miami group, which will reach the mines some time this year. This, says Mr. Van Dyke, will mean that the mines will have a direct haul for their products.

"Arizona has the greatest future of any of the new territories in the West," says Mr. Van Dyke. "If we could secure statehood, it would help out development very greatly. The Republican party, promised statehood to Arizona at the present session of congress, I believe that we are going to get it, and it is generally believed by the people out there that Arizona will soon be admitted to the Union as a state."

"Not only is Arizona going ahead as a mining territory, but there is going to be a wonderful development in the agricultural resources. The completion of the Roosevelt dam, at Phoenix, will be a wonderful thing for the territory. The Salt River valley is a very fertile region and the completion of the irrigation undertaking will result in the reclamation of thousands of acres of arid land."

"People from Minnesota have taken the foremost part in the development of Arizona. There are twenty-two graduates from the University of Minnesota at Warren. These college men are in the mining profession, practicing law, engaged in the medical profession, and then there are also a number of scientific farmers that the colleges have turned out."

"There are two agricultural colleges in Arizona. These colleges are turning out young men who are qualified to cope with the problems of farming in Arizona. It takes scientific agriculture to pay out there."

"I want to say that the brains of the country are coming out to us. Farming is comparatively easy here, in the Miami valley. About all you have to do is to sow and reap. With us it is very different. It takes science and intelligence to conquer the deficiencies of the climate and soil."

Some kind of farmers who are accomplishing this, are the young men that are coming to us."

Mr. Van Dyke says the Superior & Pittsburgh property at Bisbee, is being developed at a rapid rate at the present time. He says a great deal of labor and money has been expended upon this property, and that at the present time the property is showing good prospects.

Dwight E. Woodbridge returned yesterday from Butte. He was with Mr. Van Dyke today and agreed with the statement that the mining future of Arizona was of the brightest. Both gentlemen state that the present year will witness a great increase in the mining operations of the territory.

Mr. Woodbridge says operations at Butte are steadily increasing. Shipments are being made in larger quantities from all of the larger mines. These mines, according to Mr. Woodbridge, are shipping as much as they did before the business depression.

THE SOUR MILK COW.
The woman was new to the country and her host took great pains to explain to her whatever she didn't understand about the farm. He had little regard for the truth, this farmer; he delighted to test quibblingly to the utmost, says the New York Sun.

The cows seemed to interest her more than any other domestic animal. One of the cows had lost her tail some time ago, and this fact led the woman to ask why it was.

"That's the sour milk cow," the farmer explained with a straight face. "We always cut the tail off one cow in the herd so as to get sour milk fresh every day."

The woman looked her doubt. "It's perfectly true," the farmer insisted. "You see when the cow's tail is at bedtime will produce truly wonderful results. Large case at your druggist or from The Marmola Company, Detroit, Mich., for 75 cents."

Fatness Reduced

An absolute and perfectly harmless remedy for excessive fatness is to be found in Marmola's Prescription Tablets. One tablet after each meal and at bedtime will produce truly wonderful results. Large case at your druggist or from The Marmola Company, Detroit, Mich., for 75 cents.

ON THE IRON RANGES

VIRGINIA WILL BUILDSeveral New Structures
Planned in Range City
This Year.New Hotel and Opera House Among Possibilities of Season.

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Virginia's municipal building is to be remodeled, and when this is done, the city will have a metropolitan city hall. Architects Radcliffe and Price of Duluth are making drawings of the proposed improvement.

The old fire hall adjoins the city hall, and this structure will be incorporated into part of the remodeled building. The fire hall is of brick and is intended to be used hereafter for jail purposes. The second floor will be converted into a municipal courtroom and private offices for Judge James P. Carey.

There's a piece of ground just east of the city hall, about 20 by 70 feet, and the city building will be extended so as to cover that property. By this arrangement and by the transfer of the police court and the police judge's private offices into the old fire hall, it is expected that the other city officials will then be provided with suitable quarters. The proposed improvement will cost several thousand dollars.

Radcliffe & Price will probably submit their drawings to the meeting of the council tomorrow night. Mr. Radcliffe designed the old building. Virginia will have a building boom next spring. Plans have been completed for a new hotel and opera house and half a dozen substantial business blocks are in contemplation. The new federal building, costing upwards of $50,000, will be commenced just as soon as the weather permits, at the corner of Wisconsin avenue and Maple street.

A 2-story fireproof building, in course of construction for Ben Milaretz at the corner of Wisconsin avenue and Walnut street.

Hotel and Theater.
The Pitzer Brewing company of Duluth is considering about building a hotel and opera house at the corner of Cleveland avenue and Chestnut street.

Edward Finch, a local capitalist, is seriously thinking about putting up a modern business block at Chestnut street and Wisconsin avenue. He owns the property at the corner of the street and is planning to improve it. His idea now is to devote the lower floors to store purposes and to make offices in the upper rooms. He says he expects to have the building made three stories high.

The Hotel Fay, one of the largest on the range, now has more than 100 rooms, but these are not adequate to the demand of the hotel patrons. When the new building has been made, the old portion of the hotel will be renovated and overhauled and redecorated.

Rev. Father James Hogan, pastor of Our Lady of Loreto Catholic church, says his parishioners will build a new school building, costing $20,000, during the coming season. Funds for this purpose are being raised now and the contributions are coming in faster and in larger amounts than the reverend father had anticipated.

THREE ROBBERS ATTACK VICTIM
Cut Coleraine Electrician
Who Resisted Them; Are Arrested.

Coleraine, Minn., Jan. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—As J. Glavens, electrician, residing in Coleraine, was going to the railway station in Marble Friday night, three Austrians attempted to rob him.

One sprang in front of him and two approached him from either side. Glavens tried to dodge past the man in front, but tripped and fell, when one of the assailants patted him with a knife in the back, between the shoulders, cutting a long gash and before he could regain his feet, he was stabbed a second time in the back, sustaining a deep wound. After desperate efforts he escaped. His assailants fled. Glavens succeeded in reaching the train.

Drs. Cosgrove and Mose Strathern, who were available, stopped the flow of blood. The wounded man was brought to the local hospital where he was treated. He was found to be in no danger. He was evidently mistaken for Mr. Ziegler, a collector for S. G. Plumber, who had just made the rounds of several camps in Marble and had several hundred dollars about his person.

The deputy sheriff of Marble arrested the highwaymen, and they were brought to Hovey County Attorney. Price was called, and it was decided to postpone the hearing for one week. The names of the alleged assailants are Mike Radovic No. 1, Mike Radovic No. 2 and Ed Vracar.

THREE SEEK MATRIMONY.
Towerites Who Are Ambitious to Succeed Mayor Murphy.

Tower, Minn., Jan. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—There appears to be no dearth of candidates for offices at the coming city election.

Saturday being the last day to file, the candidates got into the game. There are three candidates for mayor, William Hilland, Thomas A. Thompson, and Matt McEllellan. For alderman, William Wilson, recorder, Charles Lacey, John Hickey, Jr., assessor, John Jackshaw, judge, S. E. McLaughlin, Alfred Wadman and H. G. Murray.

Considerable pressure was brought to bear upon Murphy by D. Murphy to induce him to file for re-election, but he refused to again make the race. Two of the present aldermen, Claude Berg and Gunder Peterson, were hard pressed to file for alderman to succeed themselves, but they also concluded to follow the mayor's example. The three who have filed for alderman are new men, and so is every candidate who has filed, with the exception of Claude Berg and Gunder Peterson.

This has caused considerable interest in the city, and the hottest election has experienced in years.

SKI TOURNAMENT DATES AT COLERAINE CHANGED.
Coleraine, Minn., Jan. 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The dates with the Superior ski tournament, the tournament to be pulled off by the Itasca Ski club, will be held Saturday afternoon, Feb. 13, instead of the following week, Sunday.

The Superior tournament was set for Feb. 13, before the date was decided on a date, and in order to give jumpers a chance to take in both tournaments, a change in date was necessary.

This year's tournament promises to be the most successful yet held here. An unusually large crowd of visitors is expected to attend. The tournament is to be held the day previous, Friday, Feb. 12, and the following day will bring much of the attendance there.

The club offers $300 cash prizes, ranging from $75, the first prize down to $10, the last. The prizes are being offered for the most graceful jumper and for the longest standing jump. The winners of the Itasca club will compete for the Hartley cup. BOTH PHONES, 324.*SMALLPOX NOT FATAL*Not a Single Death From That Disease in Duluth.*Statistics on Contagious Disease for the Year 1908.

The annual report of Health Commissioner Patton shows that during 1908, 120 cases of scarlet fever, 579 cases of smallpox and 219 cases of typhoid fever, 91 of which were brought here from outside the city, mostly from the range.

Of the 579 cases of smallpox, there were not a single case which died. Two hundred and sixty-three cases were taken to the detention hospital and 216 were quarantined in the city. The city has been very fortunate in the matter of smallpox being reported since early in September. There were 14 deaths from diphtheria, a percentage of 4.08, figuring on a basis of 1,000 cases. There were 38 deaths from typhoid, including seven out-of-town cases. There were 12 deaths from all forms of tuberculosis, making a percentage of 2.75 on the basis of 1,000 cases. The death rate for the year was 5.03, which is considered very low. Deaths from other cities have not yet been received, but it is expected Duluth's will be the lowest of any.

CLIFTON HOTEL AGAIN RAIDED*Police Capture Five in Their Early Morning Visit.

Capt. Piskett and five officers raided the Clifton hotel, 321 West First street, about 2 o'clock Saturday night, and arrested two girls, two men, and Madame Mary Gain, owner of the building. The latter is charged with conducting an assignation house and the others with frequenting it.

Two other girls and men were in the place at the time, but they were in the employ of the police, to insure the place and were released immediately after the raid. Madame Gain put up $200 bail, and the others were released. The four forfeited bail in municipal court this morning.

Madame Gain appeared and pleaded not guilty. Her hearing was set for 10 o'clock next Tuesday morning, and her bail was raised to $1,000, which was furnished.

It is said the men arrested were quite well known locally, and their dignity was sadly shattered by a ride in the patrol wagon.

Are you ever "blue"? If before breakfast, dinner and supper you do not feel a hearty-hungry feeling and long for food of almost any kind, if you feel flabby and want something to eat, but can't say what, then you are most likely bordering on chronic dyspepsia.

If you feel bloated, have heartburn, sour stomach, bad breath, and feel languid, dull or nervous and irritable, then you surely have need for the following simple recipe, which it is claimed has cured many famous people. Prescribed for many years with the utmost success, its power over stomach disorders is the peculiar blending properties of concentrated essences. Get two ounces of syrup of ginger, two ounces of essence of pepsin and one ounce compound essence of sassafras. Mix altogether, then take one or two teaspoonfuls after each meal. To excite appetite, take a spoonful before eating. May be taken freely by adults and children with weak stomachs, as it contains no opiate.

THREE YEARS FOR A CITY FOR COOPER*Chef Draws Prison Term for Crude Check Forgery.*Charles Nelson Sent to Reformatory for Grand Larceny.

Clincy Cooper, formerly chef at the Central high school lunch counter, was this morning sentenced by Judge Englen in district court to serve three years and three months in the state prison at Stillwater. Cooper last week pleaded guilty to the charge of forgery in the second degree, under which he was indicted by the January grand jury. Charles Nelson, who pleaded guilty last week to larceny in the second degree, was this morning given a sentence in the state reformatory at Stillwater.

Cooper's crime was the forging of the name of Principal C. A. Smith of the high school to a check for $25, which he sent by a boy to J. G. Ostby's store to have cashed. The forgery was so crude that the money was refused. The check was turned over to the police in some time. The check would be turned down anywhere as having come from the principal of the high school. Cooper's record of a term in the Pennsylvania state penitentiary was against him. He was married but without time ago, and his attorney made a plea for clemency on behalf of his wife, but there were few extenuating circumstances.

Nelson was charged with the theft of $40 from F. D. Winters Nov. 10, and was indicted by the January grand jury on a charge of grand larceny in the second degree. There was a strong case against him and he pleaded guilty.

The suit of Novak Madjat against the Oliver Iron Mining company and A. Y. Peterson for $2,500 as triple damages claimed to have been sustained by destruction of property, was taken up before Judge Dibel in district court this morning.

Peterson is the superintendent of the Hartley and St. Clair mines at Chisholm. Madjat claims that he owned a boarding house at the Hartley mine location and paid the company 50 cents monthly in rent for the ground on which it stood. Aug. 27 of last year, he alleges, employees of the company used the direction of Mr. Peterson entered the premises and tore down the house. Madjat claims the destruction of his home was without his consent and without right of law. He says his property, which was in the house at the time, was destroyed and he wants the company to pay for the damages he claims to have sustained.

ALEXANDRA OF FIPE,
Eldest Grandchild of King Edward,
Who Will Make Her Debut in May.BEAUTIFUL*Snow, Ice and Waste Paper Put Under the Ban.*Arrests Liable—Record in Cleaning Streets Last Week.

Mayor Haven this morning issued instructions to the police department to carry on a campaign of education with the general public, with a view to keeping the sidewalks free from snow, and the streets free of waste paper. The police have positive instructions to cause arrests in cases where property owners in the business district fail to keep walks in front of their place free from ice and snow, in compliance with the terms of the city ordinance.

There is an ordinance prohibiting the throwing of waste paper in the streets, but it has not been very carefully observed. Henceforth all policemen, when they notice anyone throwing waste paper in the street, will courteously call the attention of such person to the terms of the city ordinance, and request that the offense against the law be not repeated.

When it is believed the public has had plenty of time to learn that the city is determined to enforce the ordinance, there will be arrests if people persist in throwing paper in the streets, despite the campaign of education. It is hoped that by spring the people will be willing to co-operate with the city authorities to keep the streets clean and free from the snow, slush, water and mud.

Even before the extremely warm weather and rain came, several gangs of men and teams employed by the city, were busy cleaning snow from the streets, and in the worst condition in St. Paul and Minneapolis, there was almost no snow in Duluth along Superior and certain other of the business streets, that a person could not cross without tripping, and the same held true of the middle of the block in many cases. Today Superior street is dry and clean.

ANOTHER BIG REALTY DEAL COMPLETED

Property Is Sold for Good Price.

Two-Story Building at 17
West Superior Street Changes Hands.

Another big Superior street real estate deal was closed this morning in the sale by Mrs. Mary Foster of Illinois to Little McDonald of Duluth of the two-story brick building at 17 West Superior street, the ground floor of which is occupied by the Model Clothing company. The consideration was $4,500.

The property has a frontage of 24 1/2 feet on Superior street and is in the heart of the business district. The building is a substantial one for business purposes and at the same time another property is located so as to be valuable for future improvement.

The deal is the third in the same district within the past two weeks. The Wieland block on the corner of First avenue west and Superior street was sold for a good price about a week ago and at the same time another property between Lake avenue and First avenue west, fronting twenty-five feet on the street, changed hands for a good consideration.

The presence in Duluth today of C. E. Henderson of East Maryland, owner of the property at the southwest corner of Superior and Fifth avenue, west, may mean that the old building that has been an eyesore to the business portion of the city for years, will be demolished and a new and modern business building erected upon the site of the present saloon and cheap lodging house.

When seen at the Spalding today, Mr. Henderson stated that he had no intention of making any change in the building, but he was willing to make any change that might be made regarding any intention he might have as to the property.

PLANT IS COMPLETED

Fires Burning Under the Boilers in New Courthouse.

Plans and Specifications for Office Furniture and Fixtures Arrive.

The delays which have been experienced by Landquist & Illsey, the contractors on the new courthouse, on account of the heating plant not being in shape, have been done away with, fires having been placed under the boilers Saturday. Steam will not be turned on for several days, however, but heat will be available now for dry.

The interior work has been progressing rapidly, despite the slight delays caused by the heating company being slightly behind the remainder of the work. The heating company was fully within the time limits of its contract, but the general contractors are almost two months ahead of their calculations, necessitating their slowing up a little to wait for the sub-contractors.

The partitions are now being put in rapidly and the interior of the building is assuming shape. The plasterers are now about ready to start in and they will begin as soon as the heating plant is being operated regularly. The heating fixtures are being put in permanently, so after the work is once done, there will be no further delay.

The plans and specifications for the furniture of the new building, which arrived this morning, and the county officials will pass on them before the company goes ahead with the manufacture. The furniture and vault fixtures will be modern and of an elaborate scale, in keeping with the standard of material and work in the entire building.

TOO WINDY FOR RIVERS

Hill Slippery; But Few Able to Keep Their Feet.

More Than 1,500 Spectators Turn Out to First Ski Tournament.

For the second time, Ote Floring yesterday won the Martin Smith trophy for professional jumpers and George Jacobson laid claim to the News Tribune trophy for amateurs.

The other winners in the professional class were: John Evenson, August Nordby, Olaf Larson and Elin Dissen. August Nordby made the longest standing jump of the day, 102 feet.

In the amateur class, George Jacobson took first prize, second prize, Coleraine, second prize, and Har- old Landro, third prize. In the class A, amateurs' event, Walter Evans took first and Walter Green second.

The wind whistled down over the hills yesterday afternoon in the vicinity of the hill after it was with difficulty that the men held their places on the slippery snow.

The hill was slippery, uneven, and in no condition for jumping. There was no attempt to jump from the top of the hill, and the men were content with the first landing.

That the ski sport is popular was shown by the fact that more than 1,500 spectators braved the dampness and cold to watch the long hill to the scene of the tournament.

As it was, the large crowd seemed to thoroughly enjoy the sport. Some long falls were taken, and the hill was so slippery that most of the men slid down the hill.

The day was as unsatisfactory for the spectators as it was for the riders, and the standing places were slowly getting started, and there was at times an interval of ten to fifteen minutes between events.

Great plans are being made for the Duluth ski club, and at the same time a session will be held at the Kalamazoo hall last night, the matter was enthusiastically over the hill, and say that the record will undoubtedly be broken.

The standing of the teams in the individual averages, follow:

Team	Standings	Games Played	Won	Lost	Pct.

THE GROCERYMAN.

Chicago News: "It's a-gettin' cold again, Evelina," remarked the groceryman, as he deposited his packages on the kitchen table.

"It certainly is," agreed the pretty cook. "I suppose that's the reason you left the door open."

"Give me time," said the groceryman. "How's that?"

"It's all right, only you shut it on the wrong side of yourself," said the pretty cook.

"You wouldn't want to talk to me through the keyhole, would you?"

"You're dead right, I wouldn't," replied the pretty cook. "I ain't sure that I'm achin' to talk to you any more."

"That's the trouble with you—you ain't sure," remarked the groceryman. "You can't quite make up your mind. Sometimes you think you love me and then other times you get the idea that I ain't no more to you than a lesson from this here weather. See how the leaves is a-droppin' from the trees. There ain't but a few of 'em left an they're mighty yellow. That's the way it is with you. You say you love me and then you get the idea that I ain't no more to you than a lesson from this here weather."

"You wouldn't carry up the coal for me, would you?" asked the pretty cook.

"I wouldn't think of it," replied the groceryman. "I'd carry up the coal for you any carry out the ashes an' beat the carpets an' wash the clock an' rush the cat if I need it."

"I wouldn't think of imposin' on a man that way," said the pretty cook. "He'd need all his strength to rest if he was like most men. Do you think he'd carry the washin' home an' collect the money for it an' bustle around an' get me washin'?"

"That's what I'd want to know atore I give 'em notice here."

"He would if he was anythin' of a man," answered the groceryman. "I'd guarantee to collect all the money if it was me. I'd have a friend—my friend, I know that my husband would be disappointed in me."

"There you are, switchin' back an' forth again," said the groceryman. "I never know where to find you."

"You'll find me right here as long as I'm gettin' good wages," said the pretty cook. "I know when I'm well off."

8:30 WEDNESDAY, JAN. 27

"THEN YOU'LL REMEMBER ME!"

George W. Coleman the noted sociologist, discussed, during the recent sociological conference at Sagamore beach, tips and tippings.

"I have a friend," said Mr. Coleman, "who belongs to an anti-tipping association. My friend, obeying the rules of his society, has many quaint experiences."

"He went traveling in the West in the spring. He dined one night in a fashionable Western restaurant, and after paying his bill, he gathered up the change that had been brought up on a silver plate, and dropped it into his waistcoat pocket."

"As he rose to depart, the waiter said in a low, appealing voice: 'Surely, you won't forget me, sir?'"

"No, no," said my friend, "I'll write to you."

RAILROADS

RAILROAD MEN IDLE

Very Little Freight Moving at the Present Time.

A Review of the Lumber, Coal and Wheat Situation.

Duluth railroad men are sitting idly at home, desks and waiting for the winter dullness to pass away. It is not that they are discouraged over the outlook for good business; they are simply accepting the condition as a logical one in the face of the situation over the country, and waiting for the increase of traffic that present conditions promise.

Said a prominent local freight traffic man this morning:

"We are just at the present time in the very midst of the year's business dullness. The Duluth jobbers and wholesalers are taking inventory, and disposing of their goods on hand, and just at the present time the local railroads are getting very little business through that source."

"Then there is plenty of stored wheat at the Head of the Lakes, but at the present time there is no market for it. Last year the situation was very much different. There was a demand for wheat from the East, and the demand is not strong enough to cause the shippers to send the wheat to the all-rail route. Then, too, there is a lot of wheat at the present time. Lumber is being taken down last fall by the carriers. There is also a good supply of wheat at the present time. The demand for wheat in the East, these two shipping points have the advantage over Duluth."

"The pulpwood movement is exactly the same. Last year the railroads in a large amount of pulpwood to the Wisconsin mills are overstocked. The result is that there is so little pulpwood moving that the railroads have abandoned the effort to get this kind of business."

"Now we come to the lumber situation. There is practically no lumber moving from Duluth. On the contrary, there is a fairly heavy movement of lumber the other way. Lumber is being taken down last fall by the carriers. There is also a good supply of wheat at the present time. The demand for wheat in the East, these two shipping points have the advantage over Duluth."

THE UNTRUTHFUL SOLDIER.

Pat and Mike were in the same company during the civil war. Having heard much about the horrors of being left wounded and helpless on the battlefield for days, they formed a pact that they would stay close together in the first battle they went into, and either of them would carry the other to safety.

Not long after a great battle began, Mike lay wounded and helpless on the battlefield. Pat, who was a brave soldier, saw Mike in this position and went to his aid. He carried Mike to safety and carried him to the rear.

After a short wedding journey, Rev. and Mrs. Harmon will be at home in the West end.

Two weddings took place in the West end yesterday, both ceremonies being performed by Rev. J. Wilfrid Loughridge of the Central Baptist church.

the legislature, was by Iver J. Lee of Pope county, and it prohibits "treating" with intoxicating liquors. For the first offense a fine of $5 to $10 is provided, and for subsequent offenses the fine is $10 to $20.

Saloon keepers are also prohibited from giving or accepting bribes, and they are required to post conspicuously in their places of business signs informing the patrons that "treating" is prohibited by law.

If the saloon keeper fails to observe the law his penalty is greater. He must pay $25 to $50 for a first offense, and $50 to $100 for subsequent offenses.

Representative Borge yesterday afternoon introduced his new tonnage tax bill, briefly outlined in a dispatch to the Herald last evening. It will replace the former bill, which provided a flat tax of 10 per cent for state purposes and 15 per cent for local purposes.

The new bill provides a graduated tax based upon the percentage of iron, as follows:

One yielding less than 49 per cent in metallic iron, 2 cents per ton.

One yielding 49 per cent and over, and less than 54 per cent, 4 cents per ton.

One yielding 54 per cent and over, and less than 59 per cent, 6 cents per ton.

One yielding 59 per cent and over, 8 cents per ton.

Practically all of the production will come under the 6-cent rate, as very little ore under 59 per cent is now being mined.

The bill divides ore lands into two classes. Those upon which mining has been done are known as Class A, and all lands between May 1 and Sept. 1, in any year to be known as Class B.

Class A mines are to be taxed on the value of the ore produced, and Class B mines are to be taxed on the value of the land.

All mineral lands are to be listed and valued by the assessor of the county, and the value of the ore produced is to be included in the valuation of the land.

The assessor of the county is to be authorized to employ a mineral expert, and through this expert to procure and lay before the tax commission by the first Tuesday in September of each year a list of all the iron mines in Class A, with the description of the property, the name of the mine and the names of the owners and operators.

The tax commission is to certify to the county auditor a description of each tract belonging to Class A, together with the valuation of the ore produced, and the value of the land.

The county auditor is to be authorized to employ a mineral expert, and through this expert to procure and lay before the tax commission by the first Tuesday in September of each year a list of all the iron mines in Class A, with the description of the property, the name of the mine and the names of the owners and operators.

$12.50 Shaving Stand, $6.25

We have a number of desirable pieces in shaving stands, and all going at tremendous cuts. The one in question is a Quartered Oak with a splendid plate mirror, very similar to cut, only it has drawers and cupboard instead of the regular article for any gentleman, and can be bought this week $6.25 only at $6.25

Buy Stoves Now
We cannot emphasize too strongly the advisability of buying anything you are going to need in the stove line for the next year before this sale comes to an end.

Only think, this week you can buy any of our superb Universal Heaters at 20 per cent off the regular prices; and you know that Universals at regular prices are as good as the wheat.

The reduction on some of our other stoves is as great as 50 per cent.

Where can you make a better investment than to buy a stove NOW—this week—for next winter?

$13 Extension Table, $7.80
Almost Like Cut.

Here is a table that is as staple as sugar any day in the year at the regular price of $13. Some ask $15 for it. It is beautifully finished in Solid Oak, well and strongly made all through, has a full extension, and it will probably be a long time before you will again be able to buy it at less than regular. Come and get one this week at $7.80 slippi river in Aitkin county, at what is known as the Pine Knoll ferry. Representative McGarry also introduced a bill requiring deputy sheriffs and deputy county auditors to file their bonds with registers of deeds.

Representative Spence of Montgomery offered his bill, described yesterday, authorizing boards of county commissioners to spend county funds in advertising the resources of their respective counties in co-operation with the state immigration board.

Representative Robertson of Argyle offered a bill providing for a state tax upon peddlers graduated from $100 for peddlers with a wagon and two horses to $10 for peddlers who travel on foot and carry their goods on their backs.

Representative Bicknell of Morris offered a joint resolution memorializing congress to pass the bill introduced by Senator Clapp turning over to the state for an agricultural school the Indian school at Morris, Minn.

Passenger trains must have a full crew before going out upon the road, according to the provisions of a bill introduced yesterday afternoon by Representative Hurlbut of St. Paul.

Discriminating between localities in the sale of any commodity is forbidden by a bill introduced by Representative E. Rosecrance of Madison. The measure is modeled after the law now on the statute books applying to the Standard Oil company, and it provides punishment where, in the attempt to stifle competition, large concerns sell any locality at different prices from those charged in other localities, excepting such differences as freight rates will account for. If a corporation does this its charter is to be annulled, and if it is an individual he is to be fined $250 to $10,000. These penalties, the bill explicitly states, are in addition to those now provided by any other existing law covering this subject.

Safety of trains is contemplated by a bill introduced by Representative Burdette Thayer of Spring Valley, which provides that railroads must be in constant communication between all stations and the office of the chief dispatcher.

Representative J. N. Johnson of Canby offered a bill proposing an amendment to the constitution that will eliminate the present wording which limits the right to vote to males.

The fight before the house normal school committee on the location of the proposed new normal school for North ern Minnesota will not be resumed this afternoon, as expected. The members of the committee having been postponed until Wednesday afternoon at 8 o'clock.

The beginning of the fight for reapportionment appears to be at hand. Frank T. White, chairman of the house committee on reapportionment, yesterday afternoon announced a meeting of his committee for this afternoon. Organization and a preliminary survey of the work ahead of the committee is all that is contemplated.

The house yesterday afternoon passed the senate bill appropriating $5,500 for furnishing and heating the model school at the Moorhead normal. The building, which was provided for by the legislature two years ago, is completed and ready for business just as soon as this appropriation is available.

The house refused to look seriously upon Representative Lobeck's bill prohibiting charivari—pronounced, in common parlance, "gravares"—parties for newly wedded couples. The committee on crimes and punishments, to which the bill was referred, had reported it back to the house without recommendation. Representative Lobeck moved that the bill be printed and placed on general orders, but the house voted down the motion. Mr. Lobeck, who is a Prohibitionist member, denied any special interest in the bill, but explained that it was a good and necessary provision which had been omitted for some reason, in the revision of the laws which took place four years ago.

The bill by Representative Gates on Kenyon, closing the prairie chicken season for the next two years, was reported favorably by the house committee on game and fish.

On motion of Representative J. N. Johnson of Canby, author of the bill, active and referendum bill, John Z. White of Chicago was invited to address the house on this subject next Wednesday morning.

The house adopted a resolution offered by Representative L. H. Johnson of Minneapolis, requesting the railroad and warehouse commission to provide copies of the excellent state map it publishes, mounted upon linen, for every county auditor's office, every railroad station and every hotel in the state.

The house committee on crimes and punishments recommended for passage Representative Lobeck's bill raising the age of consent from 16 to 18 years, and the bill will go upon general orders for consideration by the house in committee of the whole. Two years ago this bill was defeated.

The house committee on crimes and punishments also approved the bill prohibiting boys from going into bowling alleys, as an amendment to the present law forbidding their presence in billiard and pool halls.

BIG WATER CARNIVAL

Aquatic Exhibition Draws a Large Crowd to the Y. M. C. A.

Swimming, Diving and Floating Stunts Are Much Enjoyed.

Exhibitions of speed, novel feats of swimming and diving, and some of the eddy made the program at the water carnival in the swimming pool of the Y. M. C. A. last night. The novelty of the attraction drew a crowd that took up all the space around the big tank and every number on the program was thoroughly enjoyed. A large part of the crowd was made up of ladies and to them especially the exhibition was a unique entertainment.

Dr. W. Chapman easily won the different speed contests. He swam with a long graceful stroke and makes fine headway through the water. He won the 20-yard swim in 11 seconds and the 100-yard swim in 1 minute, 24 seconds. The 100-yard swim in 1 minute, 40-2-5 seconds.

The longest distance resulted in a tie between Bailey and Helmer. The hoop race, in which the contestants went through three hoops in swimming the length of the pool, was won by Helmer also. Later on the swim for distance under water and received hearty applause for a good effort. He swam the length of the pool, turned around and swam back almost to the starting point, a distance of about 100 feet in all. Kirk also made a good effort in that event, swimming about 50 feet under the surface.

The high dive brought out some fine diving over a 40 ft. high diving board. Dr. Chapman, Johnson, Kirk and Nelson started, but the latter won several inches over the others, his final dive being 6 feet, 6 inches.

The exhibition of floating by E. R. Anderson, known as the "brook trout" and the "human cork," was one of the features of the carnival. Mr. Anderson evidently has no trouble in making the surface of the water as long as he wishes, without swimming. When he first went into the water, he wore two bathing suits and he removed one of them while floating. He drank from a glass, and lighted a cigar while floating about. With the cigar in his mouth, he read aloud from a newspaper. Still smoking the cigar, he was towed over a 40 ft. high diving board. The final feat of Mr. Anderson's exhibition was a difficult one. With his hands and feet, he dove head first, wards off the spring board, and kicking with his bound feet, he swam the entire length of the pool.

An exhibition of fancy and eccentric diving followed. Mr. Anderson's exhibition was a difficult one. With his hands and feet, he dove head first, wards off the spring board, and kicking with his bound feet, he swam the entire length of the pool.

FITWELLS WIN FROM ELECTRICS

Three Teams Are Still Tied for First Place.

The Fitwells bowling team took two games out of three from the Big Duluths on the Central alleys last night. This victory over the clothing house teams places the Fitwells crew among the three teams that are now tied for first place in the league.

The Centrals, Columbians and Fitwells now have a standing in the percentage column of 567. If the Fitwells defeat the General Electrics in the game to be rolled with them tonight, they will then head the league.

Same Olson of the Fitwells team last night rolled the highest, making 224 pins in the first game and Schultz of the same team walked off with the high average of 127.

The detailed scores follow:

AERO CLUB WILL PUT UP PRIZES

"Cloud Riders" Hope to Increase Interest in the Sport.

New York, Jan. 26.—Two rich prizes which were offered to encourage the building of aeroplanes are open for inventors in the United States and entries for these events can be made through the Aero Club of America, which is a member of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale and sole representative of that federation in this country. The Michelin cup, which was recently won by Wilbur Wright in France, is one of these prizes. The cup is worth $2,500 and each year for eight consecutive years there is a cash prize of 20,000 francs, or $4,000 for the winner. The rules for this prize change each year and are to be announced some time this month. The prize last year was for the flying machine making the longest flight. An entry fee of $10 is required and the Aero Club of America will receive entries, provide proper testing grounds and send officials to witness the trials and certify to the results. The winner holds the cup until it has been won by some other contestant and each winner receives a miniature of the trophy. If the prize is not won during any one of the eight years the $4,000 is added to the next year's fund, making the total cash prize for that year $5,000.

The Aero Club of America also has the sole right for making entries for the international aviation prize open to countries represented in the Federation Aeronautique Internationale. The first contest for this prize will be held in Paris next summer, probably during the month of July, and the prize is $5,000 in cash in addition to a cup valued at $2,500, which is to be held for a year by the nation of the country of the winner. Each nation in the federation has a right to three entries. It is probable that America will be represented by the Wright brothers and by a third entrant, to be selected and who will probably use a Wright machine. Entries for this contest close March 1, 1909.

RELATIONS ARE NOW RESUMED

Iowa and Ames Athletic Boards Agree to Bury Hatchet.

Logan, Iowa, Jan. 26.—Iowa and Ames have resumed relations. Not only will a football game be played by the two institutions next fall, but a basketball contest and baseball game will be played this spring. Prof. A. G. Smith of Iowa and Prof. S. W. Brewer of Ames held a conference in which the schedules have been talked over and the dates will be announced next week. Neither Ames nor Iowa will issue a statement on the matter but simply resumed relations as if no break had occurred.

The game between Iowa and Ames this year will be played either on Nov. 13 or Nov. 20.

This ends the two years' rupture following the grueling foot game in which "Chic" Kirk was disabled.

St. Paul, Jan. 26.—It was announced yesterday that Dorando Pietri, the Italian runner, and John Hayes of New York will meet in a fifteen-mile race here on the evening of Feb. 22. The race will be a handicap.

HOCKEY CRAZE HITS NEW YORK

Gotham Sport Lovers Go "Bugs" Over Great Canadian Game.

New York, Jan. 26.—Ice hockey has developed into a genuine craze here this winter. The games at St. Nicholas rink these days are drawing large crowds and the enthusiasm is at white heat. There is much rivalry among those who take part in the skating races for the reason that a large silver trophy, will be awarded to the racer who scores the greatest number of points during the winter season. The rink is a magnet for noted speed merchants, and many novices are catching on to the roller polo contests which have been held in New England for many years and which attract crowds similar in size and enthusiasm. But the ice game is much faster than that played on brass rollers and wooden floors.

GERMAN ARTIST MAKES BIG OFFER

Earnest Siegfried Wrestler, Pays Each Opponent $100 to Face Him.

New York, Jan. 26.—Ernest Siegfried, the German champion wrestler, is here and will give an exhibition in Madison Square Garden on the night of Jan. 28. On that occasion it is his purpose to pay any man $100 who will face him on the mat. If his opponent succeeds in staying thirty minutes he will give him $250. Nobody is barred, and nothing would suit the big German better than to have Gutch, Jenkins, Rogers and Mahmut all there at the same time. It costs nothing to enter. Siegfried is paying all the expenses. It looks as if the American wrestlers couldn't dodge the offer very easily. Siegfried wants to try these men out and offer them a little change for the experience. If they are found of sufficient ability to give him a fight he will arrange a match and bet any amount of money that he will win.

KETCHEL HAS ANOTHER DREAM

Middleweight Champion Says He Can Beat Big Jack Johnson.

New York, Jan. 26.—Stanley Ketchel, the middleweight champion, who aspires to a match with Jack Johnson, the world's heavyweight king, is confident that he can best the big negro. He states that Johnson's cleverness has been far overrated and that he has met and defeated him fully as shifty as the heavyweight

STAGG SWAMPED BY CHALLENGES

Many Colleges Want to Play Football With Maroons.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—Director Stagg of the Maroons declared yesterday that his complete football schedule for next fall would be announced by the end of the week. Contests with Cornell, Wisconsin and Minnesota already have been arranged for, and the open dates will be filled at the meeting of the board of athletics and physical culture next Saturday, when the choice will be made between the various institutions which have asked for games.

While the last week many requests for contests have reached Stagg from schools both in the East and West. The Midway athletic head said Sunday that Brown, Purdue, Nebraska, Northwestern and Drake and Iowa had sent in letters in which was stated a desire to play the Western champions next season. Since it is manifestly impossible to take on all these rivals, the Chicago board will be called upon to exercise their discretion in choosing the remaining three opponents for Stagg's famous gridiron machine.

While a game with Illinois has not yet been definitely settled, the downstate collection undoubtedly will be given a date.

AMERICANS DEFEATED.

Nice Sporting Men Defeat Sailors From Fleet at Football.

Nice, Jan. 26.—A football match was played here yesterday afternoon between eleven made up from the officers of the American battleship now at Ville Franche and members of sporting clubs at Nice, Cannes and Monaco. The shore team won by a score of 5 to 1, because of its greater practice.

The game was witnessed by an applauding crowd. The officers were clad in blue, while their opponents wore white. The Americans fought warmly, but they could not prevail and the shore team's cure. Each player received an appropriate prize.

FAIRMOUNTS ARE DEFEATED

Adams Alumni Hockey Team Takes First Game 3 to 1.

The Adams Alumni hockey team last night defeated the Fairmounts by a score of 3 to 1 in the first game played in the Duluth Amateur Hockey association schedule.

The game was played at the Central ice rink located on Third street near Tenth avenue west, and, taking into consideration the soft condition of the ice, it was a fast exhibition.

During the first half neither side would be able to score, although at times both teams succeeded in getting the puck very close to the goal.

In the second half E. Olson scored the first goal for the Adams team. During the latter part of the half the Fairmounts seemed to lose their "pep" while the Adams scored twice more while the Fairmounts were able to get but one lonely goal.

The teams lined up as follows:

WILL PICTURE BIG TOURNAMENT

Duluth Man Will Take Moving Pictures of Eau Claire Event.

E. A. Nelson of the Mutual Electric company has announced that he will be on the scene of the national ski tournament to be held in Eau Claire, Wis., early in February, with a moving picture machine, and will endeavor to picture the event so that all the country may see what sort of sport skiing is.

Only in the Northern part of the country and in Canada is the Norwegian sport known at all. In many places, while the people have read of the sport and seen it pictured in the magazines, they have little idea of misgiving, they have little idea of really what a great winter pastime it really is.

So far as is known, there are at this time no moving pictures of American ski riders, and they should prove both interesting and instructive. The film will be exhibited in all the moving picture theaters throughout the country.

NEW BILL TO BE DRAFTED MAKING NEW EXEMPTIONS FROM THE ANTI-PASS LAW

To Exempt Firemen, Policemen, Mail Carriers and Health Officers.

Legislators May Visit Towns Wanting New Normal School.

Public Hearing on Bills on the Taxation of Railroads.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—The house bill committee yesterday afternoon held a public hearing on the anti-pass law, and without getting much further ahead.

The upshot of the meeting was that the three pending bills were referred to a committee of three to be appointed by the chairman, which committee is expected to draft a new bill covering the points deemed necessary, to be reported back to the committee by Monday.

The committee came nearly recommending for passage the Nimocks bill, with an amendment broadening its scope, as it covers everything that has thus far been deemed necessary. It exempts from the provisions of the anti-pass law firemen, policemen, mail carriers, and health officers in uniform. The object being to let these officers get street car passes if the companies will give them. There was no objection to this by any member of the committee, nor was there opposition to the further provision that the anti-pass law should not apply to railroad employees holding non-salaried public office.

However, Representative Washburn and Representative Spooner called attention to the fact that the bill would exempt from the law all persons who are not salaried by the state or city.

NEGRO ARRESTED, DISCIPLE GARBED

New Orleans, La., Jan. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—A young negro created great excitement in several of the streets of New Orleans last night before he was finally arrested.

Coming in a loud voice, he had been sent to warn all men that the earth was coming to an end in three days. He visited several residences and turned his attention to saloons on Canal street, exhorting the proprietors to close.

He declared he was commanded by God to dress as did the disciples.

Washington, Jan. 27.—"I cannot praise too highly the behavior of the officers and crews of the Republic and Florida," said Miss Leslie Jackson, one of the Republic survivors, who arrived in Washington today from New York. Their actions were simply splendid and the discipline was perfect. A color lot of men I never saw anywhere and we felt perfectly safe when we saw how all the officers had the situation in hand."

Miss Jackson and Miss Grace Atwater, her traveling companion, who stopped over at Elizabeth N. J., are well-known artists. Miss Jackson is secretary of the Washington Art club, and she and Miss Atwater were on their way abroad to study art in the foreign capitals. She declared that they would resume a trip as soon as they had replenished their wardrobes.

EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY

Wide-Open Law Proposed by F. B. Wright of Minneapolis.

Eveleth Man Wants Superior Court Established on Iron Ranges.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—A wide-open employers liability law is proposed in a bill offered in the house this morning by Representative F. B. Wright of Minneapolis, who thus anticipates the proposed commission which the employers and workers of the state are going to ask the legislature to provide, in order that a proper workingman's compensation act may be drafted for the next legislature. Mr. Wright is in with his now, and it provides that, regardless of contributory negligence, fellow-servants doctrine, or the doctrine of assumption of risk, men injured in the course of their employment shall be properly compensated therefor by a commission, appointed by the governor, of two members of the bar, two physicians and a lawyer. Employers are authorized to organize a fund, with the state treasurer as custodian, out of which all damages shall be paid.

N. B. Arnold of Eveleth is here working for the bill to provide a court on the iron ranges to be known as the superior court. Instead of a bill to give the Eleventh judicial district a new judge. The new court is to have all the powers of a district court with three deputies at $1,200 each. General Arnold is here in Virginia, in January, April and September in Hibbing in February, May and October.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 27.—The Associated Press correspondent at Winnipeg wires as follows:

"We have an indefinite report from Fernie, B. C., that twenty men are imprisoned in the Coal Creek mine of the Crowns Nest Pass Coal company, on an explosion."

The cause was either a "bump" or an explosion.

The accident was in the Morrissey mines eight miles west of Fernie, B. C.

HOTEL FIRE CLAIMS TWO

Homesteaders Perish in the Destruction of Big Falls Hostelry.

One Woman Probably Fatally Burned and Others Are Injured.

Remedj, Minn., Jan. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the most destructive fires which has ever occurred in the history of Big Falls took place this morning shortly after midnight, and as a result J. J. Curley and Joseph Leblanc, two homesteaders, who were sleeping in the building, lost their lives.

Paul Lawrence, owner of a saloon and restaurant in the burned building, lies in the hospital here near unto death, being badly burned on his hands, feet and the back of his neck. The condition of Mrs. Lawrence, his wife, is still more painful. In attempting to get out of her room, which was on the second story of the building, and in attempting to force their way down the left side and on her back and her feet. While crossing a street she took a fall, and her injured feet were left in the snow.

Two unknown guests were sleeping in the third story of the building, and in attempting to force their way down stairs were burned about their hands and feet. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to have been started from the explosion of a lamp or the placing of a lighted lamp too close to the walls of the building, the walls being made of heavy paper and not plastered, and soon the whole building was in flames. The fire department did excellent work. The total loss is estimated as follows: Audett & Gagnon, on building, $3,000; Lawrence & Tremblay, on stock and fixtures, $2,000; Edwards building and saloon, $1,500.

HELD BY HAIR, SHE IS SAVED

Girl Seriously Injured When Ice Boat Is Smashed.

Menominee, Mich., Jan. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Nina J. Christopherson was seriously injured and her cousin, Albert, was painfully hurt this morning when the Christopherson ice boat, racing at a forty miles an hour pace, failed to leap a huge crack on the bay and was smashed to pieces.

Miss Christopherson was struck on the head by a falling mast and was knocked senseless into the water. Her cousin, with his right leg pinned by the mast and held her until assistance arrived.

BACK IN HARNESS ON NATIONAL COMMITTEE

COL. JAMES GUFFEY.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 27.—Col. James Guffey, the Pittsburgh oil magnate, has been unanimously chosen as the Pennsylvania member of the Democratic national committee, to succeed James Kerr, deceased. Guffey was defeated for the position at the Denver convention, William J. Bryan dictating the election of Mr. Kerr. The result was a sensational controversy between Guffey and Bryan.

REPUBLICANS ABIDE BY POPULAR VOTE

FRANCIS G. NEWLANDS.

Carson, Nev., Jan. 27.—United States Senator Francis G. Newlands, Democrat, who had been chosen by popular vote to succeed himself, was yesterday re-elected by both houses of the legislature, voting separately. In the senate he received 17 votes, two members not casting their ballots. The assembly gave him the full vote of 48. The Republicans stood by their agreement to abide by the popular vote, and placed no candidate in nomination.

STEPHENSON LACKS TWO

Wisconsin Senator Comes Near Re-election in Legislative Balloting.

Democrats Vote, Twenty Strong, for Brown of Wausau.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 27.—United States Senator Jesse Stephenson failed of re-election when the first joint ballot was taken today. He was able to muster but sixty-five votes, lacking two of the necessary majority to elect. The Democratic strength went to Neal Brown of Wausau, who received twenty votes. The remaining votes were scattered among Governor Davidson, Congressman Cooper, Esch and others.

The Stephenson supporters gained a victory in the assembly today when that body practically killed the Blaine resolution adopted by the senate calling for an investigation of the United States senatorial primary campaign when an attempt was made to suspend action on the measure under a suspension of the rules. After taking the first ballot both houses adjourned until tomorrow morning.

Today's ballot resulted: Stephenson, 65; S. A. Cook, 4; H. A. Cooper, 1; E. A. Morse, 1; J. H. Davidson, 4; J. J. Esch, 7; W. D. Hoard, 2; Jacob Rummel, 4; J. H. Stout, 2; W. C. Owen, 1; L. H. Bancroft, 1; F. E. McGovern, 1; M. J. Clegg, 1; E. A. Edmonds, 1; John Strange, 1; H. M. Lockney, 1; Brown, 20; Webb, 1; Leinroot, 1; Estabrook, 1; Donald, 1; absent, 2.

Senators Lack Horan.
In the senate there was a lack of a quorum from the start. Senator Brazee, a La Follette Republican, criticized the journal clerk, charging him with having distorted the record of yesterday's proceedings, relating to Senator Martin's motion providing for the voting of "present" of senators who did not wish to vote for a candidate for United States senator.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 27.—Governor Hughes today withdrew the nomination of Frederick A. Wallis as state superintendent of insurance at Governor Hughes' request. In a letter to Governor Hughes, Wallis said: "While the criticisms which have been directed against me since my nomination are without foundation and nothing has been or can be developed which can reflect upon me in any manner whatsoever, I do not care to accept the office to which so much political opposition has been directed."

HOUSE TAKES WILLETTS SPEECH FROM RECORDS; FAINT NAYS ARE HEARD

WILLIAM J. WILLETTS, JR.

Committee Holds Attack on Roosevelt Not "Orderly Debate."

Brooklyn Congressman Files Protest, Citing Freedom of Speech.

Report Says House Should Protect President From Personal Abuse.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The house, with but a few faint nays, today adopted the report of the special committee on the Willett speech, which recommended that the speech delivered in the house last week, in which the president was severely criticized, be expunged from the congressional records. A letter written to the committee by Representative Willett, urging that his speech should remain on record, accompanied the report.

Declaring that "the consideration of the speech in question involves a consideration of what is and what is not orderly debate in the house," the committee's report defines the privileges of members of the house and the limitations of debate. It discusses at length the relationship of the two houses of congress and the relations which must be maintained between the house of representatives and the president in accordance with the Constitution.

The report declares that it would seem that the peculiar constitutional duties of the house in relation to the president and the president's duties do not preclude a clear view of distinction between the duties of the two bodies of congress necessary for performance of the constitutional duties of the house and a criticism merely personal and unconstructive.

Mountain Forest Reserve Advocates Pleased Over Weeks Bill Report.

Washington, Jan. 27.—As a result of an unexpected victory yesterday in obtaining from the house committee on agriculture a favorable report on the Weeks forest reserve bill, advocates of forest reserves in the White mountains of New England and the Appalachians of the South are preparing for one of the hardest fights of this session in order to achieve the full fruits of their present victory.

Although little time remains for the consideration of any other than the regular appropriation bills, the representatives interested will bring strong pressure to bear to obtain a day for the consideration of the Weeks bill. The leaders in the movement claim that they have reason to believe that the house will consider the bill at this session, and they are hopeful that it will pass.

GERMAN WAR LORD IS 50 YEARS OLD

GERMANY CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY OF THE EMPEROR

Berlin, Jan. 27.—The fiftieth anniversary of the birth of Emperor Wilhelm was celebrated today in an unusual manner. All the crowned heads of the German states, excepting the aged Luitpold, regent of Bavaria, came to Berlin to present their congratulations. The city is decorated with flags, and preparations have been made for an illumination this evening on an uncommon scale.

According to the old Prussian tradition, the day was ushered in at 6 o'clock by the intoning of a chorus of trumpeters. At 8 o'clock the castle of Wilhelmstrasse was illuminated by a corps guard, headed by military band, marched the length of Unter den Linden to the Brandenburg gate and back. The streets were lined by crowds of people and a large assemblage cheered the emperor when he appeared at one of the castle windows.

The emperor first received the congratulations of the members of his family and his entourage, and then those of the visiting princes, including the crown prince of Denmark. After religious services in the chapel the emperor and the empress took up a position in the white room of the castle, before the throne, where they received the congratulations of the members of the diplomatic corps, including Dr. Chancellor Von Buelow and the other ministers.

Kaiser Honored in Tokio.

FOUR TEAMS TO ATTEND

Bowlers Will Send Twenty Men to International Tournament.

The Big St. Paul Event Will Last Fourteen Days.

The bowlers are making great plans for the international bowling tournament to be held in St. Paul, beginning Feb. 11 and continuing until Feb. 25. Four teams will represent the Duluth bowlers, and contrary to the usual rule of forming an all-star bunch to represent the city, they will take four of the regular teams just as they line up for play in the handicap league. For some years it has been the custom to organize all-star teams, and never has this system been successful in landing prizes. This year a new method will be used and the officials of the Duluth delegation expect that it will win much better.

The tournament, which will be the biggest ever attempted in the state, will take place on the Conrad alleys in St. Paul. For the last two years the entries have been Minnesota teams exclusively. This year a number of Canadian towns have been admitted, and they will all send teams. The tournament will last fourteen days, and it may take more time than that to get all the events played off.

The amount of the cash prizes hung up this year is larger than ever, and the Duluth men are reasonably sure of bringing home some of the money with them.

Those who have decided to go are the Pitwells, Big Duluths, Columbus and a team of "Pick-ups."

OUTSIDERS WANT DULUTH PLAYERS

A Number of Zenith City Baseball Players Receive Offers.

If the Duluth boys who have been playing semi-professional and amateur ball for the past few seasons are not good enough for Duluth, they seem to be wanted by outside teams.

"Seattle" McAuley, the first left fielder and heavy hitter of last year's Pitwells team, has received an offer from an Iowa State league team. He had not accepted as yet, and will not do so until later in the season.

Frankie McGraw, who looks good to him, and it is understood that he has accepted. He is one of the best players ever developed in Duluth, and will undoubtedly make good with the Wisconsin team.

Frank Summers, who last year played with various fast teams at the head of the Lakes, and in the early part of the year held down a field position on Artie O'Dea's Brandon club, will probably go to Burlington, of the Three I league.

It is understood that a number of other players who have played in Duluth during the past few years have Amateur Hockey Teams Will Clash at the Central Rink.

Tonight at the Central Ice rink, Tenth avenue west and Third street, the Bryants and Lester Park hockey teams will get together for the second game of hockey to be played in the newly organized amateur league.

The colder weather of last night put the ice in fair shape, and the boys expect to pull off a fast game.

The Lester Park team is composed of boys who have played together ever since they were old enough to hold hockey sticks, and if the Bryant team hopes to nose out a victory, they will have to show some speed.

Although once recently organized the Bryant team has made a good record for itself so far this year, defeating a number of the fastest teams, and they will undoubtedly put up a good exhibition.

The line-up of the teams has not been given out.

Masons Will Hold Last Meeting in Their Old Hall.

Eucleda lodge, No. 138, A. F. & A. M., will meet tonight, probably for the last time in its old lodge rooms. After this the meetings will take place in the new West Duluth Masonic Temple on North Central avenue, just above Central street.

It was thought that the meeting would be held there this evening, but it was later decided that as all final decorations have not yet been made, it would be better to meet in the old quarters.

No plans have been made as yet for a formal opening and dedication of the building, though it is expected that plans for such a demonstration will soon be formulated.

The temple, when it is finished, will be one of the most modern and complete buildings in every way in West Duluth. It is of brick and two stories high. The arrangement of the rooms, halls, etc., has been carefully planned. All the work of construction has been done under the direct supervision of members of the order accustomed to such work, and no understanding how to get the best results most economically. The probable cost of the building, which is considered a remarkably small sum, when the size of the building and work on it are taken into account.

Three Cases Called Before Judge Dibell. One Is Tried.

A $30,000 Suit Against Great Northern Is Settled.

Three cases were called before Judge Dibell in district court this morning. Two cases were drawn, and finally one case went to trial.

In the case of Harry Barney and Mike Sarkka, as Barney & Sarkka, vs. Joseph M. Reynolds, a jury was drawn, but no testimony was taken. S. F. White, who appeared for Mr. Reynolds, objected to the introduction of any evidence on the grounds of a stay in the complaint. The objection was sustained, the plaintiffs given a continuance until Feb. 1, 1909.

Twenty days in which to amend a complaint, and the jury was discharged. Barney & Sarkka sued for $25,000, claiming to be due on a building contract entered into Oct. 16, 1907, and $50,000 in money otherwise advanced.

The Great Northern Railway Company, the defendant, made public settlement of the case, and the case was settled.

WEST END WRECKED BY HOODLUMS

Warming Shed at Skating Rink Is Practically Demolished.

Marauders Arouse the Ire of Skaters and the Police.

Ire of the Adams school alumni and all the rest of the skating enthusiasts in the West end, has been aroused by the destruction of the warming shed at the rink. Twenty-first avenue west and the bay. The warming shed has been wrecked and efforts made to spoil the rink.

The outrages took place Monday night, it is thought. The warming house, erected through the efforts of the Adams school alumni and with the assistance of many of the business men of the West end, was almost completely wrecked. The seats were broken up, the stove overturned, and the walls and floor hacked and marred.

Not content with creating havoc with the interior of the warming shed, the marauders demolished several of the tools used by the boys in keeping up the rink, which, since it was started by the West end skating club, has been enjoyed by hundreds of young and old people.

There is no club of the skating enthusiasts, but the police and the skaters are making strenuous efforts to ascertain who was responsible for the business. The skaters are very bitter over the affair. They worked hard to acquire the warming house, to keep it comfortable, and to have the rink open for the winter. Every one, and before Monday night's affair, the skaters could not come to the rink for the reason that the warming shed was not open and the skaters were not so much enjoyed out of the skating there.

NEW BILL TO BE DRAFTED

Attention to the fact that in providing for fire street car rules for the city employees covered by the bill, for the purpose of the railroad, the law would loosen up. Law-makers on the committee of the railroad bill would render the bill unconstitutional to provide that this exemption should apply to a very large number of firemen in this state, for instance, including the members of volunteer fire departments in the smaller towns, and that the way the bill stands it would open the door for a very large number of people—always providing the railroads see fit to give them passes.

However, the Nimocks bill as it stands seems to be safeguarded sufficiently to preserve the objects for which the anti-pass bill was introduced. The chief object of the law, aside from helping to make the 2-cent passenger fare, is to prevent the railroads from working upon the sympathies of the servants of the people by the use of passes. Railroads can accomplish little through giving favors to firemen and policemen, and there is little possibility of corruption in the giving of passes to railroad employees who happen to be chosen for honorary public places.

Some of the old opponents of anti-pass legislation will stand by their colors. Representative Brady of St. Paul is a member of the railroad committee, threatens to introduce a bill to repeal the entire law. Representative John G. ## NEW BILL TO BE DRAFTED

Attention to the fact that in providing for fire street car rules for the city employees covered by the bill, for the purpose of the railroad, the law would loosen up. Law-makers on the committee of the railroad bill would render the bill unconstitutional to provide that this exemption should apply to a very large number of firemen in this state, for instance, including the members of volunteer fire departments in the smaller towns, and that the way the bill stands it would open the door for a very large number of people—always providing the railroads see fit to give them passes.

However, the Nimocks bill as it stands seems to be safeguarded sufficiently to preserve the objects for which the anti-pass bill was introduced. The chief object of the law, aside from helping to make the 2-cent passenger fare, is to prevent the railroads from working upon the sympathies of the servants of the people by the use of passes. Railroads can accomplish little through giving favors to firemen and policemen, and there is little possibility of corruption in the giving of passes to railroad employees who happen to be chosen for honorary public places.

Some of the old opponents of anti-pass legislation will stand by their colors. Representative Brady of St. Paul is a member of the railroad committee, threatens to introduce a bill to repeal the entire law. Representative John G. Johnson of Minneapolis yesterday told the railroad committee that he thought the bill would not have to undergo the humiliation of working for 45 days.

Red Lake Falls got into the Northern Minnesota normal school game yesterday with a bill locating the proposed new school at that place.

S. F. Fullerton, superintendent of fisheries, thinks the state forestry work and the game and fish commission should be under one roof. By combining the two functions, he believes that more efficient work could be done in both directions. The same man could patrol the forests looking out for fire and at the same time weather eye out for violators of the game laws.

At present the state forestry department is practically a no-man's land. It is not a part of the game and fish commission, and the game and fish commission is nowhere near the forestry department. The forestry department is a separate entity, and the game and fish commission is a separate entity.

PAPA ELDRID INTERFERES.

Parent Prevents Marriage of His Young Daughter.

Walker, Minn., Jan. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Enlisting the aid of Chief of Police James E. Campbell of this place, Mr. Eldrid, a resident of Deerfield township, prevented the marriage of his young daughter, Martha Eldrid, to Thomas Holden, a clerk of the Court Palmer's office and took out a license to marry Martha Eldrid, and engaging the services of a lively team, started for Akeley at a lively pace. However, the girl's father, who claimed she was under age, got into Walker on an early train and enlisted the services of the local police, and as a result the marriage was called off for an indefinite period, or until a more favorable opportunity presents itself.

SHINGLE MILL BURNS.

Located north of Newberry, Mich.—Will be Rebuilt.

Newberry, Mich., Jan. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—A shingle mill, owned by Mr. J. H. Smith, and situated on the shore of Lake Michigan, was burned Sunday night. It belonged to the firm of St. James & Underwood, who have large contracts for taking out timber from the lower end of Lake Superior. The loss is estimated at $25,000. It will be rebuilt at once. When operations are begun it will employ thirty-five men.

Left Fat; Back Slender

By "FOOTLIGHTS"

Giau and his overweight chorus from the "Aeroplane" company have returned to New York in what may be described as greatly reduced circumstances. Not as to finances, let it be said, nor yet in numbers, glory be, but in avoidable—that is to say, gross flesh. The entire galaxy has lost out in this respect, much to its advantage.

It seems the people out West will support film ballers, and no other, and our famous "baller" chorus carried so to speak, no weight with them. They treated that prize collection of fat New York beauties with an unprecedented collection of reducing the entire front and rear rows at once, or shiploads them back—"excess" baggage. It was a terrific job, as all who saw the "Aeroplane" can attest. The company's town will admit but our ingenious townsman tackled it and succeeded—broke all records. In fact, and thereby hangs a tale worthy of any fat lady's attention.

Giau didn't rehearse his flock into shape, nor starve them into line, nor own. He paid salaries regularly and let them eat and drink as they listed. He simply laid up a new rule in the dressing rooms to the effect that every lady less than 100 pounds must take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime (or about where her bedtime ought to be), of the following:

One-half ounce, Merck's, into a glass of water.
One-half ounce, Merck's, into a glass of water.
One-half ounce, Merck's, into a glass of water.

They did it and in a month averaged a loss of a pound a day apiece. "That's a dandy receipt," says Giau. "Simplest harness and a worker from the word 'go.' Wish I could get a railroad rate reducer half as good."

DIRECTORY OF AMUSEMENTS

WHERE TO GO TONIGHT.

LICEUM—"Little Johnny Jones."

"COSTER" LIFE.

Kate De Becker Describes the Famous East Side Type.

"During the several years that I have been playing the part of the Coster woman in the third act of 'A Message From Mars,' I have been asked many times if the Coster women really look as I do," said Kate De Becker recently. "I can only say that my impersonation is a faithful copy of hundreds of Coster women I have seen and studied down the Whitechapel road, in the East end of London. The Coster of Whitechapel usually celebrates the close of the week on Saturday night, by getting up—usually drunk and his 'ole gal' considers it her weekly privilege to get the weekly beating and black eye, and woe betide any unwary stranger who, prompted by a feeling of chivalry, attempts to protect the lady from the wrath of her lord and master—for he will most certainly be requested to leave her 'ole man' alone and she might quickly proceed to scratch the eyes out of her would-be knight."

The Coster of Whitechapel, to their men is at times pitiful and pathetic, as the following little story will show. I was going the rounds of one of the wards in the big London hospital, in the White chapel road with a friend, a doctor. We came across a cot occupied by a girl of about 16, who had been in a family smash up.

"Does your father often beat you, like this?" asked the doctor.

"Laws, no sir," replied the poor girl, "he has not once a week sir, and he never hits me with anything harder than 'his' and 'sir'."

"The loveliness, too, of the Coster is unique. A couple went to church to get married, the bride being a lady of the new woman type, refused to respond with the customary 'I will' when asked to love, honor and obey."

"Never mind, boss," said the groom addressing the clergyman and doubling up his fist—"git on with the job, I'll make 'er say 'I will' when I git 'er home'."

"Little Johnny Jones."

The musical play "Little Johnny Jones" was repeated last evening, and the final performance in Duluth will be given tonight.

LOST HIS TEMPER.

Senator Hanna Weighed of Prize Fights in His Theater.

"I met an old gentleman on the train coming out of Seattle two weeks ago," said Branch O'Brien, an advance man for Louis James at the St. Louis last night, "who was making his first trip East in twenty years. His name was J. D. Walsh, and when he found out I was associated with him, Mr. James he told me a yarn about that distinguished actor which I think Mr. James will appreciate when he hears it. As an actor, Mr. Walsh is a real story. I repeat it."

In the early days of the late Senator Hanna's ownership of the Euclid Avenue opera house in Cleveland, it was a great failure of the theater, principally because of the uncertain policy pursued by the local manager, who might be there one night and a prize fight the next, or there might be a great pleasure of very bad variety shows, and then a few nights of the classics.

Senator James was booked for a week in Shakespearean plays, and some homely dramas like "The Gladiator," or "Virginia." He was so sure of doing a light business that when Duncan Ross, the old-time professional athlete, made a cash offer for the use of the theater for Monday night, it was taken, and Mr. James and his company went to Sandusky or Oberlin for that evening, while Ross and a gang of prize fighters and wrestlers held the opera house stage.

"Hanna had been out of the city, but returned on the same Monday evening about 7:30, and when he passed, the opera house in his carriage, the street was literally packed with people seeking admission. Mr. Hanna was so astounded at James drawing so large a crowd, that he stopped his carriage, joined the throng and went through two hours of wrestling and boxing, and growing angrier every minute."

"Just before the end of the entertainment the manager came out on the stage and said: 'Gentlemen, I have a light business to attend to next Friday night. There was a pause, and then Mr. Burke of Cleveland, and William Burke of Chicago, who was then round in this theater next Friday night."

"When the applause had subsided, Mr. Hanna stepped to the front of his box and held up a new rule in the dressing rooms to the effect that every lady less than 100 pounds must take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime (or about where her bedtime ought to be), of the following:

One-half ounce, Merck's, into a glass of water.

Hardware Men Meeting.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 27.—The annual meeting of the North Dakota Hardware Dealers' association opened here yesterday and about 600 members are attending. The commercial club is taking care of the visitors in good shape in spite of the crowded condition of the hotels at this time of the year.

EX-DOG CATCHER BITTEN AND MAY HAVE RABIES.

Brainerd, Minn., Jan. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is a sort of irony fate that Joseph Selick, ex-poundmaster and dog catcher should be bitten by a dog and have to go to Minneapolis to a Pasteur institute to prevent his having hydrophobia. Recently a dog ran amok through town biting several dogs before Selick, who was then poundmaster, killed it. The dogs bitten developed rabies and this alarmed Selick so he has gone to Minneapolis to be sure he did not contract the disease.

NORTHERN WISCONSIN IS SEEKING SETTLERS.

Spooner, Wis., Jan. 27.—At a meeting of the directors of the Northwestern Wisconsin Farm Land association, held in this city Monday, the legislature was asked to appropriate $50,000 to aid in the development of the state and to amend the anti-pass law so as to permit railroads to issue free transportation to bona fide immigration agents.

Through the efforts of this association the Omaha railway has started a campaign of advertising to attract settlers to Northern Wisconsin.

STATE BINDING TWINE PLANT IN OPERATION.

Stillwater, Minn., Jan. 27.—The binding twine plant at the new prison was started yesterday by the force of convicts transferred from the old prison yesterday. The new machinery is working well, and the twine output of the state will be materially increased. The joint committee of the legislature on prison and prison labor will come here tomorrow to inspect the state's new plant.

SLEEPY EYE STORE BURNS.

Sleepy Eye, Minn., Jan. 27.—Fire broke out in the building occupied by the Wilson Drug company early yesterday, and the building, stock and fixtures were almost a complete loss. The origin of the fire is not known. Mr. Wilson and a clerk were asleep in a back room and narrowly escaped. The loss is estimated at $25,000, fully covered by insurance.

SHOOTS GIRL AND SELF.

Jealous North Dakota Man Attempts a Double Crime.

Mohall, N. D., Jan. 27.—(Special to The Herald.)—Driven crazy through jealousy, George Fitzmaurice, a former resident of Crystal, Pembina county, shot and fatally wounded his sweetheart, Gust Nelson, as she was on her way to the Masonic temple with a girl chum and friend to attend a social function.

Then he mortally wounded himself in the head with a rifle. Neither is expected to survive.

KERMIT WIPED OUT.

Williams County, North Dakota Town, Sustains Heavy Loss.

Kermit, N. D., Jan. 27.—The entire business section of Kermit was destroyed by fire yesterday. The total loss is $30,000 with scarcely any inurance. The Langley poolroom and hotel, Miller's butcher shop, Cross millinery, postoffice, Kermit News, McCormick's drug store, Hendrick's general store and Manhard's store were totally destroyed.

WHISKEY FOR LAME BACK

The increased use of whiskey for lame back and rheumatism is causing considerable discussion among the medical fraternity. It is an infallible cure when mixed with certain other ingredients and taken properly. The following is the formula:

To one half pint of good whiskey add one ounce of Toria compound and one ounce syrup Sarsaparilla compound. Take in tablespoonful doses before each meal and before retiring. It is surely worth trying by any one who may be afflicted.

SWINDLERS ARE AT WORK

Soliciting Funds for the Italian Earthquake Sufferers.

One County Jail Prisoner Collected $70 in This Manner.

The "meanest" man is always bobbing up somewhere. The expression has lost its meaning and, in present day parlance, it may safely be applied to anyone guilty of a particularly despicable act. There are a few "meanest men" in St. Louis county at present, and efforts are being made to apprehend them and save possible victims from the effect of their operations.

Swindlers play on all man's passions. Usually, they choose avarice, but now and then sympathy is what they count on to cause the average man to shell out his coin to them. When sympathy for themselves is sought, it isn't so hard. But when they play on the sympathy of men for other unfortunate, so that they may gain money for themselves, they are descending into the lowest depths of their trade.

The recent earthquake in Italy, and the dire straits to which the people of Messina, Reggio and surrounding towns have been reduced by nature's forces, has sent a few of the swindlers out through St. Louis county. It is said that Italian cast of countenance, go forth seeking aid, ostensibly for the earthquake sufferers, but really for themselves. Unscrupulous people readily give up money to what they suppose is a good cause, only to be shamelessly duped.

A man brought down from one of the range towns to serve a term in the county jail, on a vagrancy charge, is said to have had a metropolitan look in his possession, containing the names of people who had contributed money to some cause. It is believed he is one of the men who has been collecting for the Italian sufferers and retaining the money. He would say nothing in explanation of the list, which he showed, but the authorities of the range town believe he secured the money and spent it. None of it went for him, and as he had no visible means of support, he was sent up for vagrancy.

Fortunately there is believed to be but very few such swindlers operating and the influential Italians, who have the real relief work in hand, are warning their countrymen and the public at large to be sure of the good faith of solicitors before they contribute anything to a fund for the sufferers.

HATPINS WIN ASSAULT EPHEMERIC; TOTTEN TERRORIZED

Dayton, Ohio, Jan. 27.—The epidemic of criminal assault in this city continues. Last night, in a portion of the city far removed from the scenes of the other recent attacks, two girls, whose names could not be learned, were stopped and seized by a man, known to them, but both fought desperately and their assailant was driven off.

They met Mrs. David Wirth, a widow, and to her related their experience. Mrs. Wirth continued on her way, and when near the scene of the attack, she was confronted by a man answering the description given by the girls. Mrs. Wirth, who is an unusually small, but plucky little woman, struck the man over the head with her handbag, as he attempted to seize her by the throat, and escaped.

The girls had defended themselves with hatpins. The number of women stopped and seized by the man, since the murder of the Foshner girl, and the female population of Dayton is in a state of terror.

Still another attempt at assault has been reported from the business section of the city, but no names can be learned.

MAKE BEST BOOSTERS

"Salesmen Cannot be Thrown in Wastebasket," Says Neff.

Commercial Club Will Get in Closer Touch With Them.

"There isn't a man living who can put a Duluth traveling man in the waste paper basket, at least not until he has had his say," said B. P. Neff, in addressing the public affairs committee of the Commercial club, last evening, urging the committee to organize the traveling salesmen, with headquarters at Duluth, into a boosters' club.

"We have tried newspapers, and we have found them an excellent means of advertising. In fact we are now circulating the West Coast edition of our own paper. We have tried pamphlets, but they throw the pamphlets into the waste paper basket. But they can't throw a traveling man into the waste paper basket. We have the finest class of traveling salesmen working for Duluth houses that you will find in this country, and they are the best boosters for a city that a city can have."

"But in passing through Fargo recently, where so many salesmen make their headquarters, I was struck by the fact that most of them were talking Chicago and the Twin Cities, and Duluth was rarely mentioned. I believe that is a situation which we should get into touch with them."

Neff said that he had after him a traveling man, which they can hand out to their customers, and, if necessary, they can turn all the traveling men into a boosters' club. The other suggestions made by Mr. Neff may be taken up.

At the close of the meeting, but they made a big hit with the members of the Commercial club, and a committee was appointed to secure a list of all the traveling men in Duluth, and to have them requested to join the Duluth Boosters' club. Later, the other suggestions made by Mr. Neff may be taken up.

STATEHOOD IS RUSHED

later and protect for a term of years private forest lands upon any watershed whereon lands may be permanently reserved, hereafter designated as national forest lands. It is provided that the lands shall be removed from these lands except under regulations approved by the federal government.

Every effort is being made by the state committee on territory to reach the Arizona and New Mexico separate statehood bill in the end of next week. The statehood bill is being framed by the Republican members of the legislature, and the bill is being introduced in the legislature. The bill is being introduced in the legislature.

The bill probably will provide for grants of land by the federal government to be used for the purpose of liquidating certain territorial debts. It is proposed to give New Mexico two representatives and Arizona one at large in the house.

That the senate has no right to call upon the committee on territory for information which may have been obtained from the United States Steel corporation when he countenanced that corporation's absorption of the Tennessee Coal & Iron company is the opinion of the judiciary committee appointed to investigate the merger.

The situation is proving embarrassing to the judiciary committee, but regardless of this fact, it has been decided to proceed with the inquiry and report to the senate whether the president had authority to permit the merger.

Cummins' Maiden Speech. Senator Cummins of Iowa yesterday delivered his maiden speech in opposition to the postal savings bank bill in the form in which it had been reported to the senate. The speech was reported to the senate by the committee on postoffice and postroads. He declared that Iowa has more banking institutions than any other state of the union, and spoke in favor of his amendment, which authorized the deposit of postal savings funds in any bank whether organized under national, state or territorial laws. He also warned the senate against the provision of the bill which exempts deposits in postal savings banks from all liens.

Cummins spoke for an hour, receiving careful attention. Under the control of the speaker of the house and the enormous power with which he is armed, he can compel any member properly discharge his duties to the nation.

This query was propounded yesterday by Mr. Murdock of Kansas, in the course of a speech in the house of representatives. Mr. Murdock proposed four concrete propositions. In one he cited a case in which, he said, a secret service agent under a congressional commission had been paid over $28 a day, which he said was a "good deal of money" for a man who had been in the service for three years.

dock said could not be done under the terms of the act. He charged that an excess of payment of $35,000 a year had been made to the lady bridge at St. Louis for mail charges. The fourth was the payment by the house of $100,000 to carry fifty passengers, before being granted a clearance for a foreign port. The fifth was the payment by the house of $100,000 to carry fifty passengers, before being granted a clearance for a foreign port.

Donnelly confirmed the nomination of Samuel B. Donnelly of New York for mail printer. The senate committee on printing investigated charges that upon assuming the management of government printing office, Mr. Donnelly had discharged a number of non-union men without their consent or that of any of the chairmen.

"He would," he declared, "at a later day attempt to bring about a reform in this regard, but with no hope of success."

As an outcome of the triumph of the wireless telegraph in saving the lives of passengers and crew of the ill-fated White Star liner Republic, congress may require every ocean steamer to be equipped with a wireless apparatus.

Representative James Francis Burke of Pennsylvania yesterday introduced a bill to require every ocean passenger steamer to be equipped with a wireless apparatus. The bill would require every ocean passenger steamer to be equipped with a wireless apparatus.

A step toward the carrying out of the plan agreed upon by the recent waterways conference was taken yesterday when Representative Randall of Louisiana, Representative Moore of Pennsylvania, Shirley of Kentucky and Bartholomew of Missouri, jointly introduced a bill for the creation of a waterways commission and another for the improvement of waterways. The bill would require every ocean passenger steamer to be equipped with a wireless apparatus.

J. F. MCCARTHY TELLS HIS STORY
Heroic Woman Who Was on Board the Republic.

New York, Jan. 27.—J. F. McCarthy of Duluth, Minn., one of the passengers on the steamship Republic, said that he knew a woman whom he regarded as a heroine of the United States. He said that she was on board the Republic when it was wrecked.

Herbert L. Griggs, wife of the president of the National Bank of New York, Mrs. Griggs, before the sailing of the Republic, arranged for a transfer of rooms with Mrs. Lynch, who wanted to make the exchange in order to be nearer to her mother, Mrs. Griggs. Mrs. Griggs is an invalid and wanted to secure a quiet room. When the crash came, Mrs. Lynch and Mr. Moore were killed. Mrs. Griggs, in a nearby room, was caught under the collapsed upper berth, and managed to escape.

Taste Is Sure Stomach Guide

A Barometer Which Never Fails, Though Seldom Believed.

"Taste is the direct guide to the stomach; and the taste buds are connected by the nerves with the stomach itself, so that they represent its health or disorder. If the stomach or its juices are out of tone, the blood is fermented by a change in the alkaline or acid condition, and these reach the mouth both directly and indirectly."

The above remarks on taste comes from an eminent authority and simply explains why when one smells cooking or sees food one thinks he can eat, but when he tastes he learns the stomach is out of balance.

To the person who cannot taste aright, who relishes no food and simply forces himself to eat, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets hold the secret of enjoyable eating, perfect digestion and renewed general health.

Most men and women until their stomachs are completely sickened before they think seriously of assisting nature. When your taste for food is lost it is a certain sign that the stomach needs attention. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure such stomachs.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a sweetened, rich, renew gastric juices, enrich the blood and give the stomach the strength and rest necessary for general duty.

Forty thousand physicians use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and every one who has tried them in stock; price 50c per box. Send your name and address and we will send you a trial box of Stuart's Tablets. Address, E. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

THE HEROISM OF JACK BINNS

Wireless Telegraph Operator on Steamer Republic Eulogized.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Jack Binns, the Marconi operator on the Republic, is to go down in history side by side with Jim Bludsoe.

The house of representatives halted its proceedings to eulogize him as few private citizens have ever been honored. Henry Sherman, Boutwell of Illinois brought the hero's name before congress.

"Binns has given to the world a splendid illustration," said he, "of the heroism that dwells on seas, in many who are doing the quiet, unnoted work in life."

During the last two years we have been reminded once more of the world that bested those that go down to the sea in ships and do business in greater.

"The accident that befell the steamship Republic and Florida last Saturday found heroes ready for the heroic work demanded of officers, men and passengers."

"I believe that everyone who read the accounts of the collision and the heroism of the Republic, who had the cool head and steady hand to send forth on the message that saved hundreds of lives and the message of deliverance that relieved thousands of anxious hearts. His name is John R. Binns."

Mr. Binns' address was punctuated with applause, the appreciation of the house being most evident when he mentioned for the first time the name of John Binns.

The company will be incorporated under the laws of the state of New York and will be known as the Alvarado Mining company, and the stock of the corporation will be listed on the stock exchanges of the world. The merger will mean the consolidation of

PERSECUTING THE RAILROADS.

Not a week, scarce a day, in fact, passes that does not bring us news of the movement among railroad men to organize for the purpose of seeing that justice is done to the railroads in the widespread agitation for the reduction of railroad rates and the reformation of alleged abuses in railroad management. The railroad men of Minnesota are apparently joining this movement. In a recent circular the state association of railway men outlines the purpose of the movement as follows: "The financial depression and the continued attacks on railroad revenues and the constantly increasing demands and adverse rulings of the state railroad commissioners have reached a point where they threaten the interest and welfare of every railroad employ in the state of Minnesota." The association takes the ground, by implication at least, that the railroads are being persecuted and that it is time to call a halt.

There are various opinions as to the motives of the railroad men in this matter. Many are doubtless honestly alarmed at the headway anti-railroad legislation has secured and it is also quite likely that the railroads have themselves encouraged this feeling among the men in order to secure their co-operation. But whatever the motive, the movement of the railroad employees is significant of a reaction against railroad legislation. Those who are not moved by mere hatred of the railroads for their unjust exactions, but by a desire to really promote the solution of the problem of railroad regulation must take account of this reaction. It is the inevitable result of the excesses of the first grand assault of reform against the railways. The railroads have been guilty of the gravest abuses and the anger of the people has been slowly growing. Suddenly it rose to a fury, and began not only reforms but reprisals. Now we are to have the reaction.

There are not many who believe that the railroads have been very unjustly dealt with as yet. In fact, conservative students of the situation agree that the railroads still have a vast advantage of power to collect, not legitimate transportation charges, but transportation tribute, from the people of the country. Despite the volume of adverse railroad legislation the gross earnings of 1908 of all the railroads, although less than those of 1907 by $164,464,941, and $342,158,231 in excess of those of 1905. The net earnings of 1908 were $111,051,006 less than those of 1907, $59,349,138 less than those of 1906 but $37,658,504 greater than those of 1905. Besides it is to be remembered that in the face of adverse legislation, the railroads unquestionably somewhat restricted their activity voluntarily, thereby materially reducing their revenues. Altogether it does not seem that legislation thus far, although some of it has been hot headed, crude and unnecessary, has hurt the railroads very much. The railroads have not been persecuted.

As to the future it is certain that legislation will be more conservative in point of time taken for railroad reforms but that it will far more radically alter, in course of time, the management and control of the railroad business cannot be doubted. Railroad legislation will be slower but more systematic and farther reaching in its effects.

ELIMINATING WASTE.

The proposal of W. E. McEwen of this city, state labor commissioner, for the adoption by the state of a plan whereby personal injury suits may be brought to an end, and whereby compensation may be made systematically by a commission to those injured in the course of their employment is one that will provoke the most general discussion. That it must lead in the end to largely bettering the condition of labor seems certain.

Present conditions are exceedingly unsatisfactory both to labor and to capital. The workman does not get his deserts and the employer is the victim of unnecessary expenses that are thrust upon him. As to the employer: Large employers of labor are now constantly annoyed by damage suits in personal injury cases. It is necessary for any large employer of labor to maintain a fully equipped and very expensive legal department in order to defend himself, the cost of such a department being only a portion of the charges at law to which he is put in connection with the litigation forced upon him. Moreover his substance is wasted by the professional agitator, who makes it his business to investigate every trivial accident and to cause a claim to be made for it. Not content with this, the "ambulance chaser" invents cases for unscrupulous or gullible employees and is thus the source of the greatest annoyance to the employer.

As to the employee: The case of the employee is far worse than that of the employer. Statistics show that the employee does not get more than one-sixth of the damages awarded him by the courts. The other five-sixths is wasted in lawyer's fees and court charges. It is necessary for the employer to conduct his defense to the last extremity, and in this way court expenses are oftentimes enormous. The attorney's fee is almost always large in personal injury cases, ranging usually from one-third to one-half of the amount of the verdict. So that if in the end the employee gets in cash one-sixth of the amount of his verdict he does well. The employee is also the victim of the "ambulance chaser," who not only discards him with the employer, but oftentimes gets practically all of the net amount received by the employee. In the final analysis, also, the employee has to pay at least the larger portion of his award, for the heavy expense to employers of personal injury actions must be recouped somewhere, and the amount is one of the totals that go to make up the cost of the manufactured article. The consumer pays, in the end, the award and the expense of litigation, and the consumer, in large measure, is the employee.

The commission plan is proposed by Labor Commissioner McEwen, by the representatives of the Minnesota Federation of Labor, by the Minnesota Employers' association, and has the endorsement of the State Bar association officers. It provides for a commission of three members to be appointed by the employers, the employees and the state bar, this commission to consider all personal injury cases and to make awards from a fund collected by levying a special tax upon employers. It is believed, with undoubted good reason, that practically all the heavy expense of litigation will thus be done away with, that the employers will profit, also, by smaller awards, and that the employees will profit most of all by netting a far greater average than they now receive. Add to this the relief that the courts will experience by having taken from their calendars so large a proportion of cases which now encumber them, and the plan seems very desirable indeed.

A NOTABLE HONOR.

Duluth has an opportunity such as does not often come to any city. It has been more highly honored than perhaps its citizens realize in the offer of Francois Auguste Rodin, the greatest of living sculptors, to make the last work of his life the modeling of a statue of Greysolon Du Lhut, the founder of this city and the original explorer of the great territory at the Head of the Lakes.

Rodin is not the greatest living sculptor but he seems destined to take rank with the greatest masters of the ages. To have the statue which Duluth proposes to the memory of its founder modeled by such an artist leaves nothing to be desired, but that he should design it to be the close of his great career is, indeed, a rare honor.

There can be no question that the offer will be accepted by Duluth and that it will thereby become possessed of one of the most notable and interesting works of art in the country. A fourth, Greysolon Du Lhut, will be added to Rodin's three greatest monumental statues. These three are the "Claude Lorrain," the "Citizens of Calais" and "Victor Hugo," all of them subjects drawn from his native land, so that if Rodin's last great life work shall equal that of the others, Duluth shall have its only great monumental work outside of France.

Students of art and lovers of sculpture are well acquainted with Rodin's greatest works, "The Man With the Broken Nose," his first great work, which was at first refused admission to the Salon, his statue of "The Man of the First Ages," which suffered a like fate because it was so realistic that the judges of the Salon believed that Rodin must have moulded it piece by piece on a living body, his "Genius of War," a group entered in competition as a souvenir of the siege of Paris but not accepted because of a third failure of his countrymen to appreciate Rodin's genius; his famous Hell Gate panels, and the statue of St. John Baptist. For years Rodin was not without honor save in his own country and it was not until the world acclaimed him the greatest of living sculptors that France bowed the knee to his genius.

Such is the artist who will give the last great work of his life to Duluth. The statue of Greysolon Du Lhut which Rodin moulds will be one of his masterpieces and will be the pride of Duluth and honored of the world in all generations to come.

NOTICE TO DESPOTISM.

Dispatches to The Herald last night brought the cheering news that the state department has refused to honor Russia's request for the extradition of Christian Rudovitz.

Rudovitz fled to this country to claim the right of asylum when his native country became too hot for him on account of his political activities. Extraordinary efforts have been made by the Russian government to secure the person of Rudovitz, and to that end charges of robbery, arson and murder were lodged against him and his surrender demanded of this country. He was arrested and extradition was ordered. Appeal was taken to Washington and to the country. The case has aroused the greatest public interest throughout the country, and in city after city mass meetings have been held, as they were in Duluth, in which the case was discussed and resolutions adopted memorializing the state department to preserve the right of asylum unless it could be most clearly shown that Rudovitz was other than a mere political offender. The state department would undoubtedly have exercised the greatest care anyhow, but the spontaneous action of the people of the country is notice to all nations that despotism cannot reach its hands across the seas and pluck out of our bosom lovers of liberty who have fled to us. We do not want the criminals of other lands, but any man who cannot find freedom in his own country will find a warm welcome here and the largest personal freedom which is compatible with the welfare of all. Having come to us, he shall be free to stay or go as he chooses.

HOTEL GOSSIP.

According to the statement of a Hibbing man, who was at the St. Louis hotel yesterday afternoon, the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad will construct a cutoff to the Coleraine line, and it is believed in Hibbing that construction will begin this spring.

The present route from Hibbing to Coleraine compels the traveler to go a great distance out of the way. The route of the surveyed cutoff strikes out straight south of Hibbing and will save the distance covered in the present roundabout way of travel between the two towns.

"I, for one, am of the opinion that the interests of the range and Duluth are becoming too closely dovetailed to permit of any movement for the country club, which was launched in Duluth the other evening."

Men who have watched the progress of the northern part of the state have been aware for some time past that it was only a question of time until it would be welded together of the business interests of this great country. It is now up to the members of the newly formed organization, known as the St. Louis County club, to carry out the work its by-laws intend that it shall accomplish. This section of the state has been held in check by this internal jealousy. It requires some money from the outside to place us in a spirit of co-operation. I refer to the attempted tonnage tax upon the interests of this part of the state. The outside money proved to be a blessing in disguise for St. Louis.

"What we want up here is better roads, better farmers, better settlers and less jealousy among our various interests. The spirit of the press has been doing much to help us in this state; yet at the same time it would seem to be doing much to retard the spirit of antagonism that has existed between the press of this city and the press of the range at different times in the past. For the second time in a week, three different Browns have been at both the Lenox and the Lenox hotels. Last Friday there were three Browns in the Lenox hotel, and they were registered in succession. It kept Clerk Howe's brow wrinkled most of the day. He was not a telephone call for the three Browns from being mixed up. Yesterday the Spaulding's other try of Browns placed their names upon the register. They did not come to the hotel, but the names of St. John and Stewart acting as pugilists. When a bellboy went to the hotel calling for Mr. Brown, he found the door closed. He went to get to the desk. Evidently all three Browns were looking for a call as two looked disappointed when they found that only one Brown was to be accommodated.

An example of J. J. J. was given at the St. Louis hotel very recently. The elevator boy and one of the hotel men were in a mild argument. It might have been all right, but the elevator boy pushed the Jap in the face. He went flying through the air and landed in the street. The elevator boy smiled at the incident.

THE WEATHER.

"Why go to Florida or California when you can enjoy such weather as this," said one enthusiast today. Indeed, the mild temperatures of the past few days seem unreal for Northern Minnesota. In January, Fair weather is predicted for tonight and tomorrow, with warmer temperatures.

The coldest temperature predicted for tonight is 10 degs. above zero. It was 14 degs. above zero here last night, while the coldest places on the map were Battleford, Minnesota and Winnipeg, which registered 2 degs. below zero.

Snow flurries marked this day a year ago. The sun rose this morning at 7:30 and set at 5:03, making nine hours and twenty-four minutes of sunlight.

Weather conditions, Mr. Richardson says: "Light to copious rains fell over Southern California and New Mexico and some snow occurred in Northern Michigan and Oregon during the past twenty-four hours. Otherwise, fair weather has attended the barometric depressions central over Alberta and Eastern Ontario. These disturbances also caused higher temperature in the northernmost lake region and Alberta, Oklahoma, Northern Texas, New Mexico and Alberta, while a rise in pressure was throughout the Red river valley, Manitoba and Western Ontario has been attended by cold winds. Zephyr temperatures prevail at Winnipeg, Minnesota and Battleford. The barometer is highest over the middle and western gulf region. A continuance of pleasant weather may be expected in the heart of the Lakes during tonight and Thursday."

Following were last night's lowest temperatures: Duluth, 10; St. Paul, 12; Minneapolis, 14; Chicago, 16; Milwaukee, 18; St. Louis, 20; Kansas City, 22; Omaha, 24; Lincoln, 26; St. Paul, 28; Minneapolis, 30; ## SECOND TALK ON AGRICULTURE

Practical Farmer from Wrenshall Will Give His Experience.

The second of the series of agricultural lectures at the Y. M. C. A. will be given Friday evening of this week. The principal speaker will be F. B. McLaren of Wrenshall, Minn., and his subject, "The Development and History of a Timber Farm in St. Louis county." This address will give Mr. McLaren's actual experience from the time he went out from the city into the woods, clearing up the land and preparing it for crops. Mr. McLaren is city-bred and was brought up in the city, but when a young man determined to become a farmer. His story will be of interest to the young men and boys of Duluth, who may perhaps contemplate making some place of agriculture their life work.

In addition to Mr. McLaren, the committee has succeeded in getting John Lee Coulter, of the department of economics of the state university, to give an additional address during the evening. His subject will be, "Farmers' Organizations and Their Influence Upon Agricultural Development."

Prof. Coulter is the assistant to Dr. John H. Gray, head of the department of economics at the university, who delivered such able and effective addresses last Friday evening before the St. Louis County Commercial club, and also at the Y. M. C. A. upon the subject, "Co-operation and Extension." It is upon Dr. Gray's recommendation that Prof. Coulter comes. He has recently done special research work along the line of farmers' organizations with a view to determining their value and influence upon the development of agriculture. He has also studied the immigration problem with the same end in view, and will doubtless have some exceedingly valuable facts and information to bring to the people of Duluth next Friday night.

Nearly 200 people were present at the first lecture last Friday, and a much larger audience is expected this week. Women and boys and girls, as well as men, are invited to all of these lectures. Any not having tickets may secure them at the business office of the Y. M. C. A. on the evening of the lecture.

Musical will be furnished by the Association Institute Mandolin club. The musical program begins at 7:30.

A Word of Thanks.

To the Editor of The Herald: I have been visiting the Sjoberg family every Sunday since I learned of their afflictions, and have kept posted as to their recovery.

When I saw the 2-year-old boy, had a setback after coming home, with an abscess in the ear, and told him to get a nurse to take care of him for a few days, as Mrs. Sjoberg could not endure the strain any longer, but she is now improving with the rest.

They have asked me on their behalf to express through the papers their appreciation for all the sympathy, help and assistance shown them by the press, their friends and the public, who so generously responded.

They said that they could not find words to express their gratitude, and they appreciate the fact that the time assistance was a real tonic to a speedy recovery.

At the same time, I shall avail myself of the opportunity to thank all my friends who so willingly and generously responded, and I assure you that it was a great pleasure to me to meet with such assistance for an ampie reward for my efforts.

They have asked that the blessings of the Lord may rest upon all, and that He will reward you for all your kindness towards them. On behalf of the Sjoberg family,

ANTON GRONSTEDT,
Duluth, Jan. 27.

CELEBRATING 70th ANNIVERSARY

The musicals which have been arranged by Mrs. A. M. Gow, as chairman of the musical department of the Twentieth Century club, for the children of the Webster school, are among the most enjoyed of the musical events of the winter. It is planned to have a concert in some form once each month at the school. The affair for January will be held Friday afternoon of this week at the school.

In December Miss Josephine Carey and Miss Fliser presented an interesting program. Miss Carey, in an informal talk, illustrated the history of music, and Miss Fliser, in a similar rhythm in music. It is a feature of the "swing" of the piano songs and folk melodies. Friday afternoon of this week Miss Carey will continue her talk, taking dance forms in music to illustrate the rhythm.

The songs for the afternoon will be given by Miss Van Stone of the Webster school faculty.

The idea of people's concerts has been one in which Mrs. Gow has much interest for several years, and the informal program which she has been giving at the schools are but the beginning of many such concerts for the people. The children at the Webster school are most responsive auditors.

DESERTED BY HUSBANDS

Two Wives Ask Court to Sever Marriage Bonds.

One Wife Followed Her Husband Here From Finland.

Two wives, who claim desertion by unfaithful husbands, filed suit in district court this morning against the men, who are now in parts unknown. Edna Maria Brommels wants a divorce from Erik Hendrik Brommels and Blanche Berkovitz asks a separation from David Berkovitz.

Mrs. Brommels is 31 years old and her husband is 27. They were married in December, 1898, at Oymatvika, Finland, and lived together until October, 1908, when Brommels started for America, going to Duluth, Minn. Mrs. Brommels asserts that after her husband arrived in Duluth, he received letters and remittances up to Nov. 1, 1908, when all communication from this side of the Atlantic ceased.

She claims that she addressed several letters to him at Duluth, but they were returned unopened. June 1, 1909, she came to Duluth, where she is now living. She asserts that after arriving in this country, she enlisted the services of the chief of police of Duluth, but he was unable to locate her husband. She has come to the conclusion that she has been deserted, and she asks that the bonds of matrimony be severed.

Blanche Berkovitz and her husband are both 27 years old. They were married at Chicago Oct. 31, 1905, and came to St. Louis county some years later. Jan. 1, 1908, she charges her husband deserted her and she does not now know his whereabouts. There were no children of the marriage.

ASKS MEXICO TO

Consul in Spanish Honduras Acts, Following a Clash.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 27.—A special dispatch received from Puerto Cortez, Spanish Honduras, states that as a result of a clash there between a citizen of Mexico and the Honduran police, the Mexican consul has called his country to send a gunboat to Puerto Cortez to exact an apology from the Honduran officials.

According to the dispatch, Sofarano Sierra, a Mexican, was about to leave Puerto Cortez and was standing at the door of his consul's office preparing to bid him good-bye when the police set upon him. The trouble, it is charged, grew out of the claim of a negro baker, who said Sierra owed him $3 for bread and was preparing to move out of the country without paying him. Sierra is declared to have been dangerously wounded by the police.

STILL NO CHOICE IN ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 27.—The twenty-third ballot, the total vote in the joint session was: Honkins, 73; Foss, 37; Strickland, 28; Shurtliff, 15; Mason, 14; McKinley, 1; Lovden, 2; Callahan, 2; Sherman, 1; Kates, 1; O'Leary, 1; Sherman, 1. At the conclusion of this ballot the joint session arose until tomorrow.

CAUGHT A SEA BAT.

Wilmington Dispatch: One of the rarest specimens of the fish kingdom known to waters contiguous to the North Carolina coast was captured in a seine at Masonboro Sound Monday by William Hewlett, a fisherman. The fish, which was brought to the city last evening, is what is called "the sea bat" and it is a perfect reproduction of a bat in shape and size.

The fish is about fifteen inches long and about thirty inches across. The strange to state it had a thin thread-like tail about fifteen inches in length and on each side of the rear appendage were two perfectly formed gloved feet, with a small diversion from the exact appearance of a thumb, with the other part of the hand mitten. The mouth of the fish, which was about five inches across and on each side of the mouth or the under side of the body there were two "strainers" or holes through which the fish is said to rid itself of refuse products resulting from the forage it picks up at the bottom of the sea. The top of the fish was a dark slate color and the under part of the body was white.

One old negro fisherman, more than 70 years of age, stated that this was only the second specimen of the sea bat he had ever seen in his long experience as a fisherman. The specimen, which had a truly uncanny appearance, will probably be sent to the state museum at Raleigh.

Rev. W. H. Fors of Nevada, Mo., who is 74, pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy when confronted by two of his four wives in court the other day. He said that he had a bad memory and forgot that he was married.

PRESIDENT ERB IN CITY

New Head of Wisconsin
Central Pays Flying Visit Here.

Vice President Pennington of Soo Confirms Central Purchase.

President Newman Erb of the Wisconsin Central, who has recently been elected to that position by the board of directors of the Wisconsin road, and who represents strong moneyed interests in the East, was in Duluth last evening with H. C. Starr, vice president of the road; E. P. Potter, general superintendent, and C. N. Kalk, chief engineer. In addition to these officials, there were E. Pennington, vice president and general manager of the Soo, and Thomas Green, chief engineer of the Canadian Pacific subsidiary road.

The officials came in on a special train, remained in Duluth a short time, and then went to Superior. From Superior the party left for Abbotsford, Wis., this morning. The object of the trip to the Head of the Lakes was to inspect the new work upon both the Wisconsin Central and the Soo roads, and to make the new president of the former road more familiar with the Western territory of the road.

The party came to Duluth by way of Ashtabula. The trip over the new extension of the Wisconsin Central, where trains are running from Superior to Duluth, is for the purpose of seeing the progress of the work that is being done.

Mr. Erb refused to give out anything for publication, but speaking to the members of the party, Mr. Pennington stated that the Soo had acquired the title of the Wisconsin Central, and stated that the object of the trip was to inspect the work of the two roads in the Head of the Lakes and to see the progress that is being made in the ballasting of the Wisconsin Central, between Superior and Abbotsford, Wis., and to inspect the work of construction of the Soo's road from Braten to Superior.

"The Soo has secured control of the Wisconsin Central," said Mr. Pennington. "How this ownership will affect the policy of the two roads at the present time. There will be no radical changes made in the policy of either road at the present time."

When asked regarding the extension of the Soo from Duluth to Thief River Falls, this giving Duluth another direct line to the north, Mr. Pennington stated that this extension was contemplated by the Soo officials, but that details to be made public.

"The Soo is a very large and important territory of which Lower Wisconsin is a part," said Mr. Pennington. "The Soo is a very large and important territory of which Lower Wisconsin is a part."

The special had a schedule calling for fifty miles an hour over the new line, and the officials are evidently making a flying trip.

N. P. TO ENTER WINNIPEG.

Acquires Half Interest in the Midland from the Boundary.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 27.—It is announced that the Northern Pacific railway will construct its own line into Winnipeg, having acquired a half interest in the Midland railway from the boundary line to this point. Work will be started in the spring and finished this year.

A union station for the Great Northern and Northern Pacific will be erected here this year on the $1,000,000 terminal purchase on Rose avenue, secured three years ago.

EDMONTON TO QUEBEC.

Canadian Northern Road Plans to Expend $10,000,000.

Toronto, Can., Jan. 27.—The expenditure of $10,000,000 towards completing the missing links in the Canadian Northern railway system between Quebec and Edmonton is planned by Mackenzie & Mann for the coming summer.

As soon as the weather opens up, construction will be commenced on an extension from Selkirk, Ont., west along the Vermilion river, keeping north of the Canadian Pacific to Fort Arthur. By the time this has been completed the line from Sudbury to Ottawa will be acquired.

The company already has a net work of steel covering Eastern Canada, and by the time connections have been made giving entry into the capital there will be a through road right into Quebec city.

The work of connecting that end with the road already being operated in the maritime provinces will come later. By September, 1911, says Mr. Mackenzie, the Canadian Northern will be a completed from Quebec to Edmonton.

New General Manager.

Montreal, Que., Jan. 27.—Edison J. Chamberlain, formerly general manager of the Canada Atlantic railway, has been appointed vice president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific to succeed E. W. Morse, resigned.

Is Suing City.

The suit of Nina Robinson against the city of Superior is being filed in the superior court. Miss Robinson is trying to collect $2,000 damages for a fractured wrist, alleged to have been sustained on Feb. 6 last, by falling on an improperly cleaned sidewalk on the west side of Towner avenue between Winter and Broadway streets. The city is endeavoring to prove that this piece of sidewalk was cleaned on that date.

A MARK OF GENIUS.

At the recent sale of the superb and priceless Stanford University collection, Miss Pieta De Wolfe, the actress, told a not inappropriate architect story.

"A gentleman stopped an architect on the street and said: 'Are you thinking of building a house?'"

"No," said the other, "I stopped you to inquire if you could take my son into your office as an apprentice. With training I think he would make a magnificent architect."

"He has shown some talent," said the architect, "but I am sorry, for he was disappointed in not getting another contract."

"Talent? Genius, sir, positive genius?"

"What's he done?"

"He designed a garden for our Christmas tree."

"Well, what is there remarkable about it?" said the architect, impatiently.

"Why, sir," said the other, "he designed that garden for $3 and it cost $37."

Postal authorities are now trying to decide whether it is better, in addressing a letter, to place the name of the city and state in one line or two.

MR. STOGGLETON'S TRUNK.

Many Things Happened to It in a Brief Space of Time.

New York Sun: "In the garret of the old house back home," said Mr.

Stoggleton. "I used to see old hair covered trunks that I think must have been scores of years. I don't know but that centuries old trunks that looked as if they'd never wear out and never could be worn out and them I guess are there still and it seems to me as if all trunks were made stronger in those days than they are in the present advanced era. Those old trunks all used to seem rockbound, as if nothing could break them, where as the trunks of now, or some of them anyway, must be handled pretty gingerly if you want to get through with them."

"You take that last trunk I bought. It looked solid and massive; great heavy bulging, metallic corners on all four sides, and the trunk looked as if it was made of iron. I let the tray fall through to the bottom and generally the trunk got so wobbly and rickety that the next time I was going to have a trunk doctor come in and give us an estimate on the cost of repairs that is, as far as it can be repaired for it never was and it couldn't be made a solid trunk. It was originally a pretty good looking, but it had no constitution."

"Now you know you can't charge all that damage up to the baggage men; it was originally a flimsy trunk."

You say we travel more now than they used to? Yes, I know that, and know that we can't expect a trunk to last as long as one carried once a year, and still that doesn't account for the way my trunk went up the fume.

"You don't suppose, do you, the trunk makers make 'em that way now so that they will wear out fast, to make more business? No, no; that can't be so; the trunk makers wouldn't do that; it must be just the way trunks are made nowadays."

"What? Was this trunk of mine a cheap trunk? Why, yes, it was a cheap trunk, but what's that got to do with it? Trunks ought to wear, hadn't they? I tell you trunks are not what they were."

JAPANESE ENTHUSIASM.

Baltimore Sun: The spectators at wrestling matches in Japan felt the winner with their hats. This is a custom with the Japanese for showing their appreciation of the skill of the winner. The hats are gathered up by attendants and handed to the champion.

Eventually the owners come forward and redeem their hats with presents of various kinds. The custom in question is, it is explained, due to a recognition of the fact that enthusiasm is likely to cool down shortly after the event of which enthusiasm is the cause. To prove the genuineness of his admiration the champion gives his hat as a pledge, to be returned in his cooler moments.

No use in looking in any other paper for advertisements. "The Herald" has it all.

DEFENDANT TELLS STORY

Mylykoski Says Lilpakka Made First Attack With Knife.

Claims He Used Razor Because He Feared Injury.

Pleading self-defense as his motive for slashing the throat of John Lilpakka in their boarding house at Eveleth, on the early morning of Nov. 11, John Mylykoski, the stand in district court this morning and told his version of the cutting affray and the events leading up to it. Mylykoski is on trial on a charge of assault in the first degree.

Mylykoski's story differs from that of Lilpakka's in several vital respects. He claims that instead of inviting Lilpakka to his room to sleep with him, he tried to push him out of the room. Lilpakka would not go. Mylykoski said he went to bed with most of his clothes, and when he woke up Lilpakka was lying beside him and a pocketbook, containing money and which he had in his trousers pocket was missing. Lilpakka denied this, and said he had seen Mylykoski search the room, Lilpakka went out into the hall, returning later.

Mylykoski said he went down stairs to call the police, but could not get through the outer door. On his return to the head of the stairs, he saw the gleam of an instrument in Lilpakka's hand. He saw Lilpakka raise the knife to his arm. He said he felt a sharp pain in his arm and he pulled away and slashed at Lilpakka. He denied striking Lilpakka more than once, and said he fled as soon as Lilpakka fled back against the wall.

Mylykoski's story was told in his native language. It was drawn at times from the memory of the jury, he showed the relative positions of the two men, and the movements through the movements incidental to the story, which he told through an interpreter. He exhibited a slash about four inches long on his arm and said he had a knife in his hand at the time. Mylykoski was still on the stand at the noon adjournment, and is expected to be in the jury room some time this afternoon.

Mylykoski underwent a vigorous slashing, judging by the scars on his neck. The scars, extending almost entirely around his neck, were exhibited to the jury. The scars were made by a razor, the witness said. The razor was made by a razor, the witness said. The razor was made by a razor, the witness said.

GOVERNOR ASKS THE LEGISLATURE TO APPOINT COMMISSION TO DEVISE JUST COMPENSATION LAW FOR WORKINGMEN

Outgrowth of Conferences of Capital, Labor and the Law.
All Agreed That the Problem Must be Carefully Investigated.
Present System is Unjust to Both Employer and Employee.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The appointment of a committee to devise a just workingmen's compensation act, by which employees shall be required to assume the burden of risk of employment and to pay for injuries incidental to employment without the intervention of a tangled mass of legal precedent and tradition, is suggested in a special message sent by Governor Johnson to both branches of the legislature today, accompanying recent correspondence, which is attached to the message.
This is the matter referred to in The Herald Monday, and it is the outgrowth of conferences between State labor Commissioner McGowan and representatives of capital, labor and the law. The message follows:
The Governor's Message.
In my inaugural address to the legislature, I called attention to the necessity, as I saw it, of legislation upon the subject known generally as the common-law doctrine as to the non-liability of the master to a servant for injuries occurring through the negligence of a fellow-servant.
Since my last biennial message to the legislature, this question has been quite carefully considered in a series of meetings held by representatives of employers of labor and their officers, labor organizations, their officers, and the state labor commissioner. The result of these conferences is a message from the labor commissioner, which is a servant for injuries occurring through the negligence of a fellow-servant.

ROCKEFELLER'S CLASSMATE HURT

Dr. Phillip Moxom Is Beaten by Three Men.

New York, Jan. 28.—Dr. Phillip Moxom of Brooklyn, a classmate of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., was set upon and beaten by three men on his way home early today from the Brown university alumni dinner at the Hotel Astor.
The physician, who is 40 years old and was in the face, and undoubtedly would have been beaten away from his assailants, was frightened away. His injuries are not serious.
The three men fled. One man, who was arrested, gave his name as John Malone, a chauffeur, and protested his innocence.

FIRE LEAP KILLS GIRL

Servant Plunges to Death From an Upper Window.

Newark, N. J., Jan. 28.—A fire which practically destroyed the home of Philip H. Rankin, a lawyer living on Pennsylvania avenue, today, resulted in the death of a maid servant, Anna Burns, and serious injury to her sister, Nellie Burns.
The maids, who were asleep on the second floor, finding their escape by the stairway cut off by the flames, leaped from the windows.
Anna fell to the sidewalk and was instantly killed, while her sister jumped to the roof of the kitchen in the rear of the house. She was removed to the hospital.
The fire was extinguished after it had destroyed the interior of the Rankin home. The loss on the house is estimated at $15,000.

STARVING HORSES TRYING TO EAT EACH OTHER'S TAILS

New Orleans, La., Jan. 28.—A remarkable case of horses driven mad from hunger and biting each other, is reported to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals today. The horses were locked up in a stable by a negro and left for days without food or water. When found, they had gnawed off the tails and torn large pieces of flesh from the bodies of each other.

SPLIT OVER NEW JUDGE

St. Louis County Members Not Yet United on the Subject.
Large Number of Measures Receive Approval of Delegation.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—At yesterday afternoon's meeting of the St. Louis county delegation, N. B. Arnold of Eveleth made a presentation of the bill providing a "superior" court for the iron range communities and the matter was laid over until next Wednesday to give the members of the St. Louis County Bar association a chance to be heard in relation to it if they desire.
St. Louis county is thoroughly agreed upon the need of a new judge, but in the present situation there is a chance for a split that might easily prevent the county from securing a new judge at all, leaving the present three judges to handle the enormous business of the Eleventh judicial district as best they can.
The bill favored by the St. Louis County Bar association provides simply for an additional judge for the Eleventh district. This judge would (Continued on page 6, third column.)

REPORT ON UTILITIES

Wisconsin System Is Favored by Special Committee of House.
Bill Creating State Water Supply Board of Three Members.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The committee appointed to investigate the Wisconsin system of public utilities made its report to the house this morning, accompanied by a bill proposing, as the law of this state, the public utilities plan in that state, accompanied by the favorable report of the committee, which consisted of Representatives Wallace, Dorsey and W. H. Putnam. The committee reported that the law is working excellently in Wisconsin, and favors it for Minnesota on the ground that it protects the public by providing for efficient and uniform and just rates, and by providing a method of adjusting all complaints in regard to service and rates; that it will benefit municipalities, especially those owning their own plants, which will get the benefit of the state's experts; that in the case of private ownership it gives ample protection to the public interest; that it is a progressive development of the water powers of the state into state ownership, control and maintenance, for the common benefit.
Representative Christiansen of St. Paul offered an important proposal in the form of a bill directing the state auditor to create a water supply commission of three members, to devise plans for the progressive development of the water powers of the state into state ownership, control and maintenance, for the common benefit.

DEAL ASCRIBED TO HILL PLANS

Portland, Or., Property, to Value of $1,500,000, Sold.

Portland, Or., Jan. 28.—A deal in Portland warehouse property to the value of $1,500,000 has become public by the record of twenty-eight deeds in which John W. Craig of Los Angeles appears as purchaser. The property consists of a string of nine blocks lying between Twelfth and Thirtieth streets and extending from Hoyt to Quimby streets.
The deal is not so important because of the valuation of the property as by reason of the mystery that surrounded the bartering which preceded the sale. The local agent, F. Vendee, has offered to lease portions of the purchase for from two to three years. It is noticeable, too, that the same tier of blocks lying one block west is the property of the Hill railroads and that the Ker lots which connect the present purchase with the water front are also owned by the Hill interests.
It is suggested that the purchase has to do with an official announcement that it is the intention of the Hill family to extend their lines into California.
No, Says L. W. Hill.
St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 28.—President L. W. Hill of the Great Northern railway, when his attention was called to the purchase of the nine blocks of property in Portland, Or., said:
"I can say that the property was not purchased by the Great Northern, but by the Portland Terminal company. That company will need all of that property and a great deal more. It is quite as important to them as it would be to us."

Witnesses at Coroner's Inquest Tell of Meager Protection.
The Floor Was Oil-Soaked and Flames Spread Rapidly.

IT WAS A WOMAN WHO GAVE ALARM; SAW THE CRIB FIRE
Chicago, Ill., Jan. 28.—How a woman, looking out of a window, first saw the fire burning out on the lake and how, on her giving the alarm, a score of men, some of them only partly dressed, jumped on a tug and went to the rescue, were details of the testimony given at the coroner's inquest yesterday into the deaths of the many workmen killed in the crib fire a week ago Wednesday.
The courtroom was crowded with the widows and relatives of the dead workmen. A score or more witnesses were examined in an effort to fix the responsibility for the fire. The inquest will be continued for several days.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 28.—At the resumption today of the inquest on the victims of the crib fire, Coroner Hoffman and State's Attorney Wayman renewed their investigation into the dangerous condition of the crib prior to the fire. The inquest will be continued for several days.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 28.—By some strange twist of circumstances, Governor Gillette of California signed requisition papers for the removal of W. Wallace from Los Angeles to Tennessee, where he is wanted for embezzlement, although the man has not been arrested.
Word is received from Sacramento that the papers have been signed and that the prisoner is in jail in Los Angeles. An investigation was made today in the county and city jails, but officers there know nothing about the man.
The requisition papers signed by the governor call for W. Wallace, a clerk of the Warren county, Tennessee, on the charge of embezzling public funds, amounting to $750.

HARD TIME OVER JURY

Drunkenness Is Charged Against Two Who Had Been Selected.
Delicate Health of Third Delays the Cooper Trial.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 28.—When court opened this morning in the case of Col. Duncan Cooper, Edwin Cooper and John Sharpe, charged with the murder of Former Senator E. W. Carmack, the charges against Juror Jackson were called. Jackson is accused of being an habitual drunkard and of having expressed an opinion.
It also developed that Juror Whitworth, one of the men accepted, is in delicate health and that his physical condition, as represented by his physician, is such as to cause the court grave uneasiness as to his ability to continue in the box through a long trial.
After both sides had closed in the argument over Leigh, a juror, Judge Hart called Leigh, explained the charges against him and told him his privileges.

Negro and White High School Boys in Fight.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 28.—Race feeling inspired a battle between white boys and a colored youth in front of the East night school in Woodward street, which culminated in the death of William Wiebold, aged 17 years; the probable fatal injury of William Dorsey, 20, and the serious injury of Charles Huff, 18.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 28.—It is expected rapid progress will be made in taking testimony of prominent men in the government's suit to dissolve the $500,000 Harriman railroad merger. ## STEPHENSON LACKS ONE Wisconsin Senator Still a Vote Short of Re-election.

Madison, Wis., 28.—The second joint ballot for United States senator resulted in no choice. Senator Isaac Stephenson again received within one vote of the necessary number to elect, his strength today being 66 votes out of a total of 132, there being but thirteen absent, making the number necessary to elect 67. The vote follows:
McGovern, 1; H. C. Martin, 1; L. H. Bancroft, 1; A. W. Sunborn, 1; C. M. Welby, 1; L. L. Leinroot, 1; Tom Morris, 1; J. H. Stout, 1; S. A. Cook, 3; W. H. Hatton, 3; F. A. Morse, 1; H. M. Lockney, 1; J. H. Davidson, 1; John Strange, 2; W. D. Hoard, 2; J. J. Esch, 5; H. A. Cooper, 8; W. C. Owen, 5; Jacob Rummel, 4; Neal Brown, 2; Isaac Stephenson, 66. Total 132.
An affidavit was filed in the assembly today by Lester Tilton of Nashville declaring that the charge of Blaine that Tilton had been offered $500 by Stephenson to run for the assembly is false.
Some of Senator Stephenson's friends continue to insist that their man was elected United States senator on Tuesday in separate bodies when he received 72 votes, but Lieutenant Governor Strange ruled to the contrary. The most important bills introduced today were a bill for the repeal of the election law, that instructs members of the legislature for the choice of the voters for United States senator. Other bills provide for depriving sheriffs of views on making out papers for the delinquent congress for international peace to be furthered by arbitration between all nations through a peace congress, and for government ownership of railroads.

PASS OVER TWO VETOES

House Committee Would Still Enact Dam Privilege Measure.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Even a second veto message has not convinced members of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce of the entire wisdom of the president's views on the granting of dam privileges on waters under the control of the United States and as a result it is almost certain that there will be no remedial legislation at this congress.
The main point of difference between members of congress and the executive arises out of the president's proposal to tax the party constructing the dam for that privilege. While the committee seems willing to agree to a license fee, it hesitates to concede the desirability and the constitutionality of an annual tax upon the use of the waters.
A comprehensive correspondence is now being carried on between the committee and the executive department of the interior on these points, the main object being to reach a determination as to the expediency of the proposed tax. The importance of this question is regarded as so great (Continued on page 6, fifth column.)

SEVEN MEN ARRESTED

Plead Not Guilty to Charge of Illegal Sale of Liquor.

Police Get Evidence in One Case Where Detectives Failed.

Up to noon today warrants of arrest had been served on seven of the proprietors and managers of the fourteen local hotels, restaurants and saloons, for whom complaints were made out by three private detectives yesterday, charging them with selling liquor without a license, selling it on Sunday, or selling it after hours, contrary to the state law and city ordinances.

E. H. Lee, manager of the Spaulding hotel, pleaded not guilty in municipal court this morning, and his hearing was set for Feb. 1 at 9:30 a. m. J. J. Haley of Haley's restaurant pleaded not guilty, and his hearing was set for Feb. 1 at 10 a. m. C. K. Carlson pleaded not guilty, and his hearing was set for Feb. 1 at 11 a. m. Martin Smith pleaded not guilty, and his hearing was set for Feb. 1 at 12 p. m. J. B. Dwyer pleaded not guilty, and his hearing was set for Feb. 1 at 1 p. m. J. B. Dwyer pleaded not guilty, and his hearing was set for Feb. 1 at 2 p. m.

William Taylor was the only one of whom bond was required, and he was ordered to pay upon their own recognizance. Mr. Taylor furnished bond in the sum of $100.

J. B. Dwyer, who was named in the complaint against the Ormond hotel, with M. J. Glendon, called up The Herald last evening and said: "I was through a mistake that my name had been used. He said he had disposed of all his interests in the hotel some time ago, and had nothing to do with its operation at the present time. General surprise is expressed around town over the fact that in the batch of fourteen complaints not one was directed against a certain saloon, which, it is claimed, is generally recognized as the most flagrant violator of the liquor laws in Duluth. When asked concerning the matter, the three detectives claimed they had been unable to secure any evidence against the place, which, it is asserted, has been selling intoxicants at all hours of the day and night, including Sundays, for some time past.

Before the announcement of the findings of the detectives, however, the local police had secured the necessary evidence, where strangers in the city claim to have failed, and there will be an arrest within a day or two. It is understood that the private detectives and those behind them will have nothing to do with the prosecution of this case.

STEPS ON A RUSTY NAIL

Troubles Are Piling Up for Family of P. Marano.

To add to his misfortunes, P. Marano, the Italian whose little home at Tenth avenue west was destroyed by fire two weeks ago, stepped on a rusty nail this week, and it ran its full length into his foot. He was already ill, and is now laid up in bed.

The family, left destitute by the fire, is in pitiful circumstances. There is no money with which to buy food, and they are dependent upon neighbors for support. Father, mother and children are living in two dark basement rooms, and are unable to find human habitation.

Y. M. C. A. ACTIVITIES

Interest Increasing in Sunday Afternoon Meetings for Men—The State Convention—Breakfast Club Sheds Its Swaddling Clothes.

As the principal speaker at the regular weekly mass meeting, to be held Sunday afternoon in the gymnasium of the Central Y. M. C. A. building, the association has secured ex-Congressman Frank M. Eddy, who will deliver his famous lecture "Hobby Horses." Mr. Eddy's ability as a public speaker is well known to the Duluth public, as he has been heard here many times. The lecture is a new one and is said to be the best he has ever delivered.

The Svea Glee club has been secured for Sunday afternoon, and will render several songs during the afternoon.

Interest is becoming greater as the men of the city realize that the best speakers in the West are being secured to address the meetings, and each week the attendance shows an increase. This is gratifying in the extreme to those who have afternoon sessions in charge, for they are making an effort to eclipse all previous efforts in this line and they know that their efforts are being appreciated.

The thirty-first annual state convention of the association will this year be held in Red Wing, Minn. Already plans are under way for a large Duluth delegation, and Watson S. Moore is down the list of speakers. The principal addresses of the convention will begin Feb. 15 and continue until Feb. 21.

Among the other well-known men who will address the convention are Governor Johnson, E. A. Halsey, secretary of the Chicago Real Estate association; Charles Kullen, secretary of the Chicago Evangelical; Dr. S. M. Ziemer, who has been doing his best to make a name for himself in the business world; Edward L. Bosworth, dean of the Oberlin College of Theology; Bruno Hobbs, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in New York; Dr. George D. Briggs, secretary of the international secretary of the industrial department, and J. M. Anderson, secretary of the business department. The convention bids fair to be the most successful in the history of the association and already a number have declared their intention of attending.

Already the work of the "boosters" committee is making itself felt, and the several classes are showing an interest in the coming convention. More men out for gymnasium this week than at any time since the association opened the doors of the new building. Many new members are being enrolled, and in about two weeks the several class committees will be asked to turn in the names of those they have secured and the winning class will be announced.

Tuesday afternoon a new boxing class was started. This branch of sport is becoming very popular among those who frequent the gymnasium, and it is expected that another class will be formed in about two weeks.

Friday evening the basketball team will play the company's team of Superior in that city. Last Friday evening the team of the Duluth-Superior Traction company was defeated by the team of the Duluth-Superior Traction company.

The Sunday morning breakfast club is now more active than ever. Up to this time the members have talked on religious subjects. At the last meeting they voted to get into the secular world and discuss subjects of their own selection.

The club is composed of young business and professional men, and they thought that as there is a large mass of men in the city who are not interested in religious subjects, they would derive more benefit out of the practical subjects of the secular world.

LOVE NOTES ARE SEIZED

Police Take Letters Following Arrest of Charles Nord.

Woman Writers Refer to Money They Lent Him.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 28.—Charles E. Nord, formerly a Kansas City real estate dealer, has been placed in jail here on charge of passing a worthless check. Two women, who are on a warrant sworn out by a grocer, following his return to Kansas City, the police seized Nord's trunk and in it found several hundred letters from women in various parts of the country.

These letters, which were made public last night, invariably refer to Nord in terms of endearment, generally speak of a coming marriage, and in each case mention loans of money alleged to have been made by the writers to Nord. The letters disclosed the following signatures among others:

"Jane, Ida Bell, Halleybury, Ont.," "Jane, 1223 Irwin street, Pittsburgh, Pa.," "Mrs. Ida M. Stern, 5313 Hallock avenue, Chicago," "Miss Anna Heorbold, 2484 North Forty-fourth street, Irving Park, Chicago," and "Mary L. Barry, Savannah, Ill."

One writer pleaded with the man to sell his office furniture in Buffalo and come to her and marry her.

"We will be happy when you are married but, Charles, if you expect to keep your confidence you must square yourself in regard to that check."

The same writer, in another letter, says: "I just received a notice from the First National bank saying that the note for $1,000 was due April 12, and must be paid."

Still another writer says: "Fortunately, my dear boy, I have the loan at hand that you ask. Of course, you hate to ask me for it, but I am only too glad to do you the favor."

While the men were going down the shaft at the mine Saturday night a Finlander named Hill, it is the story, was in the mine and an Austrian named Rudolph Graden, angered him so that he pulled a candlestick from his belt and stabbed the Finlander in the kidney. Eveleth, Minn., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Louis Cozine, an Austrian can thank his lucky stars that he is able to be about as he was entombed yesterday. While working about 300 feet underground in the Adams No. 6 mine, about 4 miles west of here, a cave-in of timbering broke and carried down upon him and his Italian partner. When the dirt and timber began to fall the two men tried to jump away, but the Italian escaped with a few broken ribs, but Cozine caught by the cave-in in such a manner that he had room enough to breathe. Led on by Captains Corbett, Davey and Burke a rescue party started to work. The rescuers were able to talk with Cozine and he told them how he reached the imprisoned man about 3 o'clock. About 2 o'clock in the afternoon they started to dig through a side drift and were at last able to reach the imprisoned man about 3 o'clock. Cozine was found to be in good condition, except a little weak from being in such an awkward position and going a long time without any nourishment. Cozine and his partner, John Raper and John Oulan kept digging away to save their countryman from the time of the accident till he was taken out. ## BIG DECREASE SHOWN IN COMMERCE OF THE HARBOR

Government Engineer's Report for Year 1908 Is Compiled.

Only Accurate Statistics of Duluth-Superior Port for Year.

REMARKS ON THE COMMERCE OF DULUTH-SUPERIOR HARBOR FOR 1908.

Hard coal shows a decrease of 128,202 tons under 1907, with a decrease in valuation amounting to $801,205.

Soft coal shows a decrease of 1,103,271 tons under 1907, with a decrease in valuation of $8,061,026.

Wheat and other grains show an increase of 3,803,379 bushels over 1907, with an increase in valuation of $4,029,481.

Iron ore shows a decrease of 9,526,336 tons under 1907, with a decrease in valuation amounting to $28,888,890.

Flour shows a decrease of 746,967 barrels under 1907, with a decrease in valuation of $2,019,871.

General merchandise shows a decrease of 62,992 tons, and $18,777,320 under 1907.

Copper shows an increase of 1,817 tons, and a decrease of $1,356,527, owing to lower prevailing prices for the metal than in 1907.

Lumber shows a decrease of 143,688,000 feet, and a decrease in valuation amounting to $3,287,798 under 1907.

The receipt of logs by water has ceased to be a factor in the marine commerce of this port.

Oils show an increase of 15,230 barrels, and an increase in valuation of $85,837 under 1907.

Average net registered tonnage recorded at Duluth, exclusive of tugs, 2,477.

Vessels recorded at Duluth were: Entering, 3,442; departing, 3,419. Total, 6,861.

Vessels recorded at Wisconsin entry were: Entering, 570; departing, 561. Total, 1,131.

Average number of tons cargo received per day at Duluth and Superior, 28,709.

Average number of tons of cargo shipped per day from Duluth and Superior, 73,419.

The navigation season covered a period of 229 days. This is reckoned from the first departure or arrival to the last departure, or arrival to or from the lower lakes. The open season for Duluth-Superior harbor to and from Lake Superior ports is, as usual, much longer, as some local boats run all but two months of the year.

Duluth canal—First departure for lower lakes, April 20. First boat entered from lower lakes, April 29. Last boat departed for lower lakes, Dec. 8. Last boat arrived from lower lakes, Dec. 10. North shore boats were running at close of calendar year.

Wisconsin entry—First boat arrived from lower lakes, May 3. First boat departed for lower lakes, May 12. Last boat arrived from lower lakes, Dec. 5. Last boat departed for lower lakes, Dec. 5.

The annual report of the government engineer regarding the commerce of the Duluth-Superior harbor, which has just been completed, shows that during 1908 there was a big decrease in commerce on the Great Lakes.

This statement from the government's representative is the only really accurate and dependable report on the subject issued during the year. It shows that the total freight received and shipped in 1908 in the local harbor amounted to 22,622,142 tons, valued at $225,143,320. All tons in the report are on the basis of 2,000 pounds.

The increase in the freight tonnage over 1890 was 735 per cent, but the decrease in freight tonnage compared with the year 1907 was 31.59 per cent. The report states that it is impossible to give precise figures of the marine commerce of the principal ports of the United States for comparison with the Duluth-Superior harbor, for the reason that no record of foreign tonnage is kept at the custom houses, whereas on the Great Lakes a record is kept of the total marine commerce, both of foreign and domestic. In the principal ocean ports of the United States the tonnage of the local and coastwise marine commerce is several times greater than that of the foreign.

Continuing the report says: "Any comparison, therefore, of the relative marine commerce of lake and ocean ports, based solely upon custom house records is, for the reason stated, incorrect and misleading."

However, the custom house records of the marine commerce of ports on the Great Lakes are very incomplete, for the reason that no account is kept of the movement of freight or passage of vessels between ports of a district, and as, in the case of the Duluth-Superior harbor, numerous sub-ports are included which do an important business with each other, none of which is required to be reported to the customs houses, a large amount of the commerce of any particular port is unknown to the customs houses. Furthermore, a vessel may enter or clear from the port or any sub-port of a district, report its cargo and passengers, and then, without further action at the customs house, the vessel may enter or clear from another sub-port of the same district.

The statistics of the marine commerce of this port are obtained as follows: The master or clerk of every vessel entering or departing from Duluth-Superior harbor makes a report to this office covering the name of the vessel, the net registered tonnage, the same, whether light or loaded, and if loaded, what the cargo consists of, whether in entering the vessel is destined for Duluth or Superior, and whether, in departing, it is to be loaded at Duluth or Superior, etc., all as provided by the act of congress, approved Feb. 21, 1891. These reports, so far as the arrival and departure of vessels is concerned, are then checked against the lists of vessels arriving at and departing from the harbor, furnished by the watchmen employed by this office, and stationed at the entrances to the harbor, which lists have previously been entered in record books provided for that purpose. Should any vessel master fail to make his report, a special request is made for it. The vessel's name is also checked against the iron-ore dock reports, the board of trade records of grain shipments, etc.

"The navigation season for Duluth-Superior harbor averages only about eight months per annum, while for ocean ports navigation is carried on during twelve months. Considering the mean monthly freight movement during the season, navigation, Duluth-Superior harbor practically stands next to New York."

"Navigation opened at this harbor April 26, but, owing to an oversupply of iron ore in the receiving ports on Lake Erie, and the desire of shippers to curtail the tonnage of ore during the season of 1908, a general movement of boats did not commence until September 1st."

CHOKED BABE FOR CRYING.

Worker Kills 10-Months-Old Child, Seeking Quiet.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 28.—John David Stewart was tired when he came home at night after his work. He had heard the clanging of tools and machinery all day, and quiet was what he wanted. But there was no quiet at his home.

A little girl, 10 months old, was a part of the Stewart family. She, as babies will, had to have her mother's attention. So Stewart told his wife that she petted the baby too much during the day to keep it quiet, and thus made it cry in the evening.

But the baby kept on crying night after night. Stewart got angry and set out to "break his temper."

A child of ten months was a fluffy bit of nothing in his hands. The angry, unaccustomed to hard work, gripped tightly—Stewart choked the baby. He shook it hard one night and told his wife to care for it.

Baby's temper was broken. So was its neck.

Tuesday, in criminal court, Stewart withdrew his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the fourth degree. His sentence to the penitentiary was two years.

NEW PARTY, LABOR PLAN

Mine Workers in Convention Discuss Political Organization.

Ballot Count Shows the President Has Been Re-elected.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 28.—It is authoritatively announced by friends of Thomas L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, that the count of the ballots has proceeded far enough to show that he has been re-elected by a majority of between 15,000 and 20,000 over his opponent, John Walker of Illinois.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 28.—The convention of the United Mine Workers of America at the opening of the session today adopted a resolution on behalf of Christian Rudowitz and Jan Paulsen, Russian refugees in this country, the former of whom was released from custody here today on an order from Washington.

The resolution demands the abrogation of the treaty which provides for the extradition of persons charged with offenses against a nation where persons so charged are not to be tried by a jury of their peers.

The resolution is intended also to apply to Mexican refugees fleeing across the Rio Grande to escape prosecution resulting from labor troubles in that country.

Another effort was made today to put the convention on record as favoring the institution of an "independent ent labor party" failed. This and similar measures have come from unions that are not socialistic in their views, but nevertheless feel that as neither of the old parties will take action on the part of the laboring classes, as against the capitalistic classes, there should be organized a new party for this purpose.

Socialists, of which there are about 100,000 in the country, oppose this policy as antagonistic to their already established party. The new party has been exercised by the conservatives, as led by such men as Congressman W. B. Wilson of Pennsylvania.

A resolution, contemplating that union miners should be active in politics and try to have elected in the state legislature and congress men, who are known to favor the working class, was adopted.

PATRICK KIERAN IS A WITNESS

Finally Testifies in Fidelity Funding Company Bankruptcy Case.

New York, Jan. 28.—Patrick J. Kieran, former president of the defunct Fidelity Funding company, was a witness in the bankruptcy proceedings against this company before United States Commissioner Alexander today.

Through testimony given by Kieran's private secretary, William B. Arundel, it is learned that books and records of the Fidelity Funding company and Kieran's private books and papers had been placed in safe deposit vaults here. Their production at the hearing today was directed.

Frank L. Crocker, representing the petitioners in bankruptcy, examined Kieran. Moses A. G. Hansen, counsel for the defendant, offered a general objection to the examination, but was overruled. In answer to Mr. Crocker's questions, the witness said he had no existing bank accounts.

DOCTORS AND DRUGGISTS NOT WORRYING OVER MILD WEATHER

Duluth physicians and druggists are not at all worried over the warm weather that has prevailed during the last two weeks, even if enthusiastic winter sportsmen are very much put out over the fact that there is no snow or ice, and therefore no chance for them to give vent to their sporting proclivities.

Early in January, The Herald published an interview with a local physician to the effect that everybody was in such good health, thanks to Duluth's ideal winter climate, that there was nothing for the medicine men to do. The interview appears to have been a hoodoo, so far as the general public is concerned, for a day or two afterwards the mercury began to climb in thermometers and warm, sultry, wet, disagreeable weather followed, and with it came work for the druggists.

The unsettled and unreasonable weather was too much even for the hardy constitutions of Duluthians, and it wasn't long before patent medicines were in big demand at the drug stores and before lines of waiting people appeared in the physicians' offices. Few really serious ailments developed, but numerous petty ills, to which mankind is subject in such periods, cropped to the surface.

The first man in line would perhaps have a bad cold, which he couldn't seem to break up, and the next person be afflicted with the grip. Another might be complaining of tonsillitis, and still another express the fear that he or she was in the first stages of pneumonia or consumption.

Then would come an individual with rheumatic joints or some other ills, which caused a world of discomfort, with little danger of a fatal ending. The weather took a colder turn yesterday and the change was a welcome one, even to those who kicked the hardest against the severely cold weather that was felt in Duluth early in January. They acknowledged that at least their health was in perfect condition with the mercury hovering below zero, which is more than can be said of their physical condition under circumstances that have existed during the last ten days or two weeks.

REMARKABLE FIND IS MADE

Thought to be Skeleton of One of Cortez's Followers.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 28.—L. L. Page, a young mineralogist in the employ of Dr. M. D. Black, has returned to El Paso and reported having made, in the vicinity of Sylvanite, N. M., a find that was at once interesting and of historic value.

Some time since a minor who had been prospecting in the hills about the Sylvanite district came to El Paso and offered to sell to Dr. Black a gold claim, that according to his representations, carried immense values. He held a piece of land from a big ledge that lay about four miles from Sylvanite. Dr. Black was interested in the property, but the miner wanted to effect an immediate sale, and the doctor, after a few days' delay, called off. Shortly afterward Dr. Black employed L. L. Page to go into the Sylvanite country and do some prospecting. Among other things Page was to look the miner's claims to see if he had offered his claims to Dr. Black.

Later, when Page was prospecting in the hills about Sylvanite, he came to a small grave at Hill Top. Removing the stones, Page unearthed a human skeleton. When he touched the skull it crumbled in his hands and fell to dust. He immediately drew aside the remaining rocks and found in this all but unmarked grave the remains of a man, who he thought was perhaps a great historic figure, such as those worn by the horses of Cortez and other Spanish conquerors.

Historic Trappings Found. Page brought in the trappings, took some of the teeth from the skull and brought the whole to El Paso. All of the trappings were of solid silver. One, a large silver plate 6 inches in diameter, was engraved with a picture of a man on horseback. A large silver square, emblematic of Masonry, was also found. The trappings were of the kind that might have been used by the Spanish conquerors, all hand engraved. There were four solid silver girth rings for the saddle, and two large silver spurs, evidently intended for the bridle, together with a handsome silver belt and pieces of silver spurs, all emblematic of heraldry.

Property of Spanish Don. The present in heraldry was emblematic of an order of knighthood, and the trappings decorated the accoutrements of a horse. The trappings were of the kind that might have been used by the Spanish conquerors, all hand engraved. There were four solid silver girth rings for the saddle, and two large silver spurs, evidently intended for the bridle, together with a handsome silver belt and pieces of silver spurs, all emblematic of heraldry.

While it is possible that he made his last stand on the little knoll where his skeleton was discovered by Page, it is more highly probable that this man was a great Spanish conqueror, who captured the Spanish nobleman and who had worn the trappings taken from his captive. In accordance with Indian custom, the old chief, a Nez Percé, would have been buried in his war togees. There, surrounded by a kind of a wooden structure, he would have been buried, and the remains of a brave long since gone to his happy hunting ground have lain perhaps for centuries, surrounded by the price of battle.

MOB'S VICTIM SUES MANY.

Artz, Frank Tremaine, Claude Tremaine, Ben Tremaine, Marj Olson, Charles Mistle, William Mistle, Tom Nelson, Edward Artz, Leo Anthony, George Thompson, John Gensson, Ole Nelson and Albert Lenz. This case has stirred up the community around about Kendall, where the tar and feathering took place.

ANTI-CIGARETTE LAW UPHOLD BY HIGH COURT.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Wisconsin supreme court has handed down a decision holding that it is a violation of the anti-cigarette statute to sell or give away packages of tobacco containing coupons, informing the holder that if he sends them to the manufacturer in New York city he will be sent packages of cigarette papers.

The case was entitled the state of Wisconsin against Alex. Sbragia, and arose in Milwaukee. Sbragia sold a package of Duke's tobacco mixture to Samuel Burden. The package contained a coupon telling the holder that if he sent it to the Duke company in New York city it would send him a package of cigarette paper. The lower court found Sbragia guilty, but certified the case to the supreme court, which affirmed the judgment.

DISCOVER OLD MANUSCRIPTS

Documents in Wood and Bamboo Found in Central Asia.

London, Jan. 28.—M. A. Stein, leader of the Indian government mission to Central Asia, has arrived in London after three years' travel of 10,000 miles through some of the wildest and blindest regions of the earth. Speaking of his experience in the Takla Makand desert, on the ancient Chinese trade route, Mr. Stein says: "Traces of ancient river beds marked by dead trees often gave striking proof of the desiccation which had overtaken the whole region. We find implements of the stone age in a region far from any water, fresh or salt. 'In the desert between the salt marshes of Lob Nor and the Tungung oasis we traced for over 300 miles the remains of the ancient frontier wall which was constructed at the end of the second century by the Chinese, to protect the newly opened route westward when China was making an effort to extend her power and trade to Western Asia."

Date From 100 B. C. Documents in wood and in bamboo from about 100 B. C. to 50 A. D., when this defensive line seems to have been definitely abandoned, were excavated in hundreds.

One of the most profitable finds was in the exploration of what proved to be a treasure cave, which was literally crammed with ancient manuscript paintings and other Buddhist remains. These had been deposited and hermetically walled up in a side chapel of one of the great Buddhist sacred caves. The number of manuscripts exceeds 4,000, which, so far as can be told, are in about seven languages.

A Dismal Territory. "The camels marched a fortnight without water and with practically no food. This enabled us to arrive safe at a point where the Karim river dies into the sands. Great rivers, which had formed since early periods, made perhaps the most disastrous mistake ever fallen to my lot to visit. Imagine hundreds of square miles covered absolutely with dead, denuded brush and the giant skeletons of great popular and other trees left behind by ancient courses of the ever changing river. It was a veritable tropical delta stricken without a trace of life, except the tracks of wild camels, made a scene which I can never forget."

ROOSEVELT NOW SAYS: FIX NAVY

Unexpectedly Appoints Committee to Consider Law Defects.

Washington, Jan. 28.—President Roosevelt is of the opinion that the organization of the navy department is not such as to bring the best results, and yesterday he appointed a committee whose announced duty will be to "consider certain needs of the navy."

The president's action was somewhat of a surprise, in view of the fact that the members of the committee appointed yesterday, two weeks ago met at Washington and endorsed Secretary Denham's plan of reorganization, and in view also of the authorization by the senate of an inquiry into naval expenditures, the conduct of business and the need, if any, of legislation to improve the administration of the navy department.

Announcement of the president's action was entirely unexpected at the navy department. Secretary Denham, who had issued an order carrying out his proposed plan, with particular reference to an order regarding the clearing of the most surprised of all, he declared that he was not aware that the president had taken such action, had not seen the letter of appointment, and was not a member of the commission, and did not know the purpose of the mission.

The president has sent identical letters to each of the eight members of the commission, which is headed by Paul Morton, former secretary of the navy, the other members being Justice Moody, also former secretary of the navy, Judge A. G. Dayton, formerly chairman of the house naval affairs committee, and Rear Admirals S. R. Hoolley, D. Evans, and William S. Cowley, of whom are of the retired list.

Mr. Roosevelt will ask the committee to consider: All defects in the law under which the navy department is now organized, including especially the defects by which the authority of chiefs of bureaus is made in certain respects practically equal to that of the secretary of the president.

The division of responsibility and consequent lack of co-ordination in the preparations for war and conduct of war.

The functions of certain bureaus, as to see whether it is possible to consolidate them.

The necessity of providing the secretary of the navy with military and naval advisers who are responsible to him for co-ordinating the work of the bureaus and for preparation of war.

The necessity for economical allotment of the navy's budget, and for a system which will insure strict accountability.

Views as to how best to recognize and emphasize the strictly military character of the navy, so that preparation for war shall be controlled under the secretary by the military branch of the navy.

Documents in Wood and Bamboo Found in Central Asia.

London, Jan. 28.—M. A. Stein, leader of the Indian government mission to Central Asia, has arrived in London after three years' travel of 10,000 miles through some of the wildest and blindest regions of the earth. Speaking of his experience in the Takla Makand desert, on the ancient Chinese trade route, Mr. Stein says: "Traces of ancient river beds marked by dead trees often gave striking proof of the desiccation which had overtaken the whole region. We find implements of the stone age in a region far from any water, fresh or salt. 'In the desert between the salt marshes of Lob Nor and the Tungung oasis we traced for over 300 miles the remains of the ancient frontier wall which was constructed at the end of the second century by the Chinese, to protect the newly opened route westward when China was making an effort to extend her power and trade to Western Asia."

Date From 100 B. C. Documents in wood and in bamboo from about 100 B. C. to 50 A. D., when this defensive line seems to have been definitely abandoned, were excavated in hundreds.

One of the most profitable finds was in the exploration of what proved to be a treasure cave, which was literally crammed with ancient manuscript paintings and other Buddhist remains. These had been deposited and hermetically walled up in a side chapel of one of the great Buddhist sacred caves. The number of manuscripts exceeds 4,000, which, so far as can be told, are in about seven languages.

St. Cloud, Minn., Jan. 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Peter Schmidt of this city has effected a settlement with the Wisconsin Central railway through his attorney, J. D. Sullivan, for damages sustained in a wreck Nov. 2. The amount of the settlement is not made public.

Mr. Schmidt was on his return from Germany, where he had gone on a visit. When the train was about forty miles east of St. Paul it collided with a line of cars on a sidetrack, owing to a misplaced switch, and Mr. Schmidt was thrown from his seat with such force that he was injured in his chest. He at once made complaint, but payment was at first refused because the company claimed contributory negligence.

DULUTH CURLERS PLAY MANY GAMES

Scots Seize First Chance to Start Vice President's Event.

After more than a week of waiting for ice, the members of the Duluth Curling club got busy last night and tore off eleven games in the vice president's event, which is being played very much on the order of a local bonspiel.

Five of the games were begun last night at 6 o'clock and six were played between the hours of 7 and 12. The ice was very poor at the start, but it grew keener soon after play was started and about 9 o'clock was in very fair condition.

The same plan of working each ice twice, as was done last night, will be worked out tonight, as the curlers are anxious to get the vice president's event out of the way so as to make room for the regular curling events in which they are far behind.

The draws for tonight follow:
Six o'clock draw—Bradley vs. Stocking; Whyte vs. Harris; Dunlop vs. Callin; Bradley vs. O'Hara; West Jones vs. McDonald.

Nine o'clock draw—McLeod vs. Pugh; Day vs. Catlin or Dunlop; Staacke vs. Stillman; Smith vs. Whyte or Harris; Dunlop vs. Gibson.

The scores made last night follow:
A. H. Smith, 10; B. Bush, 12; R. D. Bradley, 19; F. W. Hargreaves, 9; R. E. Stillman, 10; C. D. Brewer, 10; W. G. Hall, 14; J. E. Fairbank, 8; Ron Smith, 17; C. A. Duncan, 9; W. G. ## BILLIARD MATCH BEING PLANNED

W. F. Hartley Will Meet Frank Billiter of Minneapolis Soon.

W. F. Hartley, manager of the St. Louis hotel billiard parlors, will soon enter into a match game of 2,400 points with Frank Billiter of Minneapolis.

Mr. Hartley is champion of the North-west and even though Billiter wins the match it will in no way take the title away from the Duluth man as it will be purely for exhibition purposes.

The championship at the billiard game has rested on the shoulders of Mr. Hartley for the past ten years, and in spite of the fact that several of the fastest players in the country have tried to take it away, their efforts in this line have been of no avail.

The first 1,200 points will be played in Duluth and the second 1,200 will be played in Minneapolis.

BYRANTS WIN HOCKEY GAME

Lester Park Boys Play Well, But Suffer 3 to 1 Defeat.

In one of the best amateur hockey games ever witnessed in the city, the Byrants last night defeated the Lester Park team, by a score of 3 to 1, on the ice of the Central rink, Third street and Tenth avenue west.

Both teams played in the very best form and from the blow of the whistle, the game was hard fought. The Lester Park boys led it on the Byrants when it came to team work, but the spectacular playing of Johnson and Kelly of the Lester Park team was ruled off the ice for two minutes, for offside play, and Swanson of the Byrants received the same dose for the same offense.

The Byrants and Adams are now tied for first place in the league. They have each won a game.

The Lester Park Fairmounts have each lost the only game they have played and the Northern Hawks are not as yet had a chance to exhibit their skill.

Interest in the league is becoming greater every day. A good class of hockey is being played and the hockey enthusiasts are commencing to turn out in large numbers to the games.

The lineup follows:
Byrants Alumni, Lester Park.
Swanson, Kelly, Johnson, Wood, Johnson, Bartlett, Adams, Peasant, Wharton.

BALL PLAYERS GETTING UNEASY

Fans as Well as Diamond Stars, Beginning to Sit Up.

New York, Jan. 28.—With the signing of Harry Lummey as manager of the Brooklyn National league club for the season of 1909, the last of the doubtful managerial positions has been filled.

and the various major league club managers are beginning to look forward to the spring journey to the Southland of their new remain before the clubs of the American and National leagues will gather their bats, gloves, uniforms and all the rest of the tools that go with a ball team, and begin the spring training that is considered by most managers to be so beneficial to the players in the long fight for championships.

Even President Roberts of the Superbas can devote his time to the preliminary arrangements prior to the journey to the South, just as this section of the country is beginning to reach that season of the year.

March. Then, too, the schedule committees of the senior and junior major baseball organizations are making ready to compile the playing dates for the season of 1909. If it hadn't been that Ban Johnson misunderstood the order to bring his committee along with him to the annual session of the national commission in Cincinnati, the fans would not have known just what was what in the line of dates.

However, it is said, and apparently by one who knows, that the schedules have already been drawn up and all that remains to be done is to officially pass upon them. This same source is the authority for the statement that, although there was some talk at the start being made this year, the championship play in the two big leagues will begin about the same time—the middle of April. The sixteen teams which comprise the American and National leagues have selected the various places in the South where they will go through the early-season stunts of rounding into shape.

Southampton, Jan. 28.—Frank Gotch, the world's heavyweight wrestling champion, who has been in this country for some time endeavoring to get a match with George Hackenschmidt, the Russian lion, sailed yesterday, on board the steamer Deutschland, for New York.

St. Joseph, Mo., Jan. 28.—The rolling of the South club of Kansas City, was the feature of last night's events at the Mulholland bowling tournament. The quintet rolled 2,311, which, it is believed, will take first money. They took the lead away from the St. Joseph club of Omaha who had 2,271.

Club, Kansas City, 2,811; Hy-perions, Des Moines, 2,574; Ten Pins, Hannibal, 2,446.

UNLUCKY IN LOVE GIRL KILLS SELF

Reason for Suicide of North Dakota Girl in Chicago, Told.

Wilton, N. D., Jan. 28.—The body of Miss Alice Law, who killed herself in Chicago last week leaving a letter written in a wild and unhappy vein, was brought here to her home for interment.

It has since developed that ill luck in love led to her tragic act. She was to have been married Nov. 25 to a young Hungarian doctor in Chicago, the first man she ever cared for in the least. It had been arranged that Miss Law and a former chum, who was Miss Anna Schubert and is now Mrs. Frederick Weithoff, should have a double wedding.

But the Hungarian proved incon- siderable. The match was broken off just before they were to have been married, and Miss Law's treasured love story ended in tragedy.

The story of the young woman is tragic. She was one of a very few women engineers graduated from the technical colleges. Her career at Purdue university was a brilliant one. She was known from coast to coast as a brilliant technical writer.

We do this to prove to you that these Pills will cure you.

Many people suffering from mild cases of Uric Acid poisoning are cured by this trial box alone, but if your case is of long standing or has been aggravated through other diseases you could hardly expect so quick a cure.

In any event, this trial box of Pills is bound to prove so beneficial that we know you will want to continue the treatment until a cure is effected.

You will feel better after the first dose. The excruciating pain you have been suffering will become dull and dead, and as the remedy drives the acid out of the system will vanish altogether.

Hill's Rheumatic Pills are purely vegetable with the exception of a very small amount of common baking soda. They tone up the stomach, cleanse the bowels, restore the liver and kidneys to a state of vigorous health and fill the arteries with fresh, red blood.

This wonderful remedy has been in the market seventy-three years, and it is made today just as it was when first discovered in 1835. The formula was so perfect that modern medical science was unable to improve it.

Eighteen thousand people have written us that Hill's Rheumatic Pills cured them.

We know they will cure you and we want to prove it to you at our own expense.

If you suffer from Rheumatism or any other form of Uric Acid trouble, write to us today. This free trial box of Pills may cure you. Certainly it will relieve the pain you now suffer and make you feel like a new person.

Write to: Messrs. Deiden & Cogg Co., Dept. 108, Minneapolis, Minn. Gentlemen—Please mail me your free trial box of Hill's Rheumatic Pills and oblige.

Rural Carrier Remembered.
Crookston, Minn., Jan. 28.—Special to The Herald.—S. J. Markham, one of the rural letter carriers, met with a surprise Monday morning along his route, wherever he stopped, he was handed butter, eggs, etc. When he returned to his home in the evening he was laden with good things and it is impossible for him to express the height of his appreciation.
